HENDRICKS EULOGIUMS IN THE SENATE.

The House Again Calling the Roll of States for the Introduction of Bills.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20.—This being the day appointed for Senate address in memoriam of the late Vice President Hendricks, the galleries of the Senate began to fill at an early hour when, therefore, at noon, President pro tempore Sherman called the Senate to order all the seats in the galleries were occupied, the larger portion of occupants being ladies. The chairman laid before the Senate a letter from the Secretary of the Treasury, relating to the payment of salaries of the collectors of customs, not confirmed by the Senate, and also a letter stating that the information called for by the recent resolution paid under the French and Spanish treaties, could be most speedily furnished by the State Department.

The letters were appropriately referred. Voorhees then called up his resolution, expressive of the Senate's deep sense of public loss in the death of the late Vice President Hendricks. After hearing speeches of Voorhees, Hampton, Sherman, Saulsbury, Everts, Ransom, Spooner, Vest and Harriarop, in memory of the late Vice President Hendricks, the Senate adopted the commemorative resolutions submitted by Voorhees, and at 3:10 p. m., adjourned.

House.—Pursuant to order of the House made yesterday, the Speaker proceeded to call the roll of States under which a number of bills and resolutions were introduced, and referred.

Among them were the following: By Davidson, of Fla., to make Tampa a port of entry.

By Dougherty, of Fla., to investigate the issue of fraudulent land warrants, and to protect soldiers and sailors from loss therefrom.

By Townsend, of Ills., proposing a constitutional amendment providing that the President and Vice-President shall be elected by a majority of the people, abolishing the electoral college, and relating the method of counting votes by the two houses of Congress.

By Swinburne, of N. Y., declaring the silver dollar a legal tender.

By Merriman, of New York, to enforce the 8 hour law.

By Caldwell, of Tenn., to prohibit the importation of pauper labor.

By Willis, of Ky., providing that in the employment of labor on public works, preference shall be given to citizens of the United States, and prohibiting the employment of convict labor.

How Two Young Ladies Froze to Death in Kansas.

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Jan. 25.—A letter has been received from T. O. Kirk, now of Clark county, Kans., by his parents in Sampsel township, in this county, giving particulars of the manner in which the Misses Houcher, late of this county, met their death in the recent great storm in that section. The letter is dated Appleton, Kans., January 8th, and reads as follows:

"Some of us are still surviving the late blizzard and some are dead. Mahala and Eliza Bloucher both froze to death, and their mother laid by their side, but is still alive. The storm was so angry looking that they got scared and undertook to go to their brother's and froze at 5 o'clock P. m. and made it all right as far as the fence around their brother's yard. The old lady gave out about half way on the road and the girls had to carry her, and they soon gave out. They were awful warm when they reached the wire fence, under which they crawled to save distance. Their wraps got caught in the bars and it pulled off all their head wrappings. The cold then chilled their brain, and they never gained their feet again. It was not yet dark, but owing to the weather their brother had not ventured out of doors, consequently could not hear them calling for help. Mahala crawled nearly to the house and perished in the snow. Eliza remained with her mother and froze by her side. The old lady lived through the night, and when her son opened his door at sun up he heard her groaning. He carried her in and jumping on a horse, came after Billy (Bloucher) and myself. When we arrived we carried the girls in. God forbid that I should ever witness another such a scene.

A Fatal Fire in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Jan. 26.—A fire this morning at Orleans and Linder streets, destroyed three buildings. Fred Schmidt, a German living in the rear of his grocery was burned to death.

The Testimony of a Physician. James Beecher, M. D., of Stourmy, Iowa, says: "For several years I have been using a Cough Balsam, called DR. Wm. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and in almost every case throughout my practice I have had entire success. I have used and subscribed hundreds of bottles since the time of my army practice (1875), when I was surgeon of Hospital No. 1, Louisville, Ky."

PENNSYLVANIA.

