The owners of The Crowder's Mountain from Works beg to call the attention of capitalists from manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named. The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the counties of Gaston and Cienteland, in the State of North Car onna, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an iron property, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in installic fron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the dept of 147 feet, showing at that deptn a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 65 per cent. of metallic fron. This vein has not been worked for twenty rears, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of fron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen months, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of fron ere, are exposed), which were unknown before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must make it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 225 fact above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet whic, which erops out at various points from the top to the battann of this mountain, showing in one place about 20 fact of solid year. This vein can be traced over the top of the meantain for over a mile, and this deposit alone would afford an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four other veins have been found on this mountain. The ore is a mottled gray ore, showing on analysis from 49 to 65 per cent. Of metallic from, with a four other veins have been found on this mountain.

The ore is a mottled gray ore, showing on analysis from 42 to 65 per cent, of metallic fron, with a small amount of titanic acid, and without any sulphur or phosphorus. The quantity of ore in this mountain is simply inexhaustible and of good analysis. quality.

Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to Iron ore the property has mangancee, limestone elay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity. As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportu-alties to those who may wish to engage in such bus-iness. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products crass, grain and all kinds of farming products anely, and it is well supplied with water by unfalling springs and branches

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountain sides are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle. The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, walnut, cedar, etc. The jand is well sulfied to farming purposes, by those who wish to colonize. Cotton, corn, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small fruits. It sould be divided into small farms that would give to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Pledmont belt, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthlness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all rearts of the

is located with great convenience to rainroad facinities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to suit purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interest, or will sell one half the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in erai interest, or win sen one-hair the mineral in-terest, payments to be one-third cash, balance in-one or twye.

A valuable water power, which has been used to run large-rolling mills, lies adjacent to this prop-srty, and can be bought cheaply. The property is also in close proximity to the famous All Healing Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cleve-land Springs. Mineral Springs, and to the widely-known Cleve-land Springs.

The town of King's Mountain is also adjacent, where are good hotels, a flourishing and excellent high school, and several new and handsome churches. The owners invite the attention of all interested to this property, and ask an examination of it. Any further information regarding it will be promptly furnished by addressing B. E. Cochrane, Manager Charlotte Real Estate Agency.

The Yellow Ridge Ore Bank has been recently sold to a Pittsburg, Pa., company, and a German colonization company has recently bought 2,500 cres adjoining this property.

REFORM.

Reform moves slowly. One of the most difficult things in the world to do is to get people out of the old ruts in which the generations before them travelled. In many respects it is much easier to build than to pull down, to introduce a new method or custom than to root out an old one where that new one comes in conflict with the old one. This is illustrated in many questions that have been under discussion in the press and in the Legislature of North Carolina, and strikingly so in the fence and nofence question which has occupied no little of the attention of the present Legislature. Mecklenbarg was the first county in the State to abolish the fence, and since then the example has been followed, more or less, in other counties of the State. In the early stages of the discussion there was violent opposition to the no fence idea in this county, because some people had idea that to restrain stock from running at large and grazing upon the lands of others was an infringement, not only of the liberty of the stock, but also upon the rights of the owners of the stock. But the law had scarce had a fair trial before public judgment endorsed it, and now opposition to it is unheard of and unknown. Under the old system it cost the farmer more money than many of his acres were requirements of the law, and whether these acres were productive or not, they had to be fenced according to law to protect them from tresspass or from the depredations of roaming hogs and cattle. In addition to the first cost of fencing, a big item of expense, these fences had to be kept in repair and kept under inspection to guard against damage by storms or stock, a source of additional expense every year, all of which the Mecklenburg farmer may now avoid. From a business standpoint it does look absurd that the .farmers of the State should spend millions of dolcould be fenced in for a sum insiglearned by observation the folly of adopting the new. It is only a question of time when the fence will be among the things that were and not among the things that are.

