"Well, sir," replied the gentleman, "Is is done entirely on the strength of a good article, in the merit and purity of which we have the utmost cenfidence. This is probably the first instance of the kind in the business of the country where it has paid a business like ours to extensively advertise its whiskey.

"Heretofore large newspaper advertising has been confined almost exclusively to patent medicines and other proprietary preparations, on which there is usually a profit of from 200 to 300 per cent (never less) as in the case of so-called bitters, for instance, which frequently consist, as analysis has shown, of the cheapest of poisonous kinds of alcohol for a base (the government allows 30 per cent) the rest of the compound being a few inexpensive, flavering extracts to make it palatable. It was with the idea that people would scener or later come to realize this fact, that we determined to put our whiskey on the market under its true name, merit and medicinal uses, and although we have received numerous propositions! from prominent religious papers, and clergyman, we have steadily held out; against any change of title or any disguise of its character, and yet despite the guise of its enaracter, and yet despice the natural prejudice which exists against the use of liquer in any form, we have received in the past three months over $,000 unsolicited testimonials from persons who have been cared or benefitted by our whiskey, and who out of a pure sense of graticule are willing that their names he key, andwhe out of a page sense of gradi-tude are willing that their names be published. You see our whiskey is dis-tilled by a secret process whereby every trace of fusel ell is eliminated, and to-day we are the discoverers and only manufac-turers in the country of an absolutely pure article."

OMAN DR. J. BRADFIELD'S BMALE REGULATOR

This famous remedy most happily meets the demands of truesge for woman's peculiar and multiform afflictions. It is a remedy for WOMAN ONLY, and for one SPECIAL CLASS of her diseases. It is a specific for certain diseased conditions of the womb, and proposes to so control the Menstrual Function as to regulate all the derangements and regularities of woman's

MONTHLY SICKNESS.

Its proprietors claim for it no other medical property; and to doubt the fact that this medicine does positively possess such controlling and regulating powers is simply to discredit the voluntary testimony of themsends of living wifeness who are today efulfing in the restoration to sound health and handless.

RRADFIELD'S REMALE REGULATOR Is strictly a vegetable compound, and is the project of medical science and practical experience direct-ed towards the benefit of SUFFERING WOMAN! It is the studied prescription of a learned physician whose study was WOMAN, and whose fame became cuvidale and boundless because of his wonderful success in the treatment and cure of female complaints. THE REGULATOR is the grandest

WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND!

Because it contro's a class of functions the various derangements o' which cause more ill health than all other causes combined, and thus rescues her from a long train of afflictions which sorel; embit by the Ille and prematurely end her existence. Oh! what a mu titude of living witnesses can testify to its charming effects! Woman! take to your confidence this PRECIOUS BOON OF HEALTH!

It will relieve you of nearly all the complaints peculiar to your sex. Rely upon it as your safe guard for health, happiness and long life.

ANOTHER WRECK

On the Lake Shore Reads--Very Little Damage Done to Property, and no Lives Lost.

Chicago. June 26 .- Shortly after the Lake Shore strikers blockaded the streets last night by throwing a lot of empty cars across from the Rock Island tracks, the night express, consisting of eleven coaches, and carrying the United States mail, ran down the west bound track, but finding the track blocked, ran back and was switched on the east bound track at the rate of about eight miles an hour. At Fifty-first street just before the train reached the switch a man ran out and turned the switch as the train came along. The locomotive immediately jumped the track, carrying the tender and forward truck off with it. For a minute there was a terrible jarring and knocking about and then the train came to a stand still. The locomotive had run over bare ties for more than a hundred feet, and finally push ing two of them apart, sank in the mud The lever was reversed and efforts made to back upon the track. without success. The engineer of the express although not suspecting that the fiendish attempt would be made on his train, nevertheless went only at half the speed allowed, and by doing so probably prevented a most se rious wreck and great loss of life. In the meantime, in trying to get the freight train on the track, the east

A neavy rope was fastened between them and after a half hour's work the locomotive, tender and coaches were again placed on the rails. The cars and engine were examined and being found not to have been injured, were again started on their journey, being about one hour and a half late. The engineer of the train and several others saw the man who turned the switch and are certain they could identify him if they could see him again. The switchmen declare they know nothing about it; in fact several of them assisted in placing the train in order again. No further attempt was made after this to get the freight train out.

