11 Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres Land. The owners of The Crowder's Mountain iron works beg to call the attention of capitalists iron manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settic colonies, to their property, which afters inducements to the classes above named.

The projecty consists of Six Thousand Inree hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of caston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at king's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the kichmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an ion property, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the dept 1 147 feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 65 per cent. of metallic iron, and has have been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other weins have been worked, and within the past two jears very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most destrable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level and, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points win an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easil A big stock of Black and Colored Cloakings, with Astracon and Plush Trimmings

crick, good and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantily. As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportunities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four inousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces crass, grain and all kinds of farming products anely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches. The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and aford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little sheller for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, wainut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, pens, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Piedmont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region tree from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Hountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to flags who are trying to develop the country dong its lines. The owners will self this property to suit purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make faverable terms, reserving the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in one or twy-sax.

HAMPION ASSURES THEM. We have adverted heretofore to the fears that prevalled among the colored people in the South as to the imaginary dangers that threatened them since the election of Cleveland and Hendricks, fears that were encouraged and magnified by the utterances of white leaders and black leaders, among whom, in some sections, the preachers were conspicuous. The editorials, however, of representative Democratic papers, and the speeches of prominent representative Democrats have done much to allay these groundless fears, and by this the probabilities are that the great mass of colored people have regained their composure, and no longer tremble at the dread of being remanded to slavery. This feeling prevailed to such an extent in South Carolina that Senator Hampton, in his speech at the celebration in Columbia last Saturday night, alluded

My distinguished colleague alluded to the talk about putting the colored people back into slavery. Their preachers are telling them this. I tell the colored people of South Carolina and of the South that there is no more possibility of their being put back into slavery than there is of you or I being put there. The colored people, if they will think for themselves, will find that the constitution of the United States prohibits slavery of the United States prohibits slavery for all time to come, and I solemnly triumph means a new emancipation triumph means a new emancipation for the colored people of the South. (Great applause.) I pledge myself for the Democratic party, and before my old constituents I say that if I believed the party would take from the colored people one political right I would leave it myself. (Great cheering.) I believe my colored friends will find in the coming years that the Democratic party of the South will be the best friend they ever had. I believe the minds of the colored people will be emancipated as colored people will be emancipated as their bodies were twenty years ago, and that they will realize that their best friends on God's earth are the true men of the Democratic party.

Senator Hampton here speaks not only for himself, but for the people of the South, who would not now, if they could, without making a ripple upon the surface, see slavery reestablished. Democratic supremacy means not slavery for the black man, it means his thorough emancipation.

HOW BLAINE ACCOUNTS FOR IT. A staff correspondent of the Boston Journal interviewed Mr. Blaine last Saturday on the causes of his defeat. Mr. Blaine started out by informing the interviewer that he was not very hungry for the Presidency, that he "lived too near it in 1881, and had a keen sense of its burdens, its embarrassments and its perils to be unduly anxious for the office." Perhaps he really sympathizes with Mr. Cleveland. He thinks, however, that if it hadn't been for the independents, that offensive and indiscreet remark of the Rev. Mr. Burchard about rum, Romanism and rebellion, and the wet weather on the day of election he would have carried New York, as he got thousands and thousands of votes from Irishmen who have heretofore voted the Democratic ticket, and from laboring men who believed wages would be reduced in consequence of the free trade ideas of the Democratic party. He says, also, that the Germans stuck to him manfully, notwithstanding the efforts to draw them away. St. John and his prohibition followers, with the wet weather, was what really cooked his goose. In other words, although it may seem paradoxical to say so, there was too much dryness and too much wetness, so to speak, simultaneously

A large contractor in the city of New York who employs a good many that a little while before the election he was informed that they all intended to vote for Blaine. The gushing speech of the Rev. Mr. Burchard about "Rum, Romanism and Rebel-lion" caused them to change their minds and they all voted for Mr.

There are very few of those who abused and slandered Cleveland during the campaign who would refuse to hold office under him.

Senator Gorman, of Maryland hairman of the National Democrati Executive Committee, won two suits of clothes on Cleveland's election He won 'em from Stephe Elkins.

Poor Burchard. He is in great dis-tress over that R. R. R. speech, which Republicans say beat Blaine, and You which they are now roundly abusing the fatally alliterative parson.

Tea Grown in India.

It appears from recent statistics that the year 1883 was a favorable one for tea cultivation in Assam, the prices obtained being better than those of the previous year, and the outturn being nearly 7,000,000 pounds in excess of the yield of 1882. Many new gardens were opened in the course of last year. The total area of land held by tea planters in 1888 was 633,664 acres, or an increase of 140, 302 acres over the area of 1882, and of 217,015 acres over the area of 1881. 302 acres, or an increase of 140, 302 acres over the area of 1882, and of 217,015 acres over the area of 1881. The yield of tea during the year was 52,111,207 pounds, and to this result the gardens in the Assam Vailey contributed 34,111,363 pounds and the gardens in the Surma Vailey, 18,659,874 pounds. The average yield per acre for the whole province is given at 323 pounds as compared with 292 pounds in 1882. There has been a continuous increase in the production of tea in Assam during the past five years, the yearly quantity having gone up from 31,386,636 pounds in 1883. Regarding the profits of the industry, the net returns upon the capital employed during the year were Rs 307,971, or 2,2 per cent. on their capital. Twenty-six companies which made a profit obtained a return of 4.9 per cent. on their capital; while eleves losing concerns lost at the rate of 7 per cent. on their capital. There are at the present time lifty-three tea companies registered in India. y-three tea companies registered

An Old Gan Resurrected.

