DEATH LURKS IN A RISS.

A Most Remarkable Case Which is Puzzling the Medical Profession--- How an Old Gentleman Suffering with Pymmia Communicated the Disease to His Grandson.

New Yerk World The death of little Georgie Cutter, the two year-old child of Dr. George R. Cutter, of Bedford avenue and Taylor street, Brooklyn, at the residence of his grandfather, Mr. John D. Prince, in Flatbush, has given rise to much speculation on the part of emi-nent physicians, and the real cause of death will no doubt be the theme of medical debate for years to come. The strange symptoms and suddenness of death make the case a remarkable one Grandfather Cutter, who appears to have been the primary, though of course the innocent cause of the little one's taking off, is well known in New York philanthropic/ circles and has had much to do with the betterment of the condition of State Prison inmates. About six weeks ago Dr. Cutter's mother died of diphtheria, and shortly afterward her husband, who had been ailing her husband, who had been alling with throat and ear troubles, the supposed result of blood poisoning, visited his son, the doctor, at his Bedford avenue residence, for the purpose of obtaining his advice. Mr. Cutter was more dead than alive when he reached his son's house and had to be aided upstairs. Dr. Cutter, Dr. Latham and several other specialists who had been called in saw that there was no hope for the old gentleman and determined that he gentleman and determined that he was a victim of blood poisoning. He died shortly afterward. When he entered the house his two little grandchildren, Essie, aged four years, and Georgia, aged one year and eleven months, ran to meet nim and he took the former into his arms and kissed her. It is not known whether or not he kissed Georgia, but it is thought that he did not. On the day following Essie was taken with the diptheria and from that time up to the present has lingered be-tween life and death. Fearful of re-sults should the disease be communi-cated to Georgia, the parents obtained the services of a trained nurse and sent the little one to its mother's parents' home in Flatbush, This was on Sunday two weeks ago. The lit-tle follow was as lively as a cricket from that time up to Tuesday of last week. A small sore began to work its way through the skin on the right side of the neck. At first it was and caused the little fellow much uneasiness A small plantar was placed more, perhaps, than anything else to obstruct wise legislation Hardly a

cies of rolling stock has been conobstruct wise legislation Hardly a easiness. A small plaster was placed over it to prevent his scratching it. It finally became so painful that he tore the plaster away and made a light incision in it with his nails. As he grew visibly worse minute by minute Dr Homer L. Bartlett, who is a near neighbor of Mr. Prince, was summoned and at once diagnosed the case and announced that the little one had diptheria of the most malignant form. On Wednesday the child grew steadily worse. Dr. Ingraham, a prominent specialist, was called in consultation. Dr. Cutter was also summoned and the three remained at the bedside of the little sufferer until Thursday morning, when Georgie died. The little one was buried in Greenwood on Friday.

The general impression prevails that little Essie was impregnated with the poison by kissing her grand, father and that she afterwards, even before she had shown symptoms of such impregnation, had communicated the disease to her little brother, through kissing him, as the two were constant playfellows and were very seldom out of each other's company. Dr. Bartlett could not be seen yes-terday, but the World reporter saw and had a conversation with Mr. J. D. Price, who said: "I think the case is one of the most remarkable on record. Up to the night when the symptoms began to show themselves we had no thought of danger, and little Georgia had just been removed to my house to avoid any possible, though not anticipated trouble. The first intimation we had of anything wrong was the appearance of the little sore, scarcely larger than a pimple at first, but which spread rapidly. Dr. Bartlett was immediately called in, and other eminent physicians, among them Dr. Ingraham, did all in their power to save him, but without avail. Bartlett said that the poor little fellow's system was thoroughly per-meated with the poison, and that it was one of the worst and strangest cases that he ever saw. Georgie's grandfather Cutter was not especialy suffering from throat trouble, but with trouble of the ears, although his throat was badly inflamed with bronchial affection. It was for the ear trouble that he had visited his son, who is a specialist in eye and ear diseases. It is presumed that when he kissed !little Essie he communicated the disease to her, and that she, in turn, communicated it to her little Dr. Bartlett will communicate the full particulars of the case to the medical fraternity at large in a fu-ture communication to the Regents. Had to Come Down.

Wall Street News The strlking mania reached the 150 girls in a bean picking establishment in Chicago the other day. A committee of three waited on the proprietor, and as they entered the office

"Is it a strike?"

