Judge Boykin.

Raleigh News and Observer.

The News and Observer announces with great pleasure the appointment by the Governor Saturday morning of E. T. Boykin, Esq., of Clinton, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge McKoy. We urged his appointment as one greatly desirable by reason of Mr. Boykin's generally recognized ability as a lawyer, his peculiar fitness for the bench, his industry in the line of his profession and as a student of public affairs, and his comparative youth, which might be expected to add vigor, earnestness and enthusiasm to the other qualifications he possesses. Among the men of his age in the State he has no superior, either as a lawyer or as a legislator, and he stands well up among the first public men of North Carolina of any age and all ages. He is one of the few real thinkers we have, applying himself carefully and laboriously to any question of public weal or woe that may arise. He is in short, a man in whose character are combined the elements of both genius and talent—the quick perception and easy analysis of the former and the careful research, the diligent polishing and the demand for accuracy of the latter. These taken in connection with his youth, the lofty tone of his moral character and the courtesy and dignity of his demeanor, render him likely to achieve the highest distinction. He will prove a conscientious, faithful, intelligent officer of the law, and he will add lustre to the bench which already holds some of the brightest men in the State. The people are to be congratulated on his appointment.

Mr. Boykin will be the youngest judge in the State. He was born in the town of his residence, December 27th, 1854, was educated at Trinity college, and, after a thorough course in law, received license to practice in 1876. He has served as mayor of Clinton two terms and as chairman of the county democratic executive committee three terms. He was elected to the lower house of the legislature in 1881 and to the upper house in 1883. Upon the organization of the latter body he was elected president pro tem, and served in that capacity until the installation of the lieutenant governor. He acquitted himself here as elsewhere, admirably, and extended still more widely the reputation he established during the previous session and in the other house for ability. He has been successful as a practitioner, and in addition to the other duties which have been imposed upon him by an appreciative people, he has discharged those of judge advocate general of the State since June last to the approbation of all concerned.

Mr. Boykin will probably accept the judgeship tendered him, we understand, and will take his seat upon the bench at once.

Duplicated Greenbacks.

Gen. Rosecrans, Register of the Treasurer, has unearthed a great robbery of the Treasury through Mr. George T. Jones, one of the oldest of the expert engravers of the country, and a former member of a celebrated firm of bank engravers in Cincinnati. When Salmon P. Chase was Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Jones was called to Washington for consultation, and while there discovered that greenbacks were being issued without proper checks. And he also unearthed the fact that between $13,000,000 and $14,000,000 of coupon bonds had been duplicated and issued, and Mr. Spinner confessing to him that he had in the aggregate $68,000,000 of the coupons of such bonds in his possession. As to the fraudulent issue of greenbacks, Mr. Jones agrees with two other witnesses that when Mr. Dorsey went out to Indiana in 1880, the Republicans shipped him $400,000 in $2 greenbacks. This money came to Mr. Dorsey in sheets. The government never issues its money in this way. Gen. Rosecrans, now Register of the Treasury, therefore argues that this is an evidence of fraudulent issue.

Preparing to encounter Disease

The prevalence of malarial disorders being dependent upon vitiated conditions of atmosphere and water is, in certain regions, of course, inevitable. The grand question, therefore, presents itself to every resident of a stricken locality is, "What means shall I adopt to escape the dreaded scourge?" or a third of a century Hostetter's Stomach Bitters has been the embodied answer to this question. In thickly populated and sparsely settled districts alike, in town and in country, it has afforded constant protection against malarial infection to those who have used it. It eradicates and prevents, with equal certainty, fever and ague, bilious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, and nullifies also the pernicious effects of using persistently the hurtful alkaloid sulphate of quinine. It also remedies, with thoroughness, dyspepsia, liver complaint, constipation, debility and rheumatism.

Skin Diseases Cured

By Dr. Frazier's Magic Ointment. Cures as if by Magic, pimples, black heads or grubs, blotches and eruptions on the face, leaving the skin clear and beautiful. Also cures Itch, salt rheum, sore nipples, sore lips, and old, obstinate ulcers. Sold by druggists, or mailed on receipt of price, 50 cents. Sold by T. C. Smith & Co.