Ghost Story About Rev. Burchard Falling Into Smith Weed's Campaign Trap.

Sr. Paul, Mion., June 24.-Mr. H. H. Fuller, of St. Paul, the leader of the anti-Administration Democracy esota, today gave the follo ing account of the famous Burchard incident, which he says he has on unimpeachable authority: It was several weeks before the election when a heavy mortgage on some property belonging to Burchard fell lue. The lien was held by Smith M. Weed, of Plattsburg, who, at a din-ner party given for the purpose, ar-ranged that Burchard should ring himself in on that delegation of ministers who worked the ruin of the Plumed Knight of Maine, and it was Weed who "fixed" Burchard, so that he became the tool of the party he supposed he was annihilating. Weed promised to cancel that mortgage on condition that Burchard should allow him to write his remarks. The confiding man accepted, and Weed and his friends concected the fatal sentence. The mortgage was cancelled about sixty days after the election. In the first triumph Weed is reported to have given the thing away to a friend of thirty years standing, who in a confiding moment told Mr. Fuller during his recent visit to the east.

A Superfluous Prayer. Kansas City Journal. I heard a very amusing story the other day in connection with the recent hurricanes A gentleman, quite well known in this city, was hurry-ing along to reach his home, when the storm burst upon the city with all its fury. He sought refuge in a house where there were a number of ladies congregated, all of whom were frantic with terror After a little the storm increased in fury, the house rocked and swayed before the furious winds, several windows were blown in, and it looked as though the whole building would be destroyed. The women rushed around wringing use for the support of his own structheir hands, crying and bemoaning their fate, when suddenly one rushed up to the gentleman and frantically besought him to offer up a prayer. In a moment he was surrounded by the other women, who clung to him and begged him to pray. He was not by any means collected himself, and besides he was not at all up in prayers, but there was no escape for him, so he prepared to comply with their request. He knelt down, but owing to the excited condition of his mind, and to the fact that he had not prayed for some time, he found himself utterly unequal to the occasion. He couldn't think of anything. He was dumb. Soon he became desperate, and without a thought as to the appropriateness, he pronounced the following brief exhortation, which he remembered to have formed a part of the grace his father used to say many years ago: "Oh Lord, make us thankful for that which we are about to receive." Just then three or four windows blew in, a couple of chimneys blew over, and the prayer meeting broke up in con-

Prohibition in Atlanta, Ga.

Promptly at 12 o'clock on the night of the 30th of this month the bar-rooms in Atlanta, Ga, will close according to the provisions of the pro-hibition law. Before July 1884 there were 120 barrooms in Atlanta, but when the license was increased from three hundred to five hundred dollars the average decreased to one hundred parrooms. Since the election in which Atlanta went dry the number has fallen off to sixty-nine. The Con-stitution says these are doing a thriv ing business, and none of them seem to be making any preparation for their impending fate, while they still continue to receive stock as fast as it is disposed of.

So Poor are They in Baltimore.

A poor woman in Baltimore carried her dead child, wrapped in a tattered shawl, through the streets of Baltimore to the city hall en Monday and asked the health officer to bury it. She was too poor to pay the expense of burial and was not allowed to leave the body at the house where she lodged while she went on her pitiful errand. Her request was complied with, and a sum of money was raised for her by the persons to whom she made her touching appeal. But what a glimpse the incident gives into the unguessed-of depths of misery in the world.

STATE REWS.

Asheville Citizen; Mr. McGtiee, of Haywood, has sold this year, from forty hives, one thousand pounds of splendid honey, for 121 cents per pound.—Snow is reported to have fallen on Balsam Mountain last Monday. The Waynesville News and Wid. Medford are our authority.

News and Observer: Today the stockholders of the Atlantic & North Carolina Railroad met at Morehead in annual session. The meeting was the most harmonious in years. All the old officers were re-elected. The directors were authorized to refund the bonded and judgment debt to au amount not exceeding $325,000.

Highlands Highlander: A son of J Miller was bitten on the foot by a rattlesnake about a week ago. The wound was well wet with turpentine, and seven drops given internally. The wound was then kept wet with the juice of milk weed. It is now healing, and the boy is out at play.