"That depends We have come to demand, not increased pay or shorter hours, but the removal of the paint on the windows, so that we can flirt was seriously injured. removed and the girls sang the song

A six-inch square section of the cuticle of Emma Jacobs, once one of Philadelphia's most notorious females, is, if a Chicago tanner can be males, is, if a Chicago tanner can be believed, in that city, transformed into a piece of coarse buff-colored leather. A dispatch to the Press from Chicago last night states that William H. Pennington, foreman for a firm of hide dealers, has the relic, about which he says: "I can vouch for the fact that it is from the body of the noted Emma Jacobs, of Philadelphia. It was sent me in the raw delphia. It was sent me in the raw state by one of the physicians who dissected the remains. I had it tanned in Milwaukee. It was not properly cured, but that was the fault of those who put it up at the college."

HOLMAN CRIES A HALT.

The Treasury Watch-Dog Scores the Democratic Party for Fatal Extravagance.

Washington, May 25. -"I am at a eratic party when this Congress adjourns, "said Representative Holman, of Indiana, today. "This Congress shows almost as great a desire to increase the appropriations as was ever exhibited by the Republicans. It is an outrage upon the people and violation of every pledge made by the party to bring about the muchneeded reforms so long demanded and promised. Instead of diminish ing the cost of administering the affairs of the government they are being increased. With the exception of the postoffice appropriation bill proper, there has not been a single appropriation which has not been largely increased over that for the present fiscal year. Up to the present time, by the passage of the naval ap-propriation, consular and diplomatic, District of Columbia, river and harbor deficiency bills, independent of the pension and miscellaneous bills, there has been an excess of $23,000,000 over that of the past year.
"We must do something to correct the errors that have been committed, and unless that is done, I do not know what we will have left with which to go before the people in the coming elections. The Republicans now, as in the past, vote for everything in the shape of an increase of expenditures, while there are enough Democrats who vote with them to carry almost everything through. So far the Democrats have not united upon hardly a single proposition, and until that con be done there will be but little hope, I fear, for fulfilling the party's pledges to the people. I am in hopes something can and will be pone to reclaim much of the land granted to railroad corpcrations and restore it to the public domain. This has been promised by the Committee on Public Lands, and the Committee on Public Lands, and I am assured a reorganization will be making the change alone, and two made in the land system. "The President, with whom I have talked frequently upon the subject of extravagance, is by no means pleased with the action Congress has taken. He is particularly desirous that his Administration shall be an economic one, but he has been disappointed, and badly so. Our only hope now is that the President will exercise the proper discretion in his veto power. The social influence of the city does measure of any consequence goes through Congress' without the aid of social influence. It is growing worse and worse every year, and there is no telling when it will end.

"Legislation for the District is controlled almost exclusively through the social channel It permeates every mersure, and at no place is not found retarding conservative and beneficial legislation. The general clamor is for an increase in the cost of maintaining the Government when t has been the policy of the Democratic party to reduce expenses, and now that we have possession of all branches of the Government, the promises so often made should be caried into execution.'

BIG FIRE IN CHICAGO.

Million's Worth of Property Destroyed -- Several Firemen Badly Injured.

CHICAGO, May 26.—A disastrous fire occurred in the large brick and stone structure at the corner of Congress street and Wabash avenue ears ly this morning. The loss will approximate at least $1,000,000. Among the principal losers are the publishers, Belford, Clark & Co., and the large book-bindery firm of Donahue

& Henneberry. The structure in which the fire originated is at the northwest corner of two thoroughfares and is six stories in height,—
The first alarm was turned in shortly after 5 o'clock, but before the ara rival of any fire steamers the flames had burst out of the building with such fierceness as to insure the de-struction of the entire building and its contents. In a short time after the blase was discovered, the building was on fire from top to bottom. It was filled with material of a most inflammable description. The occu-pants were Belford, Clarke & Co., publishers, VanAntwerp, Bogg & Co. in the same business; Donahue & Henneberry, book-binders; R H Peale & Co., lithographers, and the Central Lithographing Co.

Belford, of Belford, Clarke & Co, places his loss at $300,000, many valuables being destroyed. Next door the five story building is owned by O A Slaughter, and occupied by the fur niture firm of R. Deimel & Co. This firm was burnt out a short time ago, and was just going back and had only a small stock on hand. The loss will not exceed $5,000.