The St. Cloud Hotel Burned.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., January 26.—The five story brick building, 715, 717 and 719 Arch street was discovered on fire at 12:35 this morning. The alarm was sounded but the fire had evidently been burning some time, and when the firemen arrived the whole building was in flames. The fire quickly communicated to 721 and the heat became so intense that the firemen had great difficulty in reaching the building with streams of water. The guests in the St. Cloud Hotel had retired for the night and aroused by cries of fire, rushed from their rooms, partially dressed into corridors and down stairs to the office. They were soon quieted when they found out that the fire was in the adjoining building and that there was no immediate danger. The fire spread to 712, 714 and 716 and then across the street to the Harris building, but was prevented from spreading further by the firemen who directed several streams on the building. Nos. 723 and 725 were entirely burned out. Shortly after two a. m. it was evident that the St. Cloud hotel was doomed as a great volume of heavy dark smoke came pouring through the fifth floor front windows. During the early stages of the fire, and before it had reached the hotel, the police ran through the latter building to awaken the guests who had not previously been warned. Some of them were too sleepy to arouse and the officers were compelled to break in a few of the doors to get the people out. There was a great scarcity of water and the firemen were almost helpless in consequence. For a long time only one stream could be directed upon the fire from the front of the hotel, and it seemed as though it was practically useless to attempt to stay the ravages of the flames. By 3 a. m. the cornice and a portion of the top story of the hotel had fallen into Arch street, sending up myriads of cinders. At 3:45 a. m. the fire was under control. The loss will reach about a half million dollars. The principal individual losses as far as ascertained, are estimated as follows:

Monroe, Brothers & Co., shoes, $50,000; Lehman & Bolton, lithographers, $100,000; St. Cloud Hotel and furniture, $160,000; W. H. Butler, lithographer, $50,000; T. Gutekunst, photographer, $15,000; May & Bro's, millinery, $20,000; Schroeder & Hillary, kid gloves, $15,000; Geo. S. Harris & Son, printers, $10,000; London House, $15,000; A. Rice, millinery, $7,000; Gallagher & Casey, leather goods, $10,000.

An Accessory to a Murder Surrenders Himself.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Jan. 26.—At two o'clock this afternoon Milton Weston, who was convicted of being accessory to the murder of Obadiah Hay, maker, who was killed during the Murrayville riots, appeared in the sheriff's office with his bondsman, and gave himself up. He was placed in the custody of the sheriff by order of Judge Bailey, and will be taken to Riverside penitentiary at once, to undergo sentence of five years' imprisonment. It is understood that petitions for his pardon are already in circulation.

ENGLAND.

A Dissolution of the British Cabinet Imminent.

LONDON, Jan. 26.—Sir Michael Hicks Beach, the Conservative leader, gave notice to the House of Commons this afternoon that the government would introduce on Thursday a bill to suppress the Irish National League and other dangerous societies; to prevent intimidation, to protect life and property and to maintain public order in Ireland. This announcement was greeted with loud cheers. Sir Michael said he would ask the House to give the bill precedence. He added that this measure would be followed by a bill dealing with the Irish land question on the line of policy indicated by the land purchase act of the last session. An urgent appeal has been issued by the Tories to the Conservative members of Parliament to be present and participate in divisions to take place to night, as defeat will involve the resignation of the Cabinet.

THE GOVERNMENT DEFEATED.

In the House of Commons tonight Parnell moved that debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne have precedence over a bill to suppress the National League of which Sir Michael Hicks Beach gave notice. This motion was strongly opposed by Sir Michael. Parnell later withdrew his motion. The notice given by the Conservative leader of the Government's intention to introduce a bill to suppress the National League was greeted by the Parnellites with cries of "cowards," "shame," and with ironical laughter. The uproar continued for some minutes. Mr. Collins moved his amendment to his address. Gladstone strongly supported Collins' amendment and the Marquis of Hartington opposed it.

Sir Michael Hicks Beach said that the government would willingly accept the discretion of the House as they had assumed office with reluctance and would resign without regret. The amendment was adopted by a vote of 339 to 250 and the government was defeated.

