COMPLETED AFTER 30 YEARS. The Capstone of the Washington Monument Laid and the Work of Many

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—The long ex-pected completion of the Washington pected completion of the Washington monument was accomplished this afternoon by setting in place the marble capstone and its pyramidal apex of aluminium. The ceremonies were few and simple, an elaborate celebration of the event being reserved for Washington's birth day. Shortly after 2 o'clock Col. Thomas I. Casey government engineer in L. Casey, government engineer in charge, and his assistants Captain Davis, U. S. A., and Bernard R. Green, civil engineer, together with master mechanic, McLaughlin and master mechanic, McLaughlin and several workmen standing on a narrow platform built around the sloping marble room near the summit proceeded to set the capstone, (weighing 3,300 pounds) which was suspended from the quadruped of a heavy joint supported by a piatform and towering forty feet above them. As soon as the capstone was set and the American flag was unfurled overhead a salute of 21 guns was promptly fired by Maj. Hannemans, malitia battery in White House grounds far below. The sound of cheers also came up The sound of cheers also came up faintly from the crowd of spectators gathered around the base of the mon ument, while numbers of invited guests on the 500 foot platform and in guests on the 500 toot platform and in the interior of the monument at that level spontaneously struck up "Star Spangled Banner" and other patriot-ic songs. The steady downpour of rain had given place a little previous ly to a brisk gale of wind at this ele-vation (blowing at about 50 miles an hour) and very few of the invited guests' cared to avail themselves of the privilege of climbing the nearly perpendicular ladder from the 500 foot platform to the dizzy height of 533 feet from which three or four journalists and a half dozen other ad venturous climbers witnessed the venturous climbers witnessed the setting of the capstone and subsequently ascended to the pinnacle. Meanwhile the Washington Monument Society represented by Dr. Jos M. Toner, Hon. Horatio King, Gen. Wm. McKee Dann, Dr. Daniel B Clark and T. L. Harvey, secretary, held a meeting on the elevator platform at the height of 500 feet, and when the artillery firing announced the setting of the capstone adopted a resolution offered by Gen. Dunn, "congratulating the American people "congratulating the American people time, agreeing to this would carry on the completion of this enduring the men over to June next, when the monument of our nation's gratitude to dull season usually commences, and the father of his country.'

completion of the structure was one of the master mechanics who laid the corner stone of the monument 36 years ago, and an old watchman of the monument who has been continuously employed in that capacity during nearly the whole of the intervening period.

The flag over the monument floated (and will remain for several days until the timbers are all removed) from a flag staff, the top of which is exactly 600 feet from the ground, thus displaying the American colors at the greatest height of construction ever yet known in the world. The monument itself, with its total height of 550 feet, far overtops every other structure of human hands. The aluminium apex of the monument is engraved with an inscription as follows on one face: "Chief Engineer and architect, Thos. Lincoln Casey, colonel corps of engineers; assistants, Geo. W. Davis, 14th U. S Infantry; Bernard R. Green, civil engineer; master mechanic, P. H. Mc-Laughlin." On another face: "Corner stone laid on bed of foundation July 4, 1848; first stone at the height of 152 feet laid August 7, 1880; capstone set December 6, 1884." On third side: "Joint commission at setting of capstone, Chester A. Arthur, W. W. Corcoran, chairman, M. E. Bell, Edward Clark, John Newton; act of 1876." On the fourth face are the words "Laus Dec."

A Musical Prodigy.

The New Orleans Picayune says: "New Orleans, which produced, Gottschalk, has produced a child musician who gives promise of be-coming equally famous in the artistic world. Mozart, the most precocious of great musicians, composed short pieces at 6 years of age, but there is in this city a juvenile performer who played the piano at 2, and now, at 4, is a prolific composer. The name of this latest musical prodigy is Alice Louise Hufft. whose fourth birthday was celebrated on Saturday last. She has played several times in public before some of the best musicians in the Crescent City, who have been amazed by her genius. She now plays readily and with accuracy more than twenty pieces, some of them very difficult. An ordinary tune Alice will play, after hearing it once, with more accuracy than a fair reader of music is able to do at sight. Her parents place no restrictions on her use of the piano, and she will sit at the instrument sometimes for hours, repeating pieces she has heard or improvising airs of her own composition.

A Negative Platform. New York World.

By way of a sort of negative plats form for the administration of President Cleveland, permit us to suggest the following:

1. No Gift-Taking. No Nepotism.
 No Star Routeism or Whiskey

4. No Belknapism.
5. No Junketing at Public Expense. 6. No Kitchen Cabinet.

7. No Hypocrisy in the White House.
8. No Flummery.
This would be in the nature of reform, and that is what the new administration stands pledged to give the country. This platform should not only be printed and hung up in the White House, but in the departments as well.

As to policy, the Democrats, he thought, must go slow. "We shall make mistakes any vay, but if we go headlong we shall make very bad mistakes."

Referring to the reported disagreement between him and Mr. Hendricks, he said: "I am not commonly expressed by what the newspapers to 33 per cent among sizers, curlers, trimmers and shovers, is unjust and outrageous, on the ground that the employers are now getting the same price for hats as before, and still further, that the bosses propose to continue the reduction until June, 1885.

The manufacturers claim that the The manufacturers claim that the prices heretofore paid in many cases have been too high. They desire to regulate the differences since the published reduction, which they do. not deem permanent. The strikers have been offered work if they will relinquish the union, which ordered the strike, and attend to business as before. A large number seem willing annoyed by what the newspapers say about me, but I confess 1 was greatly annoyed at that report which was absolutely false. The meeting was entirely informal. I did not even know that Mr. Hendricks was coming. We had a very pleasant chat, politics being scarcely men tioned, and nothing whatever occur-red on which to base a report of any red on which to base a report of any disagreement or coldness." Speaking of his plans for the future, he said: "I shall resign on the 6th of January and shall then spend the interval in preparing for my duties, and, of course, I shall give an attentive and willing ear to those who wish to give me the benefit of their advice." The president-elect. according to this gentleman, had no designs on a sec-ond term, but did intend to give the this morning saying that there was no need of military interference, nor had there been from the start. The citizens were law abiding and intercountry such a good administration that the Democrats would enter upon as long a term of power as the Re publicans had enjoyed. ---It was brought about by a gang of boys following Andrew J.
