BULLETS FLYING.

THE WOMEN WEEPING AND WRINGING THEIR HANDS.

The War of Labor--Yesterday's Battles in St. Louis-Nine Strikers and One Guard Killed, a Woman Mortally Wounded and

Many People Hurt. ST. Louis, April 9. Master Me-chanic Bartlett, of the Missouri Pacific Railroad, yesterday sent to 23 of the firemen who left their engines during the first part of the strike, and have been out since, a notice that their services would no longer be required by the company, and requested the a to call for their pay at his office. This action may possibly result in an agitation among the firemen that will cause the case of these discharged men to be taken up by the Brotherhood, and if that is done the 23 men will either be reinstated by the Company, or there will be a strike of the Brotherhood along the entire system. The Brotherhood has very carefully drawn a contract with the Company, and in this, the cir-cumstances under which firemen may be discharged are plainly relat-The firemen in this strike have persistently claimed that they were not on a strike, but had left their engines because they thought it safer to do so than to stay on them-, A crowd of strikers formed at the relay depot in East St. Louis, at 1:45 o'clock this afternoon and advanced in the direction of the railroad yards to stop work by the new men em-ployed there. They were met by a guard of deputies who ordered them to disperse. The mob refused and made a rush for the yards, when the deputies leveled their Winchesters and fired, killing three of the strik-

The guards stationed at the Louisville and Nashville yards, near Broadway fired into a crowd of 300 strikers at 2:30 this afternoon. Six men men and one woman was shot. Four of the men were killed and the woman is supposed to be mortally wounded.

The killed are: Pat Driscoll, an employ of the water works, and not a striker; Oscar Washington, painter; John Bohman, a water works laborer, and not a striker; T. E. Phomptom and Major Richman shot in the head and shoulder, and will probably die. Mrs. John Phieffer was shot in the back and is probably mortally wounded. An unknown man was shot at the bridge approach.

The crowd had made no attack on the yards, as was first reported, but the Louisville and Nashville yards, jeering at the guards, when, without the slightest apparent provocation the deputies leveled their rifles and fired two volleys. The crowd immediately separated, running in all directions, and the deputies ran over Cahokia bridge toward the Mississip pi river bridge, still holding their rifles and firing to cover their retreat. When it was known by the strikers that the guards had fled, the former returned to recover their dead. The crowd, after the firing began, ran up Broadway, shouting: "To arms; we will get guns and re-turn the fire." Women and children ran out of their houses and met them in the streets weeping and wringing their hand.

After the crowd returned to the scene and the excitement had abated. saveral of the leading strikers drew their revolvers and swore that they would drive all the deputies out of the city, if at the less of their own lives. In the stampede which followed the first volley from the rifles of the deputies, one man, name un known, was forced from Capokia Creek bridge and killed. His body has not yet been recovered.

3:15 p. m.-The deputies who did the shooting, eight in number, went to the third district police station in this city and surrendered themselves and were taken to four courts, where they were taken into custody and were relieved of their arms,

They say the crowd began firing into them first, and that they simply returned the fire. After the first firing was over and the strikers had become beat on revenge, a number of them armed themselver with revolvers and advanced on the Ohio & Mississippi Railroad yards where they surprised the deputies on guard and fired into them, killing one. The greatest excitement now prevails in East St. Louis and the strikers are fast arming themselves and seem determined to avenge the death of those of their number so wantonly slain, as mittee of the Knights of Labor, are on the scene attempting to persuade them to meet in Flannigan's hall, where they desired to advise them against any further violence. The men refuse, however, to meet them, claiming that they will be surrounds ed by deputies and fired upon again. A mass meeting of strikers, however, is being held is front of the city hall and the men, with difficulty, restrained by their leaders from advancing in a body upon the different railroad yards and attacking the deputies of

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. -Between midnight and 1 o'clock this morning Deputy Sheriff Williams, who has had charge of the force of deputies guarding the St. Louis round house and machine shops, at Argenta, opposite this city, was approached by F H. Darby, a leading Knight of Labor, and notified to take his force away or they would be put Williams said: "I'll take you in now," and taking Darby locked him up in one of the rooms.

Just then the outlines of 30 or 40 men were seen a short distance away and Williams ordered them out, say ing that he was there to guard the property and would do it if he fell in his tracks.

Some one from the crowd replied:
"Well then, die," and irregular shooting between the deputies and the assilants began. Probably a hundred shots were fired and Williams was dangerously wounded by a bullet in the right side and one or two other lesser wounds in other portions of the body. The mob soon after fied. It is recovered that several men were wound.

KNOXVILLE, April 9.—Three hundred and fifty miners are on a strike in the mines fifty miles north of Knoxville. They struck after being refused an increase of wages. The strike extends to Standard, Woodridge and Jellico mines and will probably spread to all other mines on the Knoxville & Ohio Railroad. Seven miners are still at work in the Standard mines and are threatened with death by the strikers if they do not quit work. ENDED SATISFACTORILY. PITTSBURG, Pa, April 9—The strike at McClure's Coal Works at Everson, Pennsylvania, has ended satisfactorily to the miners. The firm granted all demands, and work was resumed today. About one thousand men were affected.

