

CASES IN CABARRUS COURT.

Charles Honeycutt Sentenced to Six Months for Assault—Young Hough Given 12 Months for Killing His Father-in-Law—The Ivey Case Not Pressed.

Special to The Observer. Concord, Oct. 26.—The criminal docket of the present term of Cabarrus Superior Court was disposed of this morning, and by 11 o'clock Judge Allen went into the civil docket. Several cases of contempt were disposed of this week, the first one being that against Charles Honeycutt, from the extreme northern section of the county, Honeycutt being found guilty of an assault, and sentenced to six months in prison. This is the first case where an assault was made on W. C. Martin, a brother-in-law of Honeycutt. At the time, it was thought that the assault would prove serious, and perhaps fatal. Martin, however, recovered, and was in attendance at this term of court.

The case of Walter Hough, who as an Observer reader will remember, killed early in the summer his father-in-law, George Hartzell, was tried. Much sympathy was shown in this case, and the sympathy permeated the entire court room throughout the trial. After the evidence was in, Judge Allen stated that he would urge the jury to return a verdict of guilty of manslaughter. After such a verdict was rendered, a motion for a new trial was made and overruled. Judge Allen sentenced Hough to 12 months in jail, and defendant took an appeal to the Supreme Court, the appeal bond was fixed at $300, and promptly given. Before passing sentence, Judge Allen called into the court room the widow of Hartzell, and examining her, her statements her husband made to her before he died. Hartzell said that he was in the fault, and that he hoped Walter (Hough) would not be punished.

KILLED AT A COTTON GEN.

Negro Loses His Life at Youngsville—Missions Conference—Louisburg News Notes.

Concordence of The Observer. Concord, Oct. 26.—Judge Justice is holding Superior Court this week, Judge Shaw, who held last week exchanged with Judge Justice for one week. This term is for the trial of cases on the civil docket only, of which there are a goodly number.

It is learned that a negro was killed in a cotton gin at Youngsville yesterday, by having his clothing caught in the machinery. Parties there telephoned the sheriff, asking whether a coroner's inquest was necessary. The sheriff did not consider it, and none was held.

THE SCARCITY OF WOOD.

It is Not Altogether Due to Lack of Transportation Facilities—Wood Dealers Are Partially to Blame. To the Editor of The Observer: I notice in to-day's Observer that there is unusual complaint regarding the scarcity of wood, and it was stated that the railroads are wholly responsible for existing circumstances. I am in a position to know that transportation is not the only trouble. No farmer can afford to neglect the gathering of his crop at this season, for his time on the farm is worth a great deal more than his profit on the wood that is ready for shipment.

A CORN LIQUOR TRUST?

Durham County Moonshiners Said to Have an Eye Cast toward Increasing the Price of Their Output—Police Wrestle With Female Blind Tigers—Swell Wedding To-Day.

Concordence of The Observer. Durham, Oct. 25.—The police are busy with the "blind tigers." The men have been having their day in court for some time, and the police are busy looking after the women violators of the whiskey laws. During the past four days four people have been before the mayor on the charge of selling whiskey. Three of these were women.

It is said that a great deal of moonshine corn liquor is being manufactured in the country districts. Much of this is sold here. For a while it was stated that any person could get corn whiskey for $1.50 per gallon. Recently the price has gone up to $2 per gallon, all of the block men. It is said, charging the same price. This looks as if even the makers of black-and-white whiskey have entered into a trust. It is certain that they have come to some understanding about the price to be charged for corn juice.

The Carolina Furniture Company has sold to W. M. Speed, for the Durham Hosiery Mill, the real estate and fixtures of the mill. The purchase price was $8,000, this carrying with it certain indebtedness that now hangs over the mill. The papers in this transfer were recorded to-day.

HELEN GOULD IN TEXAS.

Lone Star Citizens Pay Tribute to a Lofly Type of Womanhood.

The visit of Miss Helen Miller Gould to Texas has been an incident of more than ordinary significance. Especially noteworthy was her reception in Palestine, where a class of people were eager to do her honor. We think it ought to be said that Miss Gould's wealth was the smallest attraction. The people of Texas have known, even when Miss Gould was too young to know, that she was a woman of the highest character, well and, and they know her better. She is a "homebody," as some people say, and she is a woman of the highest character.

But at Palestine and other places her receptions accorded Miss Gould were such as she is not accustomed to in her home city. We are told that after the ladies' reception, the men of Palestine—banker, the merchant, the mechanic, the farmer, all attended the function, as the society people call it, for the purpose of paying their respects.

It was because Miss Gould was so rich; it was not because she was personally interested in millions of dollars' worth of property located in this State; it was not because she was deeply interested in the Young Men's Christian Association movement or the branches of that organization on the Gould lines.

It was because the people of Texas recognize Miss Gould as a noble type of American womanhood. In Texas when it comes to doing homage to a noble woman, wealth, business, religious and political, and all that cut very little ice, if our readers will pardon the slang. We have rubbed up against millionaires, and we are accustomed to them. We know the gentle touches of a Christian. We appreciate them all.

Cleanly Woman.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff. Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, she is curing the dandruff. HOBBURY'S MARKET LETTER. Better Things in Store for the Lancashire Spinners—View of a Liverpool Authority.

Concordence of The Observer. Liverpool, Oct. 26.—The spot market has not with a moderate to fair business during the last few days. There has been no change in the price of cotton, which has been maintained at a level which is not far from that which was expected. The market is generally quiet, and there is no sign of a change in the price of cotton. The market is generally quiet, and there is no sign of a change in the price of cotton.
