THE LABORING SOLONS.

The Senate Tackles the Electoral Count Bill, and the House Makes the Day out Doing Nothing.

WASHINGTON, January 25.—Mr. George presented credentials of Hon. E. C. Walthall, elected Senator from Mississippi, to fill the unexpired term of Senator Lamar. Mr. Walthall was then sworn in by the President pro tempore of the Senate.

The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Chas. J. Canda to be assistant treasurer of the United States at New York. In executive session today, Edmunds, in behalf of the committee on judiciary, reported a resolution directing the attorney general to furnish the Senate copies of all papers and documents on file in his department relating to the administration of the office of the United States district attorney for the Southern District of Alabama.

The resolution was agreed to without debate. It is understood that these papers are desired by the committee in connection with its consideration of the nomination of John D. Burnett vice Geo. M. Baskins suspended.

It is also understood that request recently made by the committee to the attorney general for papers was returned with a statement that the attorney general had not been instructed by the President to furnish them.

The chair laid before the Senate a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury in compliance with a recent resolution of the Senate, asking for information as to what proportion of bonds called for payment February 1st, 1886, are held by the national banks as basis for circulation.

The letter was read. It states the amount of such bonds so held at $5,099,850.

Hoar submitted to the committee on rules the proposed new rule requiring that on motion to adjourn the Senate to a day other than the next legislation day, the question shall be taken by yeas and nays.

In offering the proposed rule Hoar called attention to the large number of important bills left over on adjournment of the last Congress, and the corresponding number of public grievances left consequently unredressed.

A joint resolution from the House was placed before the Senate for the relief of the North Cheyenne Indians. Upon examination and discussion the spelling of some words in the bill was found to be wrong.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the electoral count bill, and Morgan took the floor. He characterized Sherman's proposed amendment as entirely new.

The Senate proceeded to the consideration of the electoral count bill, and Morgan took the floor. He characterized Sherman's proposed amendment as entirely new. It would usurp, he said, into the hands of Congress a power that was not given to Congress by the Constitution.

Correspondent of the Atlantic Constitution.

I happened to be in the president's office the other day when Senators Camden and Kenia came in. A dozen gentlemen were already present, but senatorial dignity received due and instant recognition.

"No," was the cool response, "I am a liar myself."

Both senators laughed heartily at this sally of executive humor.

"Give you a reason for compulsion?" "Why of course I will. I am cured of rheumatism, which has kept me en-laved for twenty years, by using Serravallo's Tonic, which cost me only 25 cents."