LAREDO'S REQUIEMS.

The Bells Tolling as the Dead Are Borne Away .- All New Quiet. GALVESTON, April 9.—A special to the News from Laredo says: At day-light yesterday morning, the Federal troops withdrew from the city, no disturbance whatever having occurred during the night. By eight a m. the city had apparently assumed its usual business aspect, and the day passed quietly. Since the dispersion of the rioters Wednesday evening by the United States troops not an armed citizen has been seen on the streets. Bitter feeling, however, exists between the two political parties, and the least overt act would fan it into a flame. All afternoon the bells in the Catholic church were tolling sad requiems as the bodies of the victims of Wednesday's fight work conveyed to the graveyard. The following is the comple list of killed: Estrevan Hernandy, Librado Guerra, Richard Gourales, Roman Rodrigues, Mexicans, and C. Burdette and Gergeric Sanchez, Americans Twelve wounded men were found yesterday. at least four of whom are thought to be mortally injured.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 8, '86. To the Secretary of the Treasury, Washington, D C.:

The Department letter of the 23d ult, was promptly communicated to the Surveyor, with instructions to accord all facilities to the Chinese Embassy. They were speedily landed without identification or evidence of their official character, and without credentials, as required by Section 13 of the Restriction Act. The local executive com- arrest today was arraigned in court and admitted to bail in $25,000. Adv dison Commack, a prominent Wall street broker, became his bondsman. The indictment bears the name of Charles B Waite as the only witness before the grand jury. It charges Richmond with the crime of bribery. It sets forth that on June 30th, 1884, the petition of the Broadway Surface Railroad Company was before the board of aldermen and that James A. Richmond on June 12th, well knowing that said petition was about to be presented to the common conneil, did deloniously offer and cause to be of fered to one, Alderman Waite, a large amount of money.

Richmond lived at the Brevoort House when Waite was owner of the hotel. and the alderman's confession makes him out chief manager of the boodle business, who put Waite up to all the tricks and jobs by which the franchise steal was accomplished.

SENATOR MILLER'S SUCCES-SOR SEATED.

Eustis's Amendment Killed .- Cox, of North Carolina Objects to Resolutions Sympathizing with Gladstone.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—SENATE.— Stanford submitted the credentials of Hon. Geo. Hearst, appointed by the government of California United States Senator until the next meeting of the legislature of that State, vice Senator Jno. F. Miller, deceased. The credentials having been read, the new Senator was escorted to the desk by Stanford, when President pro tempore Sherman administered the oath of office to Hearst. Mr. Hearst then took his seat on the Democratic side of the Chamber, on the extreme right of the Chair.

A resolution was offered by Allison, agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information relating to balances of certain appropriations which have been exhausted or carried to the surplus fund.
Riddleberger called up Platt's resohaving understood, he said, that Platt intended yesterday to have it made the special order for Monday, but he saw no indication of such action having been taken yesterday.

Platt said he was ready at any time to present his views on the subject, and was as anxious as anybody that it should be taken up early. He hoped the business of the Senate would permit his calling it up on Monday next. The matter was, after lution relating to executive sessions, some further remarks, dropped.

Some time was spent in discussing. but without action, the House bill providing for free transmission through the mails of meteorological reports. Frye then took the floor and addressed the Senate in support of the resolution heretofore supported by him in relation to fisheries. The resolution declares it to be the sense of the Senate that Congress ought not to provide for the appointment of the commission in which the governments of the United States and Great Britain should be represented, charged with the consideration and settlement of the fishing rights of the two governments on the coasts of the United States and British America. Frye quoted President Cleveland's recommendation in his annual message that Congress provide for the appointment of a joint commission representing the United States and Great Britain "charged with the consideration and settlement upon a just, equitable and hons orable basis, of the entire question of the fishing rights of the two govern-ments and their respective citizens on the coasts of the United States and British North America." This he condemned and also the subsequent action of the State De partment in line with the President's suggestion. Secretary Bayard, he said, had failed to consult the representatives of the American fishing interest, but had taken counsel only with the enemy, meaning the British Minister at Washington, and the Canada minister of fisheries.

Morgan defended the Administration. He did not understand the President's suggestion to propose a commission which by its action, should conclude all questions between two governments. It was negotiation that was proposed by the President. Frye remarked that in that case the President's language was unfortunately chosen. Morgan said it had been misinterpreted. The Washington Territory admission bill was then placed before the Senate, the pending question being on Eustis' proposed amendment hm. iting the right of suffrage in the proposed new State to qualified male electors only.

