The owners of The Crowder's Mountain Iron works beg to call the attention of capitalists from panufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those

The owners of The Crowder's Mountain fron manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named.

The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of teaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Carolina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the kichmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness. This vetin of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the dept — f 147 feet, showing at that depth a vetin of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 56 per cent. of metallic fron. This vein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of fron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that mist make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 2200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one piace about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain for over a mile, and this deposit alone would afford an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four other veins have been found on this mountain for over a mile, and this deposit alon cellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportualties to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products anely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, wainut, cedar, etc. The land is well aulited to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, cats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It could be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Pledmont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaris and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being stimated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suif purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interests, or will sell one-half the mineral in-nearly all the rooms, a splendid raine barn 45x80 feet, with basement stalls for 8 horses, 20 cows, and 5 bor stalls; a good wood shed, smokehouse, brick spring house, wagon shed, granery, 9 buildings on the farm, basides a 4-tump bone mill on the creek, with sufficient water to run it most of the year. The creek runs through the plantation and has 22 acres of bottom or meadow land under cuttivation that will produce 25 bushels corn per acre. The buildings on the place could not be replaced for less than $6 500. A desirable place for any one wishing a well improved farm.

TECHNICAL EDUCATION. The subject of technical education, the training of our young men for mechanical callings, is now attracting considerable attention in this State, as well as in other Southern States. More than twelve months ago THE OBSERVER drew attention to it editorially and otherwise, and urged its encouragement as a part of our State educational system, a suggestion which was favorably received endorsed by some of the leading papers in the State. The Raleigh Chronicle, we are glad to see, is vigorously urging the matter upon the attention of the Legislature, with a view to securing an appropriation for the establishment of an industrial branch in connection with the State University. In an editorial in Friday's issue it says: The coming man is the man whose gumption is in his hands as well as in his head; and there is a surer road to fortune today for any youth in these ninety six counties who will learn to build a house or to make a tub better than any man in the State can now do it than there is through

he study of law. It is coming, gentleman—coming, as sure as you are born. And if this Legislature will look beyond the little horizon of township politics, will boldly establish an industrial school, and establish it before any other Southern State does such a thing Southern State does such a thing, will declare to the world that Demowill declare to the world that Demo-cratic politics is not office-seeking and office-holding, but is rather a means to further the growth of the people and to develop the wealth of the State, the men who take the lead will reap the honor of achieving what the peculiar felicity of the times will, sooner or later, bring about in spite of them. In ten years from today the of them. In ten years from today the candidates for office in this State will candidates for office in this State will be parading before the people the part they suppose they have taken in causing the increase of the wealth-producing industries. This will be the most popular card that the poli-tician in those days can play.

There is truth in this. The coming man in the South is the man with the educated brain and the educated hand, the brain to conceive, the hand to execute; the skilled, intelligent Silk, Stiff and Soft Hats, worker, through whose agency the multiplying industries are to be esworker, through whose agency the hidden and untold resources developed. The State policy that looks to that, works for it and secures it will be a good policy.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record, an ardent friend of Southern industrial development, and one which has done a good work in giving information as to the resources and progress of the South, referring to this subject, pointedly remarks:

One of the greatest needs of the South is the education of its people in mechanical ways and means. There is now no doubt possible but that the strength of this section is to lie in its manufactures; and, in the mechanical part necessary to the development of these manufactures, it is not meet that the sk lled labor should so gen-erally come from outside our borders, and our own laborers be confined to the hewing of wood and drawing of water.

It is true that throughout the South we have many skilled native mechanics who have taken high part in the developing of our industries; but these are too few in number to affect the general fact that our mechanical native workmen are without the education that should be theirs. To a great measure this is true of the North, East and West, but the older North, East and West, but the older industrial centres of the country are waking to the fact of their necessities, and are beginning to make proper provision therefor. It is time that the South followed in the same direction. It must be remembered that our people have never been mechani cal, and a sudden adaptation to new lines cannot be expected to result in any high degree of perfection. The more necessary, therefore, that the young men of the South are furnished with all means possible to fit them for the industrial conflicts of the furnished

This is one of the questions of practical interest to the people of North Carolina, and we trust that its discus sion may result in the adoption of such measures as will make the industrial school a part of our State system of education, so that not only brain but the hand of the young man who has mechanical talent, and de-sires to pursue a mechanical calling, may be educated.

The reports of the Produce Exchange of New York, just published, show that of the 45,393,787 bushels of grain carried from the port of New York in 1884 only 69,354 was carried in American ships. Of the 1,221 vessels engaged in the grain trade Amer ica owns two. Of the 45,000,000 bushels of grain 25,000,000 bushels left New York in British steamers about 6,500,000 bushels in German steamers, about 5,000,000 bushels in Belgian and 2,280,000 bushels in French. Fourth and fifth class nations carry more grain than we do.

It is said that President Arthur will leave the white house a poor man. If a man is not worth a million or two when he goes out of office these days they call him poor.
