TARNORO, Feb. 4, 1885.

For several years I have had a trouble with my breast, which I fear is cancer, that being incident to my family. For two years past my general health has been wretched from its effects. I became so weak I was incapacitated for all work; my appetite was gone, the sight of food was nauseating to me, I would would wake up in the morning so tired I scarcely had energy to arise and dress myself, upon the least exertion I had palpitation of the heart so visiently that I was helpiess. I was so hervous I could get no good sleep, but would lay awake at night restless, and when I did drop off to sleep would soon awake with a start, and it would be hours before I could get to sleep again. My constitution was wrecked—hope was gone. I concluded, as a last resort, to try fire. Joe Person's Hemed. I commenced using it last July, have taken I7 bottles, and the effect has been wonderful. My general health is excellent. I sleep as well as I ever did in my life and wake in the morning feeling refreshed and well. I can not only get up and cook my own breakfast without fatigue but have fine appetite to relish it now after I cook it. I can go all day long and am not tired when night comes. I have not had a touch of palpitation of the heart, since soon after I commenced the Remedy. My breast does not pain me at all, or give me any trouble. I do not know whether the Remedy will cure my breast or not, as the lump is still there, but if it never does no words of mine can express my gratitude for what the Remedy has done for me. It has done more for me than Mrs. Person promised me it would do whon I consulted her in regard to using it. I will take pleasure in giving any one information in regard to my case who may dealre it. I wish every afflicted person in the land could know of its virtue, I am gratefully,

The Navy as it Stands.

The orders issued by Secretary Whitney for making an inventory of Government property at the Brooklyn yard indicate a purpose to begin the new naval administration by taking an account of stock in or-der to see what there is to work with. Meanwhile the new Navy Register for 1885, which bears the date of Feb. 1, but was not distributed until the present month, give a tolerable clear idea of the state to which the navy of vessels by a long course of Robe-sonism and its sequences.

There are to-day just thirty-five serviceable steam cruising vessels in the United States navy. The largest of these, the Tennessee, is of 4,840 tons, displacement: three others have a displacement of above 3,000, eight others have upward of 2,000 tons displacement: and the remain ing twenty three run downward from 1,900 tons to 420. This showing does not improve on observing that the vessels are all wooden except five of the smallest, which average four or five hundred tons each and

There are, of course, many more vessels in the navy, including a dozen wooden sailing vessels, some of them quite roomy, which serve very well as training or school ships, re ceiving ships and store ships. There are fifteen tugs, which do good ser-vice at the yards, and of which twothirds are iron, adorued by delicate feminine names like Nellie and Nina, or bontanical ones like Catalpa and Mayflower. There are fourteen small ironclads of the Passaic and Canonicus classes, relics of the war, all of them requiring repairs to make them serviceable. There are the five double turreted monitors, which Congress refused to complete. There are three wooden first rates, the Franklin, Wabash, and Minnesota, the first two of which are only of use as receiving ships and the other as a gunnery training ships. There withdrawal from sea service has been officially recommended. There is the New York, still on the stocks, and sound in hull, but Congress last win-ter refused to complete her because she would be so slow as to be of little value. Finally there is the Thetis, one of the survivors of the Greely re-

Gordon on Saicide.

There is a world full of pashos in the story of Gen. Grant's last days. His terrible pains seem to have been borne with a Red Indian stoicism. Incurable cancer is one of the direst and most agonizing forms of disease, and was considered by Gordon—if I may credit a gentleman who met him some years ago at Singapore—as sufficient excuse for curtailing one's own existence. The hero had been reading Mallock's essay, "Is Life Worth Living?" and remarked that he agreed with much that was adhe agreed with much that was advanced in it. "Then," said my in-formant, "you consider it lawful to commit suicide?" "No," answered Gordon "except under phenominal conditions of suffering without remedy. Many and many a time during the past years I would have hailed death as a blessed relief, if it came as the Almighty message.

A CAMP OF GYPSIES.

The Rendezvous in West Philadelphia Constantly Receiving Additions.

A gypsy camp, with tents and wagons, horses, dogs and babies, hard working women and lazy men, is located in the woods on the east side of Fifty second streat, north of Baltimore avenue West Philadelsphia. There are over fifty persons, young and old in the camp at of 1885.—Yesterday, about noon, the body of Evander McBride, a prominent colored man of this city, was found floating in the river near the W. & W. Railroad wharf. Deceased disappeared from his home on Dickinson's Hill, in the northern part of the city, on Saturday last, since which time detectives have been employed in the effort to discover his whereabouts.

Baltimore avenue West Prinades plants are avenue west Prinades plants. There are over fifty persons, young and old, in the camp at present, and more are expected every day. Some have been there all winter, while others have just arrived. They came from the South, where they have been camping out all winter in the pine woods of North Carolina and East Tennessee. The gypsies were found last night sitting around little fires or attending to their horses. little fires or attending to their horses. They are not a very communicative set, and they looked with evident suspician upon an intruder.
"Why don't you build up a more cheerful fire?" was asked of a group of men and women sitting around a little heap of half dying embers. "Wood's scarce," was the laconic rejoinder. 'Where do you come from?"

