16 The owners of The Crowder's Mountain Iron works beg to call the attention of capitalists from manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named.

The property consists of six Thousand Three Hundred acres of land, located in the countles of caston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at king's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always rielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic fron, and its softness and toughness. This vehin of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the dept in 147 feet, showing at that depth a vehing one about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 65 per cent of metallic fron. This vehin has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other vehins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnache of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain, showing in one place

Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to iron ore the property has manganese, limestone clay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportualities to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products anely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, cak, walnut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, cats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly, and. It is situated in the Picamont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from maisria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to raliroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from king's Mountain Station, on a raliway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suit purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in one or twysar.

A valuable water power, which has been used to run large rolling mills, lies adjacent to this property is also in close proxim

THE MERCHANT'S TAX.

We publish elsewhere today a com munication from one of the leading merchants of Asheville on the subject of the merchant's tax on gross purchases, to which we made editorial reference several days ago. Eadorsing the views of our editorial, the writer advances some additional reasons why the tax should be abolished, and he writes with the force of one familiar with the practical operations of the law, its defects and its inequalities. It is more than likely that this subject will be brought prominently before the Legislature at the present session.

Last Friday evening the Board of Trade of Asheville took hold of it in a business like way and after discussing for a time its oppressive features, appointed a committee to in vestigate the question and report to a subsequent meeting, with a view toconcerted action for the repeal of the law. The merchants of Asheville are moving in the right direction, and are proceeding in a business like way. If the merchants of other towns and cities in the State pursue the same course, call their meetings, discuss, investigate and present their case clearly for presentation to the Legislature, there is no doubt that it would result in the relief so justly demanded. There is a power in concert of action which individual or scattered efforts would not have, for a great and influential class, occupying the position that the merchants of North Carolina do in the State, speaking in their aggregate, would command the respect that they are entitled to. We throw this out as a suggestion for the benefit of those merchants who desire to be relieved from what they consider, and what evidently is, an onerous and unjust tax.

A TRIBUTE TO NORTH CAROLINA. Col. A. K. McClure, who is now on personally acquaint himself with the condition of affairs in this section, writes to his paper the result of his observation. Silk, Stiff and Soft Hits, writes to his paper the result of his observation from different points. Speaking of North Carolina, he pays her the following high compliment: North Carolina is now single from the other reconstructed States in hav-ingattained, so ely by the efforts of her own people, a higher degree of genown people, a higher degree of general prosperity than was ever before attained in her history. She has a more prosperous and thrifty people today than at any period of the past, and there is more capital employed and less debt, State and individual, than at any time in the last half contury. Texas has surpassed the old North State because of her large influx of immigration and wealth, but North State because of her large influx of immigration and wealth; but North Carolina has fewer foreigners and a more completely homogeneous population than any other State of the Union. Since the rescue of the State from the tempest of profligacy that swept over it after the war under the Holden government, the taxes have steadily diminished until they are only nominal, and the schools have increased until they proffer education to every child in the Commonwealth, regardless of color. Her legitimate dobt is steadily reduced; her treasury has a large surplus; her humane institutions, conducted with equal care and outlay for both races, are monuments of credit; her public improvements have kept pace with improvements have kept pace with the growing wants of her people; her authority reflects the pride of the State in its stainless integrity, and thrift and content are the common blessings of her people. When it is considered that North Carolina has every important min-eral within her borders, from gold to iron; that she has every variety of soil for every variety of crops, from wheat to cotton; that she has every When merchants desire to clean up stock and get ready for the spring trade. Those who have not supplied themselves with Wraps can get one from us and at low prices. We have only a tew left. Our stock of Fancy Dress Goods will be reduced to prices that ought to make them sell. A small lot of Water Proof Goods to be sold low down. Our small remnants of Fine Embroideries will be closed out cheap. We have a very cheap lot of Kid Gloves to be closed out. Ask for bargains, we have them. her lands are nearly as cheap and her climate better than the West—when these facts are weighed in the scale of intelligence, the momentous meaning of a new South, with sectional tranquility assured, may be under-stood in the North as it is now under-stood in the Carolinas.

