Change of Mail Hour at the Post Office. The day mails for Atlanta and Ausgusta now close at the post office in this city at 12.15 p. m., instead of at 12.30 p. m., as heretofore. This is done in accordance with in structions from Supt. Vickery, the object being to allow the railroad postal clerks more time for working up the local mail along their lines. A very large mail goes out from Charvery large mail goes out from Charlotte each day on the Atlanta and Augusta trains, and this change in the closing hour, though slight is important. Twelve o'clock and fifteen minutes is now the closing hour.

A Real Estate Sale in 1786. A citizen of Charlotte, on tracing up some old titles in the court house yesterday, came across a deed that was made to one of his relatives in was made to one of his relatives in the year 1786. The deed was for a small tract of land in the town of Charlotte, about 3- acres, for which the sum of £1,200 was paid. This is equal to $5,000, and from this record it would seem that property has always sold high in Charlotte even during and since the colonial times. It is almost impossible now to buy a is almost impossible now to buy a building lot within half a mile of Independence square for less than $1,500 of $3,000.

Thousand Pounds of Stoles Mear on a Last Tuesday night the smake house of Mr. Milt Carr, who lives seven miles from the city was entered by thieves and robbed of one thousand pounds of meat the supply which Mr. Carr had laid by lor winter. The faiders solved the problem of transporting the meat by stealing a mule and wagon from SamuDouglas, on the neighboring farm. They loaded the meat on the wagon, and drove off towards Charlotts as a safterwards learned. The this and the wagon were found in the voods with in two miles of this city yesterday morning, but he sign of the meat was to be found. What disp sition the Another Wedding at Click

The Policemen at Supper.

The members of the police force were last night invited to the residence of Capt. F. A. McNinch, chief of police, where they indulged in a splendid supper given to them complimentary by Capt. and Mrs. F. A. McNinch. The supper was a very elegant affair and to add to its pleasure the members of the force were waited upon at the table by three young ladies, Misses Emma and Laura Vogle and Miss Nettie Mc-Ninch, whose charming attentions made the cops feel like kings The policemen enjoyed the occasion immensely and will always remember it as one of the pleasant events of

A Bang Up Christmas. It isn't very often that Christmas falls on Thursday, at least it doesn't fall oftener on that day than on any other, but when it does come on Thursday, it is a Christmas worth talking about. Prof Baker, our home prophet, says that the following was predicted in the fifteenth century and that he has never known it to fail:

Yf Crystemas day on Thursday be,
A Windy wynter se shalle yee.

"I wyndes and weders all wrecked,
And harde tempestes strong and thycke.

As noted in THE OBSERVER a few days ago, Gen. D. H. Hill has decided to locate in Macon, Ga., and is now installed in his new home at that place. In the Evening News, of Macon, we find this pleasant notice of the old war horse: "Lieut Gen D H Hill has decided to make Macon his permanent home. He recently resigned the presidency of the Arkansas Industrial University on account of ill health, and is devoting himself to literature an an effort to recuperate his health. At present he is pre-paring an article for the Century Magazine on "The Battle of Gaines" Mill." It is to follow Gen Fitz John Porter's article on the same subject. Gen Hill was conspicuous during the late unpleasantness for his imperturbable courage, his coolness and gal-lantry on all occasions, and his unflinching devotion to duty. Some of his orders and comments were full of humor and sarcasm and really classical in their laconic style." The Southern Telegraph Company.

The matter of the appointment of a receiver for the Seuthern Tele-graph Company has caused considerable interest among the people of this city, who are all warm friends are the first theatre range from $200,000 to $250,000. The building cost $100,000, less than four years ago. The interior decorations alone cost $30,000, and there was in the of the corporation. In no other city in the South is this company's lines more liberally patronized than in Charlotte, and the news that the actors and other occupants of the company was in trouble caused much concern here. Billy Mahone has carmed his point as to having a receiver appointed, but this will have no bad effect upon the company. It is said that the main object of this suit was to prevent the Southern company from falling into the hands of the Western Un on, and that now it will be consolidated with the Baltimore and Ohio Company and thus be made a more formidable rival to the Western Union than ever before, Of one thing it is certain, and that is that the Southern has no idea of closing up business, but will continue to serve the public in the same efficient manner which has characterized it from the start.