Commissioner for the Southern Pool.

CINCINNATI, O., January 26.—It has been settled by conference between General Manager Gault, of Queen & Crescent, and President Smith, of the Louisville & Nashville road, and all other roads agreeing by previous correspondence, that J. R. Ogden, general freight agent of the Tennessee Valley & Georgia Railroad, shall be the commissioner of the Southern Pool. It is understood he will accept.

USURPATION IN OHIO.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE SENATE OVERRIDES THE MAJORITY.

Disgraceful Scenes in the Hall of Legislation.—The Republican Minority Attempt to Oust Enough Democrats to Make Themselves the Majority.—The Senate Split in Two.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, January 25.—The Republican members of the Ohio Senate continued in session from 10 o'clock this morning, and it was their intention to have adjourned at 4 p. m., unless the Democrats put in an appearance. As the latter hour approached and it had been learned that a majority of the members would be there on time, the Senate Chamber filled up rapidly. Half an hour before the joint meeting all available space had been appropriated. Among the spectators was a large number of local politicians of both parties, each one claiming that the other had the hall packed for an emergency. There was plenty of anxiety and any number who were ready to fight at a moment's warning. The sergeant at arms took advantage of the situation before the arrival of the Democratic members to clear the floor. As the majority members filed in they were greeted with applause by the Republicans, who apparently construed their presence into an admission of defeat. The sergeant at arms soon quieted the demonstration, and the tactics of Friday afternoon were proceeded with. The call of the Senate showed all of the members present, and a motion to dispense with further proceedings under the call would not be entertained by the chair, he holding that the call had exhausted itself by the presence of all the members. Over an hour was spent in discussing an appeal from his decision, which was afterwards withdrawn, and the chair allowed the motion to dispense with further proceedings to be voted upon. There was no apparent point to be gained either way on the contest over this motion. In the flood of subsequent motions and appeals which followed the Republicans were insisting on the order of the day and endeavoring to get the contest cases before the Senate, while the Democrats were engaged in an effort to get before the body a resolution which had been agreed upon in caucus, proposing the appointment of a committee to consider the constitutional and legal relations existing between the Senate and its presiding officer. Pavey (Rep.) had been recognized and was to report the rules for the trial of the contest cases, when a motion was made on the Democratic side to adjourn. The chair held this and several other motions of a dilatory nature not to be in order.

Pavey yielded the floor to Cable (Democrat) for a question of privilege, and the member was proceeding to state his question and making the Democratic cause, resolution part of the same, but the Chair held that nothing was in order except the rules in the contested cases. The Democrats being unable to get their resolution before the Senate, a final motion was made to adjourn and a demand made by the Democrats that the clerk proceed with the roll call. The President at first endeavored to drown the voice of the clerk with the gavel but finally became quiet and the roll was called, twenty-six members voting for adjournment. The Democratic members rose from their seats and walked out, while the clerk handed the roll call to the President to be announced. That official tore it in several pieces and threw it on the floor, while a crowd surged in front of the railings, and the greatest confusion and violent demonstration prevailed. The clerks all left their places and, as soon as partial order could be restored, the President read the rules himself, which had been offered by Senator Pavey. With one of the Senator's at the clerk's desk, the Republican minority voted on the rules, and they were declared adopted.

In results the Senate proceedings were about where they were this morning. A Democratic adjournment was taken to Wednesday at 4 p. m., and the Republicans until tomorrow morning. The affair is pronounced disgraceful by all unprejudiced minds here.

TEXAS.

Smallpox at San Antonio.

GALVESTON, Jan. 25.—A San Antonio special says: Although the sanitary authorities declare that smallpox is not epidemic, there are about thirty cases in various portions of the city. The disease is confined chiefly to the Mexican population. This evening a quack calling himself the Diamond King, who has been selling various nostrums, was stricken down with the disease. His tent, containing twenty-eight persons, has been quarantined, and a vigilant watch will be placed to prevent people from approaching it.