The most exciting part of the fire was a panic which occurred among the guests of the Hotel Brunswick, directly opposite the burnt block,-The heat was so intense that every pane of glass in the Wabash avenue front of the hotel was broken, and the sashes and window frames were scorched. The guests, not stopping to dress themselves, fled from the ho-tel. The loss by heat and water to the hotel is $5,000.

Capt, Joe Keryon, of Truck No. 21, was seriously injured. In jumping Langdon, of Fruck No. 1, was badly cut on the hands and right arm by falling glass. John Brenn and fireman O'Neill, both of Truck No. 1, were cut by falling glass. The truck, which was a new one, was caught under a falling congress of the wall and was completely destroyed.

Positive Cure for Piles.

A GREAT RAILROAD EVENT. Proposed Change of the Southean

Guage in a Single Day. On Tuesday next, June 1, the loss to form an opinion as to what change of gauge on the entire five-will be the condition of the Demo-will be changed to four feet nine inch es, so as to make the tracks uniform throughout the United States. It is proposed to change the Gauge of 46, ... 000 miles of track, of which 14,000 will be done in one day. Practically on June 2, a passenger or freight car may leave Portland. Maine, San Francisco or Chicago and traverse without change of trucks or bulk every mile of road in the country to New Orleans, Texas or Florida. This is in many respects the most important railroad event, stupendous in its physical features, that has transpired in in this country. The agreement was made between the Southern companies for the simultaneous change at a convention held in Atlan-ta on February 5. The several companies have since that time been pre-paring for the new departure, which entails a large amount of work. The change of gauge, costing $75 to $100 a mile, is not the largest item.

In fact, this will be insignificant as compared with the expense and revolution in requiring every engine; passenger, mail, express, baggage and freight car to be changed in gauge.— This will pe greater or less in proportion as roads have more or less constemplated the change.

The Atlantic Coast Line south of Wilmington, N. C., the Richmond &

Danville, and the Norfolk and Western and East Tennessee, Virginia & Georgia are the roads closely identified with Baltimore that will change their gauge. The Atlantic Coast Line, of which Mr. Wm. T. Walters, Mr. B. F. Newcomer and other Baltimore capitalists are the principal owners, has long favored this project of a uniform railroad gauge, and Mr. Walters was foremost in pressing. t. Ten years ago the Atlantic Coast years since they nearly secured a general agreement among the broadgauge roads to change their rails.
The Southern roads which were owned in Wall street, however, were in the way of the accomplishment of the scheme, for they were generally speculative holdings, liable to change ownership at any time. The Coast Line has for fifteen years been anticpating and preparing for the revolution. Every engine and every spesmallest possible cost, and they have more than 2,000 engines and cars to alter. These changes, it is hoped, may be accomplished by all the reads by 1st of September.

The first day of June has been fixed for all the roads, so that less disadvantage to the public may result. The Atlantic Coast Line has so arranged that they will lose but one through passenger and mail trainthat is the one due here at 12:10 o'clock midday. On Sunday night trains for the sleeping and eating ac-commodotions will move south from Richmond, gathering up as they go their entire available force of employes, and by Monday night they will be distributed over that part of their line south of the Cape Fear river having the five feet gauge extending into Florida, prepared to mail and passenger trains have passed The Coast Line will make their change entirely with their own force, but of course every available man from every department will be brought into requisition. Mr. Harry Walters, general manager, left Balti more yesterday to make final ar begin work when the early morning

rangements. The Louisville and Nashville road required thirty usw locomotive engineers to meet their requirements incident to the change. The change applies to every mile of road except that known as narrow guage, like the Maryland Central, in this State. The 4 foot 9, is now the standard of the Baltimore and Ohio, Pennsylvania and all the trunk lines.

The details have been so nicely arranged that it is now certain that the 14,000 miles will be accomplished next Tuesday. The remaining 2,000 miles, being small branches, will be left for the following few days. The Cincinnatti Southern, East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, and the Luisville and Nashville will change at Chattanooga, the Coast Line system at Cape Fear river, Wilmington, N. C., and the Richmond and Danville and Norfolk and Western at Lynchburg. The change applies to all roads east of the Mississippi and south of the

For one or two days, no doubt, some irregularity and interruption must result to both mails and freight, but the dullest season of the year has been selected for the change. The companies have issued carefully prepared instructions to their employee for changeing the guage. The Cheraw and Darlington branch of the Coast Line has already changed guage, to give room for the rolling stock, previously changed. Several others of its branches will be changed before next Tuesday to give the men experience for the work to be done on the main line.