Lawing Over a Defaulter's Effects. A big law suit from Crab Orchard township was tried yesterday in the office of Esquire D. G Maxwell, growing out of the seizure, by creditors, of some property supposed to have belonged to I. H. Grier, up to a few days ago a respected citizen of Crab Orchard Township. Mr. Grier recently surprised his friends, as several other farmers have done, by selling his cotton, pocketing the money and fleeing for parts unknown, leav-ing his debts unpaid. Mr. Grier also left behind his mother and his wife and family of children. When it became known that he was really gone and there was no probability of his returning, his creditors took pos-session of a lot of cows and sheep that he had left behind to secure their claims. Mrs. Isabella Grier, mother of the truant farmer and Wiss Bettie J. Grier, his daughter, disputed the seizure of the stock, claiming that it was rightfully their own and not Mr. Grier's. The creditors held on, however, and the result was a lawsuit. At the trial yesterday morning, Mrs. Grier and Miss Grier were rep-resented by Messrs. W. H. Bailey and C. Dowd, and the creditors by Jones Johnston. After a full hearing of the case the magistrates decided in the case the magistrates decided in favor of the mother and daughter, who thus reclaim the sheep and cows. Another suit is to be heard in January, in which Mrs. Grier will sue for a certain portion of the crop raised by her son and due her on account of form part. The chairms against China farm rent. The claims against Grier run up to about $600, and it is con-

A friend at Clio, S. C., sends us a notice of another wedding which has occurred in that place. This time the contracting parties were Mr. T. E. Husbands, of Florence, to Miss Lizzie McLaurin, of Clio. The ceremony performed on the 10th inst., by Rev. Joel I. Allen, in the Baptist church. The following were the aitendants: Mr. Henry Husbands and Miss Janie McLaurin; Mr. Henry Herring and Miss Willie Manning; Mr. Will Roper and Miranda Stanton; Mr. E. Stern berger and Miss Eliza Gibson.

There was a large crowd of people in the city yesterday doing their Christmas shopping. The country people were here in full force and they bought with liberal hand, many of them driving out of town, with their buggies resembling Santa Claus' sleigh on wheels. Among the shoppers we noticed people from Concord, Shelby, Lincolnton, Monroe, Wadesboro, Salisbury, Gastonia, Statesville, Laurinburg and other towns in which The Observer circulations and other towns in which The Observer circulations and other towns in which The Observer circulations are supported by the control of the control lates freely. True it is that advertisements draw customers from fa and near.

Died of Her Burns. A sad death that occurred in Salis bury Monday night, was that of Miss Mary Hunt, who died of injuries rec ived in a kero ene lamp explosion about a week ago. Miss Hunt was a sister-in-law of Capt. W. G. Mc-Neeley, of the Boyden House. On the night of the fatal accident she was preparing to retire, when a kero-sene lamp which was placed near the fire exploded, throwing the burning oil over her person. She lived in great suffering until Monday night when her death ensued. Miss Hunt was an estimable lady and has many friends in Charlotte who are truly shocked over her sad fate.

"The Accident Was Due to Carelessness."

So said the coroner's jury, and censured the switch-tender who was said to have carelessly left the switch open. Examination showed that his constitution was bedly run down by under-feeding, the result of poor pay. What he needed was a bottle or two of Brown's Iron Bitters, which would have toned up his nerves, and strengthened him in mind and body. Mr. Thos. Jones, Newark Ohio, takes pleasure in saying: "Brown's Iron Bitters has completely cured me of weakness, debility and poor appetite. It gave entire satisfaction."