Capt Lee Hall, whom one report VALISES, says was killed, and another says had his leg shot off in a fight with Mexi can marauders who crossed the Rio Grande, is a son of Dr. Jas. K. Hall, of Greensboro, and as brave a man as ever stood in boots. He moved to Texas some twelve years ago or more, and soon established a reputation for dauntless courage that made his name familiar throughout the State. His conflicts with desperate characters, outlaws, Mexican marauders, highwaymen &c., would make an interesting narrative. We trust the reports about his ill fortune are un

"NORTH CAROLINA IN THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES "

An Appeal to the Survivors and Comrades of the late War.

To the Editor of THE OBSERVER. The history of the part performed by North Carolina in the "War Be tween the States" has not heretofore been attempted. An unembellished narative of North Carolinas efforts in the the great struggle to maintain con stitutional rights would be the brightest energy that could be pronounced upon the people of the State. Justice demands that such a parratsve should be attempted. The attempts has been made and the work completed. The author has made every effort to rescue from everlasting oblivion the deeds of North Carolina soldiers. None were braver, none were more consecrated to the great work of de-fending what they held to be sacred and just and none performed a more glorious part in the four years of trial, suffering and death.

Notwithstanding the fact that North Carolina bore more than her proportionate part in the late war, and left upon the battlefields more bleached bones than any other State, yet up to the present time she has been without a historian, and the deeds of her valor and of her gallant soldiers are unrecorded and almost unknown.

A record of the deeds. valor, and heroism of these soldiers must be written by a North Carolinian. This is evident from the socalled histories, in which there has been a studied effort to conceal the exploits of officers and privates from our State. They have failed-signally failed-to place North Carolina in a proper light, and to show that from the beginning to the close of the war she was one of the main pillars of the Confederacy. worth to fence them according to the If I have overestimated my powers or underestimated the requirements necessary to the successful execu tion of the task I have undertaken, I beg the reader to attribute my er ror to the interest I feel in seeing North Carolina placed in the front in the general history of the war, in stead of occupying a position in the back ground as she has done hereto-

A Word With the Giris.

The girl of sixteen who will neither sew nor do house-work has no business to be decked out in finery and rambling about in search of fun and frolic unless her parents are rich, and in that event she needs the watchful direction of a good mother none the ess. There is no objection to fun, but it should be well chosen and well timed. No woman or girl who will not work has a right to share the wages of a poor man's toil. If she does not work, if she makes the clothes she wears and assists in the household duties, the chances are she will have enough self-respect to behave when playtime comes; but if she should still be a little "wild," the honest toil she has done will confer upon her some degree of right to have her own way, ill-judged though it may be. The wild girl usually as-pires to prominence in some social circle or other, and her manners and conduct are in greater or less degree designed to attract the following of men. She should remember that followers are not always admirers, and that the most sincere admiration a man never feels for a woman in a drawing room is when he looks upon her, and says in his own conscious-"She is a perfect lady."

Southern Vs. Scoth Iron. The Commercial Bulletin, of New York calls attention to the fact that Southern pig iron has almost driven Scotch pig iron out of the market. Says the Bulletin: "Formerly the reports universally had the words Scotch where Southern now appears. Besides serving the purpose, as far as quality is concerned, the Southern iron has a decided advantage in the matter of cost, being some $2 or $3 per ton cheaper. The production at the South, it may be added, has increased no less than five fold during the last six years. At present the capacity of furnaces in blast there is about 20 per cent. of the total capacity of active furnaces in the whole country. Six years ago it was less than 10 per cent. THE WORLD'S EXPOSITION.

Everybody Should See it -- Let the Railroads Adopt a Liberal Policy in the Matter of Rates. CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 14.