"Wales." "Lately?"

"North Carolina." After an hour of this kind of conversation it was discovered that most if them are named Lovell, which is the name of the queen of the gypsies, who died in New Jersey last summer. Some of the party were formerly with the "Romany Rye" company in New York, but they tired of theatrical life, preferring to live in the open air with their dogs and horses. Several negroes are in the camp. They came with the gypsies from the South and take care of the horses. One of the women, or "ladies," as the men called them, was asked what she charged to tell a fortune.

"I wouldn't think of it for less than two dollars," she said. "Do many people have their for-"Yes, indeed. Lots of ladies come out here to have us tell their fortunes, and they pay well for it. There's more old women nor young girls; and men, they come, too, very The women are the workers of the camp. Every morning they get up early, build the fire and cook breakfast. Then they take their baskets and bundles and go down into the city to peddle clothes pins and baskets and to tell the fortunes of credulous servants and others They always take their babies with them. They make a sort of sling of a shawl and carry the baby in it, leaving their hands free to carry the baskets The men spend their time loafing around taverns and stables and trying to trade horses.

The gypsies live well. They will buy nothing but the best of everything. The best butter, meat and vegetables are carried back to camp every evening by the women. People who live in the houses near by say that the gypeies don't steal from them. The reason given is that they know they would be the first persons suspected, and are too sharp to run the risk of being arrested.

A Braye Priest. The hero of the battle of Suakim, on March 22d, appears to be the Rev. Reginald Collins, the Catholic chapain to the English forces, and until recently stationed at Alexandria The courageous part which he bore in that engagement—and for which he has well earned, and will probably receive, the Victoria (ross—is thus described by one of the correspondents: Outside, away from the square, a number of men, on various atigue duties, such as cutting bush for the zareba makers, were cut off from the main body. Undaunted and resourceful, they quickly improvised a square, hard by the field kitchens, and their promptness saved their lives. Conspicuous amongst them were to be seen Maj. Alston and the Rev Mr. Collins (one of our chaplains) fighting back to back, the reverend combatant having seized the nearest available weapon, which he wielded vigorously as if "to the man ner born. Here, I am sorry to say, I must somewhat qualify my previous praise of the 17th Royal Poorbeahs; not, however, in respect to the actual fighting, which, as I have said, was splendid, but they were sadly un steady, and in their excitement not amenable to that discipline the dis play of which was so conspicuous by the marines. The bugles were repeatedly sounded for them to cease firing, but they did not heed the com-mand, and continued firing at perilous random, especially to the little square managed by Major Alston. As the bugles were ineffective, the Rev. Mr. Collins volunteered to cross the bullet swept ground and convey the orders to cease firing. Stepping forth, calm and collected in demeanor, the chaplain walked, his life in his hands, across to the Indians, to whom he gave the necessary orders, and then returned as calmly to the little square which he had left. His reception must have been some com-pensation for the risks he had run. The men, struck with his heroism, raised cheer after cheer, and, stick-ing their helmets on their bayonets, frantically waved them in their en-

President Juarez confiscated a large part of the church property, and even took its gold and silver ornaments and coined them into money to carry on his war against the church party. There is still considerable wealth and grandeur left to the Catholics, but their day of almost unlimited dominion is over. The highest quality of tobacre attainable, deli-cious flavor and parity combined, has fairly won for the Richmond Straight Cut Cigarettes the repu-tation of the best.

Quitman, Ga., New South.

Very recently we moved a couple of bec hives that were sitting on a box about six inches above the ground, and placed them when moved, about three feet from the ground. The bees on returning londed, would light on a box about the height of the former box. We noticed also, they would on returning, go to the old place about forty yards distant, and seemed perfectly lost. It took them over a week to learn their new place and surroundings. The habit even of a bee controls them when once formed.

FROM T. C. SMITH, M. D.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Fab. 27, 1885. It is a well-known fact that the process of making wheat flour removes with the bran in the bolting, a portion of the natural phosphates of the grain. Phosphates are of the greatest value in maintaining mental and physical vigor. Of all the preparations used to raise bread, Horsford's Bread reparation is the only one that replaces the phos phates of the gmin, which are of great nutritive importance. It is composed of acid phosphate of ime—which takes the place of the cream of tartar and the alum of other preparations—and blearbo-nate of sods. The result of the chemical action when the preparation and the soda are added to flour mixed in the form of dough, is a union of the phosphoricacid and the soda, thus liberating the carbonic acid gas, which performs the rising pro-cess. The resulting phosphate of lime and soda left in the bread strengthens the nutritive value of the bread which thus gains in the elements of brain, blood and bone food. ONE HUNDRED YEARS OLD.

THE AUGUSTA CHRONICLE was established in 1785, but is still young, vigorous and progressive and fully up to all the requirements of a first-class newspaper. Democratic in politics, honest and fearless in the advocacy of all good measures—the organ of no ring or clique, it has no friends to reward, or enemies to punish. The purpose of the Chronicle is to advance the general good and support such measures as will inure to the moral, social, educational and material advancement of the State and country.