At 6:15 Eustis' amendment was brought to a vote and rejected. yeas 12, nays 25. The yeas were Beck, Berry, Coke, Eustis, Gorman, Gray, Ingails, Jackson, Maxey, Pugh, Saulsbury and Walthail. A number of pairs were announced-Morgan among them. Among the Senators voting against Eustis' amendments was Edmund's. The Senate at 6:15 p. m., adjoured until tomorrow.

The House went into committee of the whole on the private calendar. Several bills were agreed to, when the committee ran against a snag in the shape of a bill directing the Quartermaster-General to settle with the McMinville & Manchester Railroad Company, of Tennessee. The amount involved is $246,000, and a long discussion ensued upon the measure, but no action was taken. The committee then rose. O'Neill, of Missouri, asked unanimous consent for the present consideration of the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the United States earnestly sympathizes with the right of Hon. William Gladstone and his associated in their efforts to se cure a free Parliament for the people of Ireland, and congratulate the people of that hitherto unhappy country on the prospect of an early and successful termination of their long and patriotic struggle for the right of loyal self government.

Jarandria (Va) Garatte According to statements of fisher According to statements of fishermen, the prospects for the catch of shad and herring this season are at present very gloomy. Very few of the fish landings have been rented this year, as fishermen are unwilling to make the necessary outlay. From twenty to thirty years ago almost fabulous sums used to be paid for these landing places, and much for these landing places, and much money used to be made by the lessees. For the pest five years, how-ever, there has been a gradual falling off in the catch of both shad and herring, and large losses have been sus-tained by the lessees of fishing shores. Thus far but few shores have been leased this year. Out of all the heretofore valuable property of this kind,
the most important that are being fished this year are Windmill Point, by Captain Ewing, and "the Gums," by the widow of the late Capt. Jerry Robb. The pound and gill nets have largely taken the place of seins. Thousands of them are scattered all over the Potomac river and its inlets. Some fishermen, a few days ago, dropped a sein at Chapel Point, near Mt. Vernon, but not a shad was caught. Lately a few thousand herring have been secured, and at present they show signs of increasing in numbers, but few shad are found. The river is high, the currents swift and muddy, to which is attributed the present state of affairs. It appears from all accounts that while fish are disappearing from the Poto mac river, they are more numerous in other rivers further south. Favorable accounts are heard from Baltis more and from the rivers in North and South Carolina, which tends to show that there must be some un-known cause which is driving the fish from the river. Some of the fishermen attribute the scarcity of fish in the Potomac to the manufacture of gas in Washington, Georgetown and this city, as the water, they claim, is mixed with offensive chemical materials which the fish avoid. Other causes are named. Some think the exceedingly soiled condition of the water keeps the fish back. Since the improvements in Washington harbor have been going on, the water has been constantly disturbed and the currents changed, making the river muddy all the way down to the bay. High Point, Stony Point and Ferry Landing shores, and most of the shores further up stream and below High Point, on both sides of the river, have been abandoned. The river is alive with the pound net men, and they say that they can make more money by using the pound nets, as they have fewer expenses than with a large outfit. The Gibsons, Neitzevs, Stewarts and most of the larger fishermen have abandoned their seines and taken up the gill and pound nets. Almost any man can make up an outfit now with from $5 to $25 capital and a rowboat The falling off in the carch of fish in the river during the past ten years has been great

The Gamblers of Monte Carlo. Says a Paris letter to the Sun Francisco Chronicle: The hangerson comprise men and women of all kinds, spies, cappers, persons who lend money to those who have lost on watches and jewelry, and these who follow numerous other nameless occupations. Those who patronize the games are chiefly English and Russians, among whom are the principal scaudals arising from lost fortunes and unpaid debts. The Czar is often called upon by members of noble families to forbid their relatives to visit Monaco, where they have already lost the greater part of their fortunes. They have been Russian Princesses who have spent half their lives at the Casion, only ceasing their visits when old age or disease rendered the dissipation impossible. English people, who had lost their fortune, have been known to leave their children at a hotel as a security for the bill, while they returned home to seek means of payment, and, not returning to seek them, the landlerd has found it necessary to take them to London. Americans resident at Nice, visit Monaco with the rest and lose money, but are seldom utterly ruined. They rarely, so far as known, increase the list of suicides. But Nice is in its decadence. Not more than half the usual number of guests were there this winter, and its hotels are nearly all ruined.

Feeling in New York on the Home Bule.

NEW YORK, April 9 -Not only among the Irishmen, but among all nationalities in this city today, Gladston's proposed scheme for home rule in Ireland as expressed in his speech yesterday is the general top c of discussion. It appears to meet with general approval. Irish-men who have taken prominent lead in the land league and national league movements, think it is one that can be accepted by the Irish people. They do not look upon it as a finality, but the majority seem willing to content themselves for the present, at least, with what is offered in it. It does not give all that they desire, but they express the opinion that it is more likely to be successful than if more were now demanded. Whatever objection may be found to some of its details, they say, it is a step in the right direction and praise is everywhere accorded to Gladstone's courage.
