The play is well conceived. The idea of the author in converting fairy tales and children's stories into an interest-ing plot, not forgotting the "cradle" ongs in the musical part, is happy and gives an oddity—a fantastic, yel wholesome, feature to the place, which thas made a deserved reputation. No production seen on a Charlotte stage has shown more artistic settings, none a chorus better trained. Mr. Julian Mitchell, whose productions have been wonderfaily successful since he left Weber & Field's managership, has, trained the chorus in "Babes in has trained the chorus in "Babes in Toyland" in a manner which no audi ence can help but appreciate. The horus in this instance, in the first place, has been carefully selected for icoks and voices, and it is a large one. without which the average theatre-goer is not satisfied.

Charlotte was desirous of seeing "Little Chip" and Mary Marile, the weil-heralded team. The clever couple have been employed for several years on the Wells' circuit of theatres in Virginia, doing stock work, generally. Their first appearance as "stars" has Virginia, doing stock work, generally. Their first appearance as "stars" has been successful. Miss Marble is a dainty little comedienne, with plenty of expression and a droll cleverness. "Little Chip" is an irresistable fun-maker. # Makes a Good Impression on Full House at Marshall.

Full House at Marshall. special to The Observer. Marshall, Oct. 26.-Thos. M. Hufham. Esq., spoke here to-day to a crowd which illed the court room, He was introduced w Democratic Chairman C. A. Henderson, who referred to him as one of North Caro-lina's greatest Democrats. The crowd was i majority Republican, but almost every section of the county was represented by leading Democrats. Mr. Hufham discuss-st all the important issues and handled hem in a most masterly way. His argu-ments on the tariff and trusts were clear-ut and convincing and bis illustration of he concentration of wealth was the finest ind most forcible ever heard field. H und most forcible ever heard here.

THE WEATHER.

ind most precible ever heard here. H made a strong hit with the farmers by drawing that the government had spent millions of dollars in the interest of the Western farmers by irrigating their lands, while there had never been a dollar ap-prepriation made for the benefit of the iarmers of these hills.

The speaks certainly equipped the Dem-ocrats with winning arguments to take to their neighbors back in the country. The Republicans were "blue" over the fine im-pression which they saw Mr. Hufbam had made and the Democrats went to their homes jubilant.