The columns of the Chronicle are free from the taint of sensationalism and the depravity engendered by immoral publications.

Our telegraphic news service is full and complete. The Chronicle contains an average of nine thousand words per day from the New York associated Press. This service is supplemented by specials from our able and telented correspondents at Atlanta and Columbia, who are indefatigable in their labors to give our readers the latest news and the most interesting letters.

Our accomplished and brilliant associate, Mr. James R. Randall, of the editorial staff, sends our readers his graphic and interesting letters from Washington during the session of Congress.

The Chronicle publishes the full telegraphic service of the New York Associated Press.

The owners of The Crowder's Mountain iron Works beg to call the attention of capitalists iron manufacturers, stock and dairy men, and those who wish to settle colonies, to their property, which offers inducements to the classes above named.
The property consists of Six Thousand Three Hundred Acres of land, located in the countles of Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of Six Thousand Gaston and Cleaveland, in the State of North Car olina, at King's Mountain Depot, on the Atlanta and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Depotile and Charlotte Air Line railway, now owned by the Richmond and Danville railroad company. The Richmond and Danville railroad company. The property has been used for fifty years past as an tron property, and has been worked at various points, but chiefly at the site of the celebrated Yellow Ridge Ore Bank, which has always yielded an ore noted for its richness in metallic iron, and its softness and toughness. This vein of ore, which extends for two miles in length, has been worked to the dept fifty feet, showing at that depth a vein of ore about 40 feet wide, and analyzing as high as 66 per cent. of metallic iron. This vein has not been worked for twenty years, but the facts set forth can be fully shown. Various other veins have been worked, and within the past two years very large deposits of iron ore have been discovered at other points. Within the past eighteen wonths, however, the owners have discovered deposits of ore in Crowder's Mountain, (five veins of iron ore, are exposed), which were anknewn before, and which will furnish an amount of good ore, easily worked and above water, that must easie it one of the most desirable iron properties to be found. They have discovered on the pinnacle of this mountain, which is 1000 feet above the level land, 200 feet above the sea level, a vein of ore eight feet wide, which crops out at various points from the top to the bottom of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain, showing in one place about 20 feet of solid vein. This vein can be traced over the top of the mountain for over a mile, and this deposit alone would afferd an almost inexhaustible supply of ore, easily worked, and above the water line. In addition to this four other veins have been found on this mountain. The ore is a mottled gray ore, showing on analysis from $5 to 65 per cent. of metallic iron, with a small amount of titan mountain is simply inexhaustible and of good quality, Besides Crowder's Mountain the owners possess

King's Mountain, for about seven miles, whose pinnacle is the highest point of land from Richmond to Atlanta, except Mt. Airy, in Georgia, and they have reason to believe this mountain is full of ore also. In addition to iron ore the property has manganese, limestone clay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

manganese, imestone diay for making fire-proof brick, gold and other minerals. Very pure and excellent barytese has just been found in large quantity.

As a stock and dairy farm it offers fine opportualties to those who may wish to engage in such business. It has from three to four thousand acres of level or only slightly rolling land, which produces grass, grain and all kinds of farming products duely, and it is well supplied with water by unfailing springs and branches.

The other 4,000 acres embraced in the mountains slogs are productive of fine grass and herdage, and afford excellent natural pasturage for sheep and cattle, The climate is so mild that but little shelter for stock is needed in the coldest winters. The whole six thousand acres are now covered with a fine growth of timber of all kinds, such as pine, hickory, oak, wainut, cedar, etc. The land is well suited to farming purposes, by those who wish to coloniza. Cotton, cora, peas, oats, clover and grass, and fruits of all kinds are produced beautifully, and it is specially suited to grapes and small furus. It would be divided into small farms that wouldgive to each farm variety of soil, and level and hilly and. It is situated in the Piedmont beit, which is noted for the salubrity of its climate, and the healthiness of its atmosphere. It is a region free from malaria and other unhealthy influences. It is located with great convenience to railroad facilities, being situated at from two to four miles from King's Mountain Station, on a railway that has the most extensive connections with all parts of the country, and which offers great inducements to those who are trying to develop the country along its lines. The owners will sell this property to sait purchasers, as follows: The whole tract, including mineral interests, for Sixty three Thousand Dollars, or will make favorable terms, reserving the mineral interest, payments to be one-third cash, balance one or twyears.

The carriage in which the first Na poleon made his famous retreat from Moscow, and in which he as Emperor, set out from Paris in the campaign which closed at Waterloo, is now preserved in London among the effects of the Duke of Wellington. It is a two-seated conveyance, and the top, or cover, is lined with thin sheet iron. There is also a front cur-tain of iron, which can be lowered at will. The wheels are large and heavy, and the steps at either side silver fluished and of a curious design. The rear seat was the one used by Napoleon. Under the cushion of the seat he carried blankets and pillows. The back of the front seat opens, and at the right hand forms a small cupboard, in which were tin plates, knives, spoons, water cans and a small fluid lamp. On the left is a