STATE NEWS.

The Raleigh News and Observer says that in the matter of applications for a pardon for Shields the man who, in Mecklenburg county, slew young Sitton, the Governor has as yet taken no steps save to send to Mecklenburg county, for more evidence.

Hickory Press: Mr. R. P. Reinhardt, our excellent country man, gave us a pleasant call while in town this week. He was highly pleased with his visits to the recent Chester and Columbia fairs, to which places he took his herd of Short Horned cattle, and was awarded the first premiums, amounting to $200 or $300.

Wilmington Review: The receipts of cotton at this port for the week ending with today foot up 3,663 bales against 5,229 bales for the corresponding week of last week, a decrease this week of 1,566 bales. The receipts of the crop year to date foot up 58,032 bales against 61,476 bales to same date last year, a decrease this year of 3,444 bales.

Asheville Citizen: We had the pleasure, Saturday afternoon, at 20 minutes before 2 o'clock of seeing the first brick laid on the Battery Porter Hotel. It was laid by Mr. E. P. Black, the master mason, who then proceeded to a course, and then the great work was fairly begun. The building is going up on the very spot occupied by the earthworks, a perfect flat of a little more than an acre square. The building has a front of 177 feet one inch with a width of 41 feet 10 inches. From near the centre extends back a wing of 164 feet long by 41 feet 10 inches wide. The whole building will be three stories high, the centre, which projects, to be surmounted by a tower as observatory. The whole will be surrounded by a verandah to each story. The building is to be of brick in an ornate Queen Anne style.

News and Observer: A little over a year ago a gold watch of a handsome pattern was stolen from a gentleman, then a prominent lawyer of Raleigh and afterwards a judge. A negro was arrested for the crime and on circumstantial evidence was sent to the penitentiary for five years. Later the convict was put to work on the Western N. C. R. R. For about four years he worked there, when a strange thing occurred. He was sent for and was brought to Raleigh. On arrival here he was released. A few weeks ago a negro here, who had for years borne a bad character and been suspected of being a thief of the worst sort, was captured with stolen goods in his possession and sent to jail. Soon after he was sent to jail he sent for a lawyer and desired him to "go bail" for him. The lawyer demurred saying that it was rather doubtful whether so bad a client would remain to stand trial. When this was said the negro said he had a handsome watch at home which he would deposit with the lawyer as security. He sent for the watch, which the lawyer recognized at once as the one stolen from his brother attorney over four years ago. The result was that the watch was restored to its owner, the man convicted of stealing it was sent for and promptly released, and that a fresh case was made out against the man who really committed the theft.

Telegraphic Courtesies.

Wash. cor. Chicago Times.

On the files of the War Department Gov. Curtin says, are two rather spicy dispatches, one addressed to him by Secretary Stanton and the other his reply.

It was late in the war, probably in the spring of 1864, that Gov. Curtin came here to see the Secretary of War, and after giving him a harrowing description of the condition of the Federal prisoners in Andersonville he appealed to him to save them.

Mr. Stanton said he did not see how he could do anything. "Why," said the Governor of Pennsylvania, "we have thousands of Confederate prisoners, let there be an exchange."

With some heat the Secretary asked if he meant to propose that we should take back a lot of diseased and enfeebled men, who could not return to the ranks, and give the Confederates an equal number of healthy and well fed men, who would at once recruit their armies.

Gov. Curtin said that was exactly what he was after.

"Well, sir," said Stanton, "a man who professes to be loyal to the Government ought to be ashamed to make such a reasonable suggestion." Curtin is an irascible gentleman, and he left in a choleric condition, and immediately after he got home he received from the Secretary a dispatch about as follows:

"In the interest of loyalty to the Government and speedy suppression of the rebellion, you should resign at once and retire to private life, which you should never have left." Curtin replied to the Secretary:

"In the interest of humanity you should die and go to hell where you ought to have gone long ago."