We may not always agree with Senator Vance in the views he takes of public questions, but we admire the manly spirit with which he main tains his positions and the independ ence with which he votes on issues presented. His speech in the Sherman Davis controversy was a noble defence of the Southern people and of himself. His recognized candor is one of the things, aside from his big brain, that has given him the respect and confidence he commands in Washington, not only among his political associates but among his

They hastened to Washington to lay reasons before Mr. Arthur why he should recall the nomination and send in the name of another Democrat, Mr. Morton. He has reconsidered the matter and adopted their suggestion. There is strong op position to his confirmation, The North Carolina office holders have given the President an unusual amount of worry.

The hitch in the Boyd and Keogh matter continues, and there is apparently no prospect of disentanglement. There is a similarity in the two cases that justifies their being considered together for the purposes of this correspondence, Both appointed by the Chief Justice, as by law he can appoint when the vacancy happens while the Senate is not in session, the question arises, would a new nominaquestion arises, would a new nomina-tion by the President exclude the ap-pointment of Chief Justice Waite? not refreshing to know much of these things. The average rumor about this or that man going into the cabinet is worth something after all if you could understand what influences are behind it. I have traced some of them nearly to the fountain head. At the risk of the personal displeasure of certain high contracting parties, I will here state something that is partly fact and partly theory, with possibly enough truth in the whole to signify the inferences made. Two gentlemen have been named, one prominently, the other occasionally, for the office of postmaster general. not refreshing to know much of these for the office of postmaster general. They reside in border States. They are both friends of Mr. Randall. The friends of these gentlemen are the friends of the Pennsylvania leader. Well? Not only so. They are working for Mr. Randall as well as their home favorites. their home favorites. See? It is nearly four years until the next election. But active and ambitious men never sleep. Mr. Randall is an ac-tive and ambitious man, as every-body knows. His friends are not all as wisely silent as he is. They set body knows. His friends are not all as wisely silent as he is. They set certain springs in motion and some people watch the going of the springs. A report from New York makes it probable that Hon. So-So will enter Cleveland's cabinet as secretary of this or that, or postmaster general or attorney general, as the case may be. Trace up the report, and you find that the Randall bureau has something to do with the origination of the thing. He is a tireless worker, and he has some very zealous adherents. But the average judgment is that Mr. Randall's candidacy for the Presidency is such an unknown quantity that we can safely afford to wait two or three years before attempting to find it. The speakership is nearer at hand, and his wistful eyes are upon it. If by strengthening himself here and weakening Mr. Carlisle there; by means personal and theories political; by special pleading with the South; by all the agencies known to so shrewd a manager, he can reverse the overwhelming verdict against him in the 48th Congress, he can be speaker of the body which elected fewer of his followers than were returned in 1882. Not otherwise.

were returned in 1882. Not otherwise.

As the Observer's special of yesterday stated, Senator Vance's statement in the Davis-Sherman controversey in the Senate was strong and impressive. I have heard scores of persons speak of it in language of marked praise. He spoke for twenty minutes from manuscript. His manner in the Senate or anywhere else, was never better and he was closely listened to by a distinguished audience of Senators, ex Senators, Representatives and members of the cabinet. The galleries were crowded and all the Capitol reporters were "takin' notes." I do not say that they "prented em." as the impression was received in their minds; for I find today that some of the great newspapers failed to do justice either to the matter or the motives of the speaker. Prejudice was so strong on the floor that Hoar and Frye paid scornful inattention—the first writing, with a scowl on his white face, and the young Senator from Maine reading a newspaper obviously for the purpose of the speaker. But the changement of the hear Rut the changement of the hear Rut the changement of the purpose of the speaker.

Senator from Maine reading a news-paper obviously for the purpose of seeming not to hear. But the chang-ing features of his face showed that he did hear it all. Civil Service Reform Iterpreted.

Senator-elect H. B. Payne is a civil service reformer. He is in hearty accord with President elect, Cleveland on civil servide, as he understands the President elect. In his St. Jacksons speeh at Columbus he made the matter plain. Payne enumerates the several classes who "shall go, and not standing on the order of their going, but shall go at once." They are.

1. All who are found incompetent or unfaithful. Seveland Herald (Rep.).

2. All who have indirectly evaded the letter or spirit of the present law.
3. All who have obtained their places by questionable methods.

4. All who are not needed. 5. All who have already enjoyed liberal term of office.