ALABAMA.

Big Fire at Opelika, Loss Fifty Thousand Dollars.

COLUMBUS, Ga., January 26.—In formation has just reached here of a disastrous fire at Opelika, Ala. It broke out about six o'clock this morning, and five or six stores were burned. The loss is thought to be about $50,000.

Domesticating the Ostrich.

Twenty-four ostriches were recently shipped from Cape Town, Africa, to San Diego, Cal. The ostrich is a tough creature and can take into its stomach all sorts of indigestible things. And yet nobody ever heard of an ostrich having grippe. A human being who trilled with the stomach is sure to have dyspepsia, and it need. Brown's Iron Pills to see him right. Dr. Fennell, of St. Joseph, Mo., is one of the many who writes that "Brown's Iron Pills cured me of dyspepsia, gave me a hearty appetite, and increased my weight."

GREECE.

The British Minister not Courteous in His Language.

ATHENS, Greece, January 26.—The government organ asserts that Sir Horace Rumbold, the British Minister, in imparting to the Greek government, Premier Salisbury's note informing Greece of England's attitude, used language tending to break the relations existing between England and Greece.

LONDON.—The people of Athens, through a committee, have telegraphed to Gladstone as follows: "We place in your hands the Hellenic cause, with the firm hope that it will find in you a generous champion." Gladstone in response telegraphed: "Considering the authority attaching to the action of the powers, both on general grounds, and by reason of their intervention for the information of the Greek kingdom, I earnestly hope Greece will pause before placing herself, on this occasion, in conflict with their deliberate and united recommendation."

ATHENS.—NOON.—The cabinet meeting, with the King presiding, is now in session, discussing the political situation. New regiments are being rapidly formed for active service.

LONDON.—A British Mediterranean fleet, under Admiral Lord John Hay, has been ordered to Piraeus, the port of Athens.

ATHENS.—The Greek fleet has departed from Hires to avoid being blockaded by the British fleet. The Greek fleet comprises 33 ships, including two ironclads and six gunboats. Seven Turkish ironclads are cruising in the vicinity of Prevesa Epieus, on the north side of the entrance to the Gulf of Arta.

LONDON.—A dispatch from Vienna to the Times says that Lord Salisbury's note to Greece was due to the fact that he had heard that Greece was about to issue letters of marque to privateers. It is reported that the finances of Greece are not in a flourishing condition.

The public is chary to subscribe to a patriotic loan. The Greek minister has been interviewed in reference to the possibility of a war between Greece and Turkey. He denied that the government of Greece had any intention of issuing letters of marque. In the event of hostilities breaking out, his government, he said, had a sufficient number of vessels to cope with Turkey, without resorting to such an extreme measure. Greece had no desire to follow the Alabama experiences in England.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from our own family. It has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child. It is not finished with the teething stage on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists. 26 cents a bottle.

FOOLING WITH A MACHINE.

Human Curiosity Used as a Method of Advertising Cough Drops.

New York.—It was on the public square on Canal street, New Orleans. A young man had a rude stand covered with packages of candy, and a couple of "kerosene" torches lighted up the darkness around him. Near him was a piece of furniture hard to describe. There was an armchair, a cot, a table, and some sort of machinery concealed under the chair; there was a bell which kept ringing, the sound of a music box hidden away; and now and then a drum beat and a faint bagpipe blast. When a dozen or more spectators had gathered near, the young man opened a package of candy, and said: "T-w-o packages of these cough drops for only two-cents, and please don't fool with the machine!"

When he had repeated this statement in a sing-song manner about twenty times, a white man came along, halted, and queried: "What machine do you refer to?" "T-w-o packages for ten cents, and please don't fool with the machine!"

"Mighty fraud of your old machine, it appears!" growled the man as he approached the object. "I'm down here from Illinois to attend this great world's show, and if there is anything new in machinery I want to see it."

