RED COMMUNISM.

ANARCHISTS AND SOCIALISTS

Blood Flows Like Water on the Streets of Chicago--Business Stagnated--Dynamite Bombs Used With Fearful Effect--Leading Socialists Arrested and Confined.

CHICAGO, May 5.—The anarchists of Chicago inaugurated in earnest last night, a reign of lawlessness which they have threatened and endeavored to incite for years. They threw a bomb into the midst of a line of 200 police officers, and it exploded with fearful effect, mowing them down like grass. Almost before the middle of death had exploded, the anarchists directed a murderous fire from revolvers upon the police, as if their action was prearranged, and as the latter were hemmed in on every side—surrounded—the effect of the fire upon the ranks of the officers was fearful. When the police had recovered from the first shock of the attack they gallantly charged upon the anarchists, shooting at every step and mowing them down as their fellow officers had been mowed down by the bomb. The anarchists fled in dismay before the charge, but everywhere they turned the withering fire from the revolvers of the policemen followed them and thinned their ranks. The cowardly curs hiding that their attack did not completely annihilate the officers, and that a force was large enough to come with them was left, they fled in all directions, seeking the darkness of alleys and hall ways and side streets to escape the revengeful police. The collision between the police and anarchists was brought about by the leaders of the latter, August Spies, Sam Fielden and A. R. Parsons, endeavoring to incite a large mass meeting to riot and bloodshed.

From the socialist headquarters there issued late in the afternoon the following circular which was distributed throughout the laboring quarters of the city by thousands:

"Attention, Workmen.—A great mass meeting tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Haymarket, Randolph street, between Desplaines and Halsted. Good speakers will be present to denounce the latest atrocious act of the police, and the shooting down of our fellow workmen yesterday afternoon.

(Signed) EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

At 8 o'clock a large crowd had gathered on Desplaines street, just north of Randolph in a dimly lighted spot, near which were many wagons and trucks. August Spies was the first speaker, and after a long, rambling talk on the labor problems, he asked: "What means this display of gauding guns, cannon, bayonets, patrol wagons and clubs? What means the calling out of the first regiment? Is it an entertainment for you gentlemen. The demand of the McCormick men were reasonable, and yet McCormick denies that he is responsible for the bloodshed of yesterday. I say he is responsible for the blood of our brothers. (A voice—Put him under the lake. A rope is better.) Don't make useless threats, my friends, but when you see ready, back. (A voice—Strike him up. There are 25 or 30,000 families in Chicago suffering starvation today because the husbands and fathers are not men enough to stand up for their rights. Loud cheers for the speaker and the crowd of "lakers" and "ropes" were heard from hoarse throats.

A. R. Parsons was the next speaker. He went into labor statistics largely and defined the difference between the trade unionists and the socialists.

Sam Fielden, a socialistic Englishman, was the next and last speaker. He harangued the mob in a loud, hoarse, raspy way, and asked: "What was the crowd before him? He said, 'we who come here to address you as socialists; rebels to the law. Legislation will never help you, unless it is in the interest of labor, and he tells you that no legislation can be had for the workmen. Can't we find some?'"

Who is the rich man understands that it is not healthy to live among a lot of discontented workmen. We shall be able to get legislation and legislation will help you, if you will. That the mob was in sympathy with his statements was witnessed by the wild applause which was accorded him. While this was going on, Bondfield and Capt. Ward, with nearly two hundred policemen, had been waiting patiently in the station for the socialists to disperse, or to commit some act of lawlessness. When the officers who had been sent to mingle with them returned and reported the temper of the anarchists, both captains came to the conclusion that prompt measures only would avert another serious riot. The order to "fall in" went round among the Lieutenants with lightning rapidity. It was repeated to the men and they jumped into their places with accuracy and precision, prepared for a march on the anarchist headquarters.

There were five companies in all, commanded by the following Lieutenants, in order named: Lieutenants Bowler, Stanton, Hubbard, Penner and Beard. Capt. Bondfield ordered "fall in" and the men marched to a point almost one hundred feet north of Randolph street. When the front of the column reached the speaker's wagon, Capt. Bondfield ordered "fall in" and the men marched to a point almost one hundred feet north of Randolph street.

In the name of the State of Illinois I command this crowd to disperse."

As the words left his mouth a splintering species of fire, which had been hidden under a pile of railroad ties, was discharged to a point almost one hundred feet north of Randolph street. When the front of the column reached the speaker's wagon, Capt. Bondfield ordered "fall in" and the men marched to a point almost one hundred feet north of Randolph street.

It was the burning fuse of a dynamite bomb. It was well aimed in its deadly mission, and fell directly in the middle of the street, and between the two first double columns of the

THE TARIFF QUESTION.

Washington, May 4.—Both sides in the tariff question are playing for advantage. Mr. Randall can be seen any time nursing the doubtful men, and Mr. Morrison is by no means inert. Although the news has been for several days unfavorable for the bill, there are signs that the high tariff advocates are very uneasy and are fearful of trusting their cause to an elaborate debate. One would think after all the boasts of the protectionists that nothing would please them better than a full, frank and extended debate this spring, so that they could go to the country next fall with a record choke full of able and informing speeches. Not so, however. The fact is now developed that the whole programme is to be changed. If the Republican and Democratic enemies of the Morrison-Hewitt bill are in the majority there will be no discussion at all. It is intended to fight the measure on its consideration. This change of front may indicate a policy of simply securing the free vote of that side. It certainly seems to be cowardice in men who have never failed to prate about what they could prove by facts and figures to decline a joust just at the moment when the country was most eager to have one. I hear that not only is the plan of striking out the enacting clause of the bill to be discarded, because it affords opportunity for some discussion, but the vote is to turn on the question whether the House will consider the measure.

I understand that on yesterday Boutelle had a resolution prepared calling for an investigation into the recent meetings in honor of Jefferson Davis, in which the Mr. Boutelle's shiner paid his respects to reason in his usual lurid style. Tom Reed and some of the other Republicans, wiser in their day and generation than Mr. Boutelle, interfered and got him to withhold the resolution on the ground that it would be productive of more harm than good to the party in the present state of the country. A Southerner by my side suggested that Boutelle be called out and induced to offer the resolution forth with. In view of the Albany fiasco this advice is pretty good from a Southern standpoint.
