A NEW TOWN.

Inaugurating Ceremonies Somewhat Out of the Usual Order.

A correspondent of the Baltimore Manufacturers' Record furnishes an account of the founding of the new town of Whittier, in Swain county, this State, on the 60,000 acre tract purchased by Dr. Clarke Whittier, on the 19th inst.:

Rev. W. H. Cooper introduced, offered the following prayer:

God of our Fathers and our God, we are met today in thy great name on thy footstool to found a town to be called or known as Whittier. In founding which town we recognize thy gracious hand and in this formal way, most solemnly and reverently consecrate it to Thee and the welfare of our common humanity. For the sake of Thy Son, most graciously accept our imperfect service and grant to us and our town Thy signal favor, from generation to generation. May it have a world wide fame of religion, morality and temperance. May it never be destroyed by flood or flame. May it be free from epidemic and the noisome politician. May its widows never be turned empty away, or its orphans be heard to cry for bread. May no foul murder ever be committed upon its streets, or its sacred soil stained by blood. May the wayfarer find a lodging here and lie down and repose in safety. May its pure atmosphere never be polluted by the poisoning fumes of intoxicating liquor or mothers' tears wept over inebriate sons within its corporate limits. May the early and latter rains descend upon it. May its gardens and orchards bring forth in abundance of the good things of life. May the voice of prayer and praise be heard in all its dwellings. May the poor and oppressed of earth find a refuge here. May it be the glory of our land and mankind. God bless the founder thy servant our benefactor, may he long live to serve God and benefit mankind. The Lord give him purity of heart, sanity of mind, health of body and abundance of means, wherewith he may glorify God and bless men. As thou didst prolong the days of thy Hezekiah, so prolong his days. As thou didst give thy servant wisdom, grant him wisdom, and may his talents for usefulness increase more and more. May we appreciate his efforts and hold up his hands by our prayer and co-operation.

And we do not forget to thank thee for the concert of action on the part of all the proprietors of the soil of which the town is formed, and who are of like principles with the founder. Make us an humble, God loving, God-fearing people. These prayers we offer in the name of Jesus our great high priest above, to whom with the father and the Holy Ghost be everlasting praise. Amen.

After the prayer it was moved, seconded and carried that a petition be circulated and consent obtained from all property holders within ten miles of Whittier, if possible, to prohibit forever the sale of intoxicating liquors. On motion of Dr. Whittier it was resolved that "it is the sense of this meeting that the various enterprises undertaken hereabouts meet our hearty co-operation and support in money and labor, and we invite all property holders as far as the town of Franklin, in Macon county, to the new Gap on the Smoky mountains, on the Tennessee line, and the county of Swain, including the town of Charleston and all that part of Jackson county tributary to Whittier, to unite with us in the construction of a graded road to Franklin to the Smoky mountains at the new and old gap; a double bridge across (best possible) the river here; a made and graded road from Whittier to the Oconee Lufly road; a graded road to connect Whittier with the road on the south-side Tuckasee river to Charleston, and a graded road to mouth of Oconee Lufly; a graded road from Whittier to Qualatown—the shortest line, a road between the bridges on the north side of the river."

Clarke Whittier stated that he had secured from the best attorneys in the State a legal form whereby all purchasers of land in Whittier or in the 60,000 acre tract will agree that in case spirituous or malt liquors are sold, imported or manufactured for use, except as medicine or for arts, the owner shall surrender the land to Clark Whittier, or his legal representatives, on the tendering of the purchase money.

N. C. EXHIBITS AT NORTH-ERN FAIRS.

Mr. Patrick Going After the Farmers' Boys in the Middle States.

Raleigh Chronicle.

The State never had a more energetic and practical worker in its employ than Mr. John T. Patrick, the immigration agent. Seeing a great display being erected against the wall in the second story of the veranda at the Agricultural Building, a Chronicle reporter ventured to ascend and ask what it was. Mr. Patrick, who was at work with some mechanics fitting up some frames, greeted him politely and explained the object of the beautiful display, which extended the whole length of the building.

Said he, "I am not running an Exposition up here, but am getting an exhibit of North Carolina cereals, woods, grasses, minerals, ores, &c., which I propose to send to fairs throughout New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and other Northern States this fall, into good shape so that it can be rapidly unpacked, put up, exhibited effectively, packed up again, and shipped." And then he explained the details to us. The frames are composed of numerous small squares, each square being a separate compartment to contain a specimen of something, and each is closed with glass. The frames contain nearly a hundred different kinds of wood, and form the exhibit of woods. He has specimens of all the cultivated plants and grasses, natural size, specimens of all seeds and grains, of all fruits and nuts, of all minerals and ores, &c., &c.—more things than we could enumerate in a column. There are some beautiful things like native gold, precious stones, &c. The frames containing these hundreds of specimens are to be hung on the wall. Legends setting forth the advantages and resources of North Carolina are interspersed among the frames, and the whole is decorated with festoons of plaids from North Carolina mills, trimmed with a border of cotton bolls.

Mr. Patrick will put two complete exhibits of this size and exactly alike on the road in the Middle States.

A number of the fairs to which Mr. Patrick sends the exhibits have offered medals and diplomas for such displays.

To attract attention to his exhibit, Commissioner Patrick has issued a challenge to other States to meet him, as follows:

AGT. DEPT. IMMIGRATION BUREAU,
RALEIGH, N. C.

We will have a display of North Carolina products, woods, minerals and precious stones at the Warren county fair. While the specimens will not be large, they will be arranged in a handsome shape, showing the greatest variety ever exhibited by a single State. And we challenge the State seeking immigration to compete with us for the medal and diplomas that are offered by the society.

Yours very truly,

J. T. PATRICK,

Commissioner of Immigration.

The Reading (Pa.) Times says of Mr. Patrick's exhibit at that fair:

"The entire northern end of the building will be occupied by the display of the State of North Carolina. The display is intended to show the capabilities of the 'Old Tar State,' and will include everything that can be produced on her soil or can be found in her mines. There will also be full grown stalks of cotton in bloom, with open bolls of cotton, showing how the staple article is of the South is produced."

Cameron's Notched Stick.

A private letter from Senator Don Cameron to a Philadelphia friend indicates that he is preparing for war in times of peace. The Pennsylvania Senator has been roughing it in the far West. His special occupation has been to study up stock raising, and the Inter-Oceans Washington correspondent says he intends to invest heavily in it. He has given little attention to politics, but has observed that one of his friends, Stephen F. Wilson, of Tioga, has been removed from a judgeship in New Mexico, a place secured by Attorney-General Brewster at Cameron's request. After fraternizing with Attorney-General Garland in the Senate for several years, Senator Cameron had the expectation that the former would not go out of his way to put a Cameron man out of office, especially when there was no blot against his good name, and the proper civil-service proceeding would be to let him serve out his term. When Mr. Garland's appointment comes up for confirmation next winter Senator Cameron may have a notched stick on his desk, as well as some other Senators.

The White House Socially.

Washington Cor. Chicago Herald.

Appropos of Miss Cleveland, society leaders are in quite a quandary concerning the social future of the Executive Mansion. This worthy lady is not impressed with the glitter and glare of meretricious surroundings, and the simplicity of the President's character sounding brass and tinkling cymbals in dispensing his personal and official hospitalities. Association with cultured people, men and women of letters, artists, scientists, and the like—is more to Miss Cleveland's taste than mingling with the toadies, sycophants and time-servers who have predominated and held high carnival at the White House for many years past.