"What was she built for, anyhow?" The young man didn't seem to see him. He kept his eyes on the crowd of dark faces in front of him and monotonously repeated: "T-w-o packages for ten cents—only ten cents, and don't fool with the machine!"

"Who's bin foolin' with it?" muttered the man from Illinois. "Don't be so peart over your old invention! I'm none on patents myself, and I believe this 'ere thing is a fraud, either as a 'tater digger or a corn sheller. What did yer sling her together fer, anyhow?"

"And it's t-w-o packages for only ten cents, and don't fool with the machine!" called the vender, as he waved a package high in air.

"Nobody wants to fool with it, as I know on!" remarked the Illinoisan. "However, I'm goin' to see what the darned thing is if I have to lick yer to do it! Reckon it must be a sort of rocking chair. Wouldn't her show operate?"

"Cures your cough in half an hour, and don't fool with the machine!" drawled the young man, as he made change for a quarter.

"Who's a foolin'?" snapped the man as he approached closer. "If this is a new thing in rocking chairs, I'm goin' to know it, or my name ain't Grandy. Here goes to try it!"

"As I have been sayin'," remarked the young man, "I give you t-w-o packages for ten cents, and—" There was a wild yell from the crowd and a rush. The man from Illinois had no sooner seated himself, than he jumped two feet high, pitched forward, and rolled head over heels in the dust, while a bell rang, a drum beat, and a bugle blew: "Toot! toot! toot!" The young man never turned his head. Not a soul was left in front of him, but he monotonously continued:

"T-w-o packages for ten cents, and don't fool with the machine!"

"And I warrant 'em to cure your cough in half an hour! Who takes the next package, and please don't fool with the machine!"

The Illinoisan got up after a moment, brushed off some of the dust and dirt, and then hastened around to the rude counter and fiercely shouted:

"You are an infernal liar and deceiver! Come out here and I'll mop ye over two acres of ground in three minutes! You put up that job a-purpose on me! Come out and be licked!"

There was laughing and shouting and a great uproar, but the young man never changed countenance, never cast a look at the man as he waved a package in each hand and sang out:

"Sure to cure consumption in its first stages! T-w-o packages for ten cents—don't fool with the machine!"

The victim backed off, cursing and blowing, and as he reached the sidewalk he shook his fist in a vigorous manner and shouted: "I'll lick ye, if I have to wait 100 years!"

And the reply came back: "Warranted the best in the market, and don't fool with the machine!"

Where Capt. Kidd Would Have Failed. (Spirit of the Times.) In one of New York's trotting towns years ago, Splan and Dan Mace were campaigning together. The race was one which Dan desired to win, and he and Splan had taken tickets that way. A third party in the race, whom we will call Johnston, had been consulted, and he agreed to come in. Mace wins the first and second heat, then Johnston wins the next two. He was again consulted, but declared himself out. Mace argued their agreement, but of no avail, so he goes to Splan and says: "We must win it ourselves, Johnston is out."

"We kin win it," says Splan. They got the word with Johnston at the pole, Splan alongside, and Mace trailing. About the three-quarter pole Splan's sulky got hooked to Johnston's wheel in some way, and Mace won the heat. Mace and Splan both entered the stand at once and protested Johnston's foul driving. He drove to the start, and without leaving his sulky, said, with an appealing look, while stroking his long gray beard, "Great Scott, Judges, Capt. Kidd on the high seas, in his best days, would stand no chance with these fellows."

Filly. (Norfolk Herald.) The petrified skeleton of a whale, over thirty feet long, has been found on a range of mountains in Monterey, Cal., over 8,000 feet above sea level. Local scientists are undecided whether the big fish, when alive, fell out of a balloon and landed on the mountains, or crawled up there and died of mortification after hearing a fish story told by a California fisherman. Both theories are plausible enough.

Know When to Call. (French Joke.) In the ante-room of a minister of state, "Is the under-secretary of state in his office?" "Yes, sir; but when he is in he doesn't receive anybody."

"All right; I'll come some day when he isn't in."