Salisbury, Mp., Nov. 15.—The elec-tion of Cleveland and Hendricks is bringing to light a number of old field pieces. At Fruitland, three miles below Salisbury, Monday last, an old cannon was resurrected from the bottom of a well, where it had lain for many years. It is thought it was witnessed in this (then Some county between the Whigs and Dem ocrats. When it was known that Polk was elected the old cannon was brought out with the intention of firing it at night. During the absence of the jubilant Democrats some Whigs took the gun and threw it down a well. This week the Democrats of Fruitland, seeing the necessity of firing salutes in henor of the great event, went to work and raised the cannon from its resting place. After a little overhauling the old thrown into the well in 1836, when Martin Van Buren defeated Wm. H. Harrison, Whig. However, the date cannot be accurately ascertained.

Colored Labor for Cantornia.

Mr. F. M. Ownbey, of Bakerfield Cal., is making arrangements at St. Louis for the transportation over the Northern Pacific Railroad of 1,100 colored men from Chattanooga to California to work on the farms of California to work on the farms of that State. The purpose is to displace the Chinaman, who insists on $25 a month, with the colored m in from the South, who is glad to go for $12 a month and board. Some 300 have already been colonized by Mr. Ownbey, and they succeeded well under superintendents in farming, picking fruit and raising cotton. Orders have been received for 10,000 colored hands and the migration promises to grow and the migration promises to grow ndefinitely.

Gossip's Bride for Cleveland.

agara Dispatch to New York Times. The society gossips of this place are at present much excited over the rumor that s young lady well known here, Miss Folsom, of Buffalo, is en-gaged to President elect, Grover Cleaveland. He was her father's former partner in business. The young lady is quite a favorite in Buf-falo social circles and is said to be a most agreeable as well as a very in-telligent lady. Rumor also has it that the wedding will occur before Mr. Cleveland is inaugurated, and that his success in the recent political contest has hastened the date of the ceremony.

Conkling Speaks Out.

Among the gloomy remarks made since the 4th of this month that of since the 4th of this month that of Mr. Gorman, addressed on Friday to ex-Senator Conkling, is noteworthy. Speaking of the cause of Mr Rlaine's defeat he said to Mr. Conkling: "You withered him with the hot blast of your silence." Changing the figure, the ex-Senator gave his view of the situation by saying: "It was eminently fit that Mr. Blaine, who had scuttled the Republican ship before the meeting of the Chicago conventioa, should be put in command of it as it was going down." Folger's defeat in 1882 and Robertson's appointment in 1881 are evidently not yet forgotten.

Where was Ben Butler.

Cleveland.

Blaine's friends very wisely refrained from pushing the fraud plea in New York, for the Democratic counsel were in a position to show that Blaine got at least 10,000 votes by which, under New York law, were illegal and void.

not be amiss to say a word about its significance in the olden times. The horseshoe was anciently believed to be an effectual protection against witchcraft and witches, who could no more overcome the sanctity of its semi circular form than they could the movement of a stream which even the most powerful could not cross, if in the shape of a running brook, as witness the race of Tam O'Shanter, who, pursued by them, passed the keystone of the bridge himself, while the tail of his good mare, on the wrong side thereof, became the prey of the pursuing warlocks. We have seen the horseshoe nailed to the lintel of barns and the masts of vessels, for a witch, mounted on her broomstick, might take it into her head to descend upon some unlucky craft, or she might call up the surging waves to ingulf it, unless it were protected by this hely symbol. For a horse to cast a shoe was a bad omen when a gallant knight was about to start upon some expedition; hence if a horse stumbled, which he would be sure to do if improperly shod, was unlucky. We do not, in our day, believe much in witches or bad signs, but everybody is pleased with the good luck implied in the finding of a horseshoe.

By an old Norman custom, which has been preserved to the present, the venerable castle at Oakham is plentifully bedecked with horseshoes. The Lords de Freres were in olden times entitled to demand from every baron on his first passing through the town a shoe from off one of his horse's feet. There are several shoes over two hundred years old, the most notable being one given by Queen horse's feet. There are several shoes over two hundred years old, the most notable being one given by Queen Elizabeth, one by George IV., and one by Queen Victoria. The Princess of Wales recently visited the town, and in conformity with the custom a gilt shoe with her name inscribed on it will be fastened to the castle wall. In our day it is not much to give a gilded horseshoe, as did the Princess of Wales, but it was a serious thing to an old knight, who, giving direct from his horse's foot, parted with his good luck.
