WASHINGTON, D. C., December 7 .-HOUSE.-The chamber of the House of Representatives presented a pleasa complimentary vote for Reed, of ant scene at the opening, the bright red carpet lending an air of cheeri ness and warmth to the hall, which and there groups of members stood chatting and laughing, political animosities being set to one side for the nonce, while new members took ad vantage of the occasion to extend their acquaintance among their older and more experienced colleagues. Apart from the exchange of cordial greetings, the chief topic of conver-

The galleries, as is usual upon the opening day of the session of Con gress, were crowded, with the exception of the executive gallery, which was only partially filled. The major ity of the spectators were ladies.

Precisely at noon the House was called to order by J B. Clark, its clerk, and the first session of the Forty Ninth Congress began. When order was secured the clerk proceeded to call the roll of the members elected. When the State of Nebraska was reached the clerk stated that he was doubtful whether the certifi cates received from that State fully complied with the law But as they were identical with those received in the Forth Seventh and Forty Eighth Congresses, and as there was no protest or contest, he had placed the names of the gentleman whose elecion was thus certified, upon the Van Eaton, of Mississippi, was the first Democrat who was obliged to look for a resting place on 'he Repuplican side, where he was soon joined by Gibson, of West Virginia, and Townshend, of Illinois, the latter of whom was obliged in the last Congress also to take position among his political enemies.

When the drawing for seats had been concluded, Holman, of Indiana, rose and said.

"Mr. Speaker:-The melancholy duty has devolved upon me of an nouncing to the House that Thomas A. Hendricks, Vice President of the United States, at his home in the city of Indianopolis, Indiana, on the 25th day of last month, departed this life. The death of this eminent citizen, after a long period of public service, holding the second office within the gift of the Republic, with a reputation in public and private life of unsullied goodness, has occasioned a widespread expression of grief throughout the whole Republic. Undoubtedly Congress will at an early moment, acting through both of its Houses, provide an occasion for a proper expression touching the life, character and public services of the deceased Out of respect to his mem-ory I move that the House do now adjourn."

The motion was agreed to upanim. ously, and at 3:50 p.m. the House adjourned.

MESSES. ROGERS, PEET & CO. Gentlemen; Having noticed in this morning's Sun your advertisement concerning the Hanan's Waukenphast shoe sold by you, I cannot refain from expressing, unsolicited, my satistaction with a pair which after a year's almost continuous wear, I am just about discarding. I had been as customed to having my shoes made to order, pay-ing from $9 to $13 a pair for the same. Last sum-mer-I mean a year ago---wishing for a pair of shoes at short notice for a trip to the mountains, I stepped into your establishment and purchased a ahoes at short notice for a trip to the mountains, I stopped into your establishment and purchased a pair of Hanan's. For ease and comfort on long tramps in the country I have never had their equal on my feet; while for durability they come about as near to the Irishman's ideal as any thing I ever saw. He said he "didn't care what hind of shoes he had so long as the uppers were indestructible and the soles were madeof eter nity." They have worn out the second sole at the uppers are still perfectly sound and whole. I am glad to add my testimony to their ercel lence, though a total stranger to the Hanan's or board my member of your firm, and you are at iberty to make any use of this communication you may see fit.
