Digest of Opinions of the Supreme Court.

Raleigh News and Observer.

Dempsey vs. Rhodes

1. While the courts have the discretion, they should not encourage the practice of permitting pleadings to be filed at periods subsequent to the term, when in the regular course of the action they should have been filed, it is calculated to produce delay, confusion and dissatisfaction.

2. In an action for the recovery of real property the defendant, upon filing the affidavit and certificate of counsel prescribed in the proviso in section 227 of the Code, is entitled, as a matter of right, to answer, and the court has no discretion in the premise; and whether even a formal order is necessary, quare?

3. In such cases the defendant is not relieved from paying costs, or from recovering them if so adjudged, the statute simply relieving him from giving the undertaking.

4. An equitable counter-claim may be asserted in an answer to a complaint containing a purely legal cause of action, and if not denied by reply or demurrer in apt time, the defendant is entitled to judgment for such relief as the facts therein set forth may warrant, though it be not the relief he demands.

5. Where one advances money to pay the balance on purchase of land, or another, and takes the title to himself, he and those under him hold the legal title in trust for the
