-Mr. A. P. Newhart, a former well known citizen of Charlotte, is here on a brief visit, and his many friends are glad to see him.

-Sergeant Jetton, one of the most efficient men on the police force, is quite seriously sick, and has been confined to his bed for a week past.

-The work of rebuilding the wrecked bridge over Irwin's creek, on West Trade street, has commenced, and is being pushed with commendable energy.

-- Col. L. C. Jones and Maj. Winder arrived in the city yesterday afternoon, on their return home from a visit of inspection to the Carolina Central railroad work, near Shelby. -Governor Scales has officially notified Adjutant General Jones that there will be no encampment of the State Guard this year. The Hornets' Nest Riflemen, of this city, will have a good time, all the same.

-A curious kind of a bug was killed at Kidd's store, on Second street. yesterday, and brought to this office by Will Wed lington. The bug is a strange looking thing and is what one of our bugologists calls a rhinocerous bug.

-At sun up yesterday morning, Mr. M. P. Pegram, Jr., released another lot of homing pigeons for flights to Philadelphia and Newark. The birds went off in fine style and quickly disappeared in the northern horizon. There were 47 birds in the lot.

-The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement elsewhere in this paper of the Greensboro' Female College. This is one of the most popular educational institutions in the State, and well deserves the large patronage which it has always re-

-Dr. A. W. Miller, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will conduct services at the Second Pr sbyterian church in this city next Sunday morning. Sunday evening the congregation of the Second church will worship with the congregation of the First church . -The 23rd of June has come and gone, and still Prof. Baker's dry season has not come. The Professor promised that between June 23rd and July 15th there would be but little rainfall, and our farmers placed their hopes on his prediction. If he keeps his word, somebody may present

-Several farmers from Cabarrus were in the city yesterday, and report crops good, except in certain localities, where the freshets cleaned up things. Cotton is small and backward in growth, but if no drought comes this summer, there will be a larger crop than last year. Wheat is generally poor, but not so bad as was to have been expected.

CURE FOR PILES.

Rounding up Preparations for the Dazzlers.-Where the Lights Already Subscribed for are to be Located-Scenes in the Engine Room -- Testing the Lamps,

Mr. Percy Burbanks, of Boston, expert for the Houston-Thompson Electric Light Company for Charlotte, has arrived in the city, and was yesterday busily engaged in the engine and dynamo rooms of the company, in arranging the sixty odd lamps for a test, preparatory to putting them in position throughout the city. The lamps will all be tested simultaneously in the dynamo room, to see that none of them are defective, and after the test they will be distributed at the various places where the electric light is to be used. The scene at the engine room yesterday was quite an animated one. Mr. Robinson and his assistants being busily engaged in rounding up the preparations for beginning business. The dynamo is in position, and everything is now in readiness for the belt to be put on. The machinery is to be driven by a 60 herse power engine of the Ball patent, which is expected to do the work of the company for the present. The room is arranged for four engines and four dynamos, which will be placed in position as demand requires. The lamps are hung on temporary brackets, and connected with the dynamo, ready for the test when steam is turned on. It is important that the system should be in perfect working order at the start, so that no trouble will afterwards arise, and Mr. Robinson and Mr. Burbanks are making sure that they are right first, and then they will go ahead. The lights will be in position and running by next Monday or Tuesday, and before the end of the week everything will be in perfect working order. Arrangements have been made, so far, for the establishment of lights at the following places:

Two in Independence square.

Three on the cotton platform. Two at the R. & D. passenger des Trade streets. On the commercial circuit: Three at Arndt's saloon One at the Central Hotel.

Traveler Who Wants to Fix the left, on and off, for some time past, and hearing of the proposed changes to be made on July 4th, he writes us the following, which we submit to the railroad men; "I would call your attention to one schedule that in justice to the local traveling public should be changed, and that is the train between Goldsboro and Greensboro. A person leaving Goldsboro at 11 o'clock a. m. for any station between Raleigh and Charlotte is subjected to a delay of three hours in Raleigh; and at an expense, unless he remains in the hot cars or sits in the dirty depot. At Greensboro there is another delay of two hoursper schedule-or indefinitely it the Northern train should be behind time. Now, there is no reason why this train should not run through from Goldsboro to Charlotte for the benefit of the people of the State, and particularly for those living along its line. I am surprised that the people have not protested against this treatment. Possibly this question and a few others may be discussed when the renewal of the lease comes up in our legislature."

At the annual closing concert of the Neave Music School in Salisbury, weeks. She is accompanied by all of last Tuesday evening, Miss Bessie Alexander, of this city, rendered a vocal solo, "Voices of the Woods," in a most exquisite manner, and she was called to the front several times by the applause of the audience.

The programme rendered was very fine one, but is rather too lengthy for our columns. A feature of the evening was the operatta, "The Secret," by the little Misses, and it was carried through without an error. The entertainment was a complete success from beginning to end, and Prof. Neave certainly deserves credit for his efforts at the ad-

The A. C. L. and the P. A. L. The Wilmington Star took a clip at us yesterday for our boldness in having ventured the assertion that there is a rumos in circulation to the effect that the Piedmont Air Line intends to compete with the Atlantic Coast Line for the great through travel North and South, and now comes sweeping down upon us Brother Josh, of the Wilmington Review. Josh does not even allow us the privilege of making an attempt to compete with the Coast Line, which is, one would imagine from reading The road is well ballasted, all steel and powerful engines is as fine as that of any road in the South. The R. & D.'s passenger cars are said to be more handsomely finished than those of the Coast Line, and we believe that the management of the R & D. is as good as that of its rival along the coast, We admit all that the Wilmington papers say in behalf of the general excellence of the Coast Line road, but they must remember that it is not the only railroad in this country that is well equipped and well managed. Our friend of the Review calls the schedule on us, but in this he is manifestly unfair, as he quotes the Coast Line's fast through schedule against the Richmond and Danville's local schedule. The Review, in its zeal, possibly goes a little too far in intimating that a fast schedule on the Richmond & Dans ville road would not only be uncomfortable, but dangerous to passengers. The Review ought to have left that unsaid, for it was but a few days ago that a train on the Coast Line met with an accident greater in its results five years combined. We are sorry that the Wilmington papers do not intend to permit the Richmond & Danville road to come into competition with the Coast Line, but we will endeavor to resign ourselves to the disappointment. If the Richmond and Danville can stand it, we can, too. But we would like to ask one question before the gates are closed. If the Richmond and Dan-One at crossing of Graham and ville is so utterly incapable of putting a train into Savannah as quickly as the Coast Line, why all this music Peanuts per bushel. from Wilmington at the bare mention of a rumor that it would attempt to do so?

ning the sewing machines of their clothing factory by steam power, The machines, 35 in number, are located on the third floor of the builds ing occupied by Latta & Bro., and will be connected with the shafting and pulleys in a few days. The engine will be located on the lot in rear of the Johnston block. This is a stroke of enterprise that will tell, and it indicates that the Charlotte Clothing Manufactory is in a very flourishing and prosperous condition.

This new variety of Turnip is rapidly growing in popular favor wherever it has been tried, and is destined to supercede all other varieties in Southern culture. Certainly no variety yet introduced has proven so well adapted to our climate or produced larger crops. The testimony in its favor as given by some of the best farmers is of the strongest character; leaving no room to doubt the points of excellence claimed for it. In fact, it is affirmed that it is a better turnip even than it has been represented.—N. C. Farmer.