To the Editor of THE OBSERVER I am pleased to see that for good reasons and authority you commend to the public the great exposition now opened in the city of New Orleans. It has had many difficulties to contend with, as you have shown. But the chief of these has been the want of time to prepare such a display of the world's productions. You will recollect that it was first proposed as a mere cotton exposition. As this progressed the managers soon found that other productions of the soil, the mines, woods, minerals, commerce, arts and sciences all claimed a place at the show. These could not be excluded without an unjust and illiberal policy. Thus a more extended and liberal policy had to be adopted. Greatly enlarged expendiand commodious, with broader ideas and schemes, had to be resorted to and matured within comparatively a short period of time. To change from a cotton fair to a world's show was no light undertaking. But it has been done, and the grand exhibit is there and worthy of all communication. It is a credit to the managers, through all their difficulties. Now it rests with the country to make it a success financially, simply y going to see it-the greatest exhibit of the world's productions that tures, with buildings far more ample

the Southern people will probably ever have to witness If it is a success it will be of great benefit to the South, but if it proves a failure it cannot help us. Although much greater exposition than the centennial exhibit at Philadelphia, yet we can hardly expect it to be financially so great a success. Philadelphia, a very large city, situated in the center of the densest population of the States, surrounded by the largest cities of the Union, within a few hours run and easily accessible by the number and position of its rail and water transportation, was more favorably located than New Orleans for such a purpose. The white population, who principally support such intellectual expositions, for 500 or 1,000 miles is sparsely and thinly set-tled around New Orleans. To reach it many persons will have to travel a long distance, which takes time and noney. This many of the transportation lines South and West of us appreciate, and have greatly reduced their fare; for instance, from Charleston, Augusta and Atlanta to about two cents per mile for the round trip. The Western railroads and steamboats have heretofore charged only about these rates from the first open ing. The railroads can do much to make this grand display a success The Danville system has already done much to help the exposition, and by its liberal policy makes a splendid show in New Orleans. Now we hope it and all other roads in the South will reduce their charges to not exceeding 2½ cents per mile for the round trip, and the visit will be in reach of many who will not otherwise be able to go. This will greatly help the cause of the South as well as the roads, and help to make a grand success of the greatest exhibit the world has ever seen. The effect of such virtuous and intellectual shows are to liberalize and improve mankind, besides the benificent effect of extending and enlarging our com-merce with the civilized nations of the world, and especially with Mex-ico, South American States and the

of wonderfully trustful disposition for men who see so much of the worst side of human nature. One of them stopped an American the other day, because he carried a "suspicious look ng" tin box. The officer wanted him to "swear on his honor!" that it did not contain dynamite. The Ameri can "swore" and was allowed to proceed. Apparently the policeman reasoned that a man who carried dynamite could not lie about it. Such faith in the word of a stranger is touching and chivalrous, but over here such a policeman would be con sidered decidedly in need of saulting.

MRS. JOE PERSON: "Madam-On the 29th of last May a boy child well developed in every respect was born in this city, but the "King of Terrors" began to chise about its little heart, and notwithstanding its plump and vigorous constitution the poison in the medical men term 'Eczema,' 'Pupura,' or 'Hereditary Taint.' Some old 'mothers concluded the child had the 'yellow thrash.' Yet whatever the disease it was certainly a stubborn master for the doctors. The mother took the little sufferer to the country, hoping that the pure fresh air might be beneficial, and Dr. -, of Lumberton, was called to treat the case. He pronounced it Ecz-ma, and did all he could for it, but to no purpose, any more than to check the fever to which the disease subjected the boy.

"At the first frost the victim was again removed came so sore that for two weeks it did not nurse A friend suggested as a last hope and resort 'MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.'

"All means of procuring any more help or medi-cine had falled, and in this hour of deepest de-spair the poor mother went and asked her drug-gist to let her have one bottle and one package of the Remedy, and was refused, because she did not have the money to pay for it. She pawned her wedding ring and raised $1.50 to pay for the medi-cine.

If you've picked out the proper sort of a girl, she won't hesitate to face the vicissitudes with you, if she loves you; if she doesn't love you, or hasn't the grit to cling to you, you're well out of it at any price, and are in shape to look in some other and bet-tardington.

"When she gave the child the first dose, three weeks ago to-day, the little fellow was a mass of scal sores from the hips to the knees, and at seven months old had never borne his weight on his feet. To day, by the help of God and a faithful administration of the Remedy the child is well and strong in the legs, and last Sabbath morning while the mother was weeping at the necessity of drying up het breast, he took hold and nursed as strong and vigorous as ever. The administration of the Remedy is still kep up to effect a complete cure.