Wilmington Review: We hear it stated on good authority that $1,000,000 of Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Sailroad bonds were sold yesterday in New York at 95 cents on the dol lar. We'did not learn whether these were first or second class mortgage bonds, but presume that they were first class.

Rochingham Spirit: We met in Hamlet last Tuesday Mr. Montcure, chief engineer of the Palmetto Railroad, which extends from Hamlet to Cheraw, and were glad to learn from him that the road would be finished and the cars; inning as soon as possible. The greatest difficulty is in procuring cross ties, but it is believed that the road will be in operation in a few months.

farewell sermon next Sunday. His successor here has not yet been

A party wall in law is the wall dividing lands of different proprietors, used in common for the support of structures on both sides At com mon law an owner who erects a wall for his own building which is capable of being used by an adjoining proprietor, cannot compel such proprie-tor, when he shall build next to it, to pay for any portion of the cost of such wall. On the other hand, the adjoining proprietor has no right to make any use of such wall without consent of the owner, and the consequence may be the erection of two walls side by side, when one would answer all purposes. This conven-ience is often secured by an agreement to erect a wall for common use, one-half on each other's land, the parties to divide the expense; if only one is to build at the time, he gets a return from the other party of half what it costs him. Under such an agreement, each has an easement in the land of the other while the wall stands, and this accompanies the title in seles and descent. But if the wall is destroyed by decay or accident, the easement is gone, unless by a deed such contingency is provided for. Repairs to party walls are to be borne equally; but if one has occasion to strengthen or improve them for a more extensive building than was at first contemplated, he cannot compel the other to divide the exense with him. In some States there are statutes regulating the rights in party walls, and one may undoubtedly acquire rights by pre-scription on a wall built by another, which he has long been allowed to

Mr. Cieveland's Popularity. Col. John G. Prather, the Missouri member of the Democratic member of the Democratic National Committee, who is in New York, is delighted with the administration of President Cleveland, and in speaking of it said: "I can't say anything too good about it. It will be the most uccessful administration the country has ever had. In the West and Southwest Mr. Cleveland is univer sally popular with the people. There were a few dissatisfied members of the party because they thought the President did not turn out Republicans quickly enough, but they are becoming fewer every day. They see that the President desired only to be cautious. In another year there will be but few Republicans in office. As far as Missouri is concerned, we have every reason to be satisfied. The President's selections there have been excellent. Besides, his views on the tariff have made him very popular in the West. Mark my words; Mr. Cleveland will be given a renomination, whether he seeks it or not."

The Postmaster-General Vic-

The twenty-nine railway postal clerks who sought to organize the railway postal service of the United States against the postmaster general in such a way as to secure their retention in office, were decapitated as soon as their "little game" was learned, so that they failed in establishing in that branch of the civil service the premanency of tenure" which other reformers desire to see prevail in all the departments. They will, perhaps regard themselves the earliest, marer, that the twenty nine were men against whom charges had been made, but whom the postmaster general had decided to retain despite the charges. Their conduct, under the circumstances, will tend to modify the belief prevailing in some quarters that our civil service at the time the civil service law went into effect was of the cause. It is said, howev civil service law went into effect was perfect and not to be improved by a "clean sweep."

lew York's Delinquent Debtors. The delinquent debtors were recently discharged from Ludlow street jail under the provision of the recent New York law restricting imprisonment for debt. One of these had been locked up since 1880 for the non-payment of $55,000, and it is said of him that he is suspected of not being exactly the kind of debtor that the new law was intended to reach

How Long the Foxes Run? Forest and Steam,

Your Virginia correspondent says no fox or hound ever ran forty-eight hours, which means that he knows nothing about our New England red foxes. Perhaps a Virginia fox can be caught by hounds in six hours, but we have a longer-winded set here in Massachusetts. I have kept foxhounds for twenty years, and al-ways the best I could find, and I never owned hor saw the hound that could catch an old fox on bare ground. I have had my dogs catch them in light snows or in the last of Febru-ary when the females began to get heavy with young. But I do not be-lieve the foxhound lives that can catch one in twenty that he starts in October or November on the following we have in this part of the country. Three years ago I bought a pair of pups of Col. Tucker, of Gaston, N. C., as he advertises to have the fastest dogs in the South, and expected they would run away from our northern hourds; but though they are a little fister on a snow
