TRUSTEES' REPORT. The report of the trustees of the North Carolina Christian Advocate was read and recommended that the eleven shares of the Advocate yet owned by individuals be purchased by the conference at par value. This report was adopted.

TELEGRAM OF SYMPATHY. A resolution was passed requesting the sending of a telegram to Rev. H. A. Atkins expressing the sympathy of this Conference to him in his personal affliction. This telegram to accompany the gift to him of $463 from this Conference.

A motion was made and carried that the conference adjourn to tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock, and this motion was carried.

CONFERENCE NOTES. Little incidents of yesterday's session which struck the reporter—Witty sayings of the Bishop—Mr. Gray's reports from May, Evans' reports from Virginia—Some touching and some amusing scenes.

CONFERENCE NOTES. The session of conference yesterday, as on the preceding days, was brightened by the personality of the bishop and his unflagging sense of humor and wit. He can be cold and cutting as steel at times, however.

CONFERENCE NOTES. In calling over the roll of ministers they came to the name of a Brother Wilson. He was not in the house, and his presiding elder went to speak for him and explain his relation to the conference. It seems that he had got a transfer from Bishop Smith to the other conference, but had never used it.

CONFERENCE NOTES. The name of James Willson was called and his presiding elder announced that in the last session of the conference he was appointed to the Enterprise circuit, in the Greensboro district, but just after conference met last year he transferred to the North Carolina conference, but did not receive an appointment in that conference and had been in Statesville most of this year. Bishop Duncan asked why Mr. Willson had not been engaged in the active ministry this year and Mr. Willson answered for himself. He stated that he had never failed to go to any appointment but twice and in both instances the appointments were such that would not support him and his family. He said he took a transfer to the North Carolina conference last fall, but was not enrolled in that conference and his transfer was not announced and did not receive an appointment there and came back to his conference. Bishop Duncan asked what he desired, and he stated he was in the hands of the conference for an appointment. Bishop Duncan then asked if he would promise to go to the work if he was appointed to one. Mr. Willson replied that it would depend upon whether he was given work that would support him.

GREENSBORO COLLEGE. Mrs. L. H. Robertson, president of Greensboro College, was introduced to the conference and addressed the conference. She referred especially to the history of the college during the past year—of the fire which destroyed the old college and of the remarkable success met with in rebuilding. She referred to the present student body and the efficient faculty of the college, and stated that it equaled that of any college of similar standing.

OTHER SPEECHES. Mrs. T. C. Marr spoke to the conference in behalf of the Breward Industrial school. She stated that an indebtedness of about $1,000 rested upon the school. She asked that the preachers pledge one penny for each member of the churches to which they may be assigned this year and put the amount on this debt.

OTHER SPEECHES. Mr. W. D. Streeter, representative of the Children's Home Society gave an encouraging report of this society, and stated that no child has ever failed to secure a good home. He asked, in closing, for the sympathy, the co-operation and the prayers of this Conference.

QUESTION 2. The question "Who remain on trial?" was called, and A. L. Aycock, A. R. Bell, C. A. Drum, J. W. Kennedy, W. A. Newell, B. E. Wilson, having passed the question of character and the examining committee, were advanced to the class.

SPECIAL CASE. N. H. Dagenhardt, a member of this class, was appointed to Clyde circuit at the last session of the conference, but gave up his work a few weeks later on account of sickness. His presiding elder, C. F. Sherrill, announced that he left his work without communicating with him, and he thought he should be discontinued. J. R. Brooks made a motion that on account of having left his work without consulting with his presiding elder or stewards, C. F. Sherrill seconded the nomination to discontinue him. J. H. Weaver said the young man had been living within the bounds of the Statesville district most of the year and had preached frequently, and was a good young man. P. J. Carraway spoke in behalf of the young man also and advocated giving him another year trial. Dr. Brooks withdrew his motion to discontinue and Mr. Dagenhardt was continued on trial. He reported himself and stated that the condition of his health was the cause of his not remaining on his work and for his not passing his diploma.

DIPLOMAS DELIVERED. Rev. James Atkins, D. D., delivered diplomas of the correspondence school to the following young men: A. R. Bell, A. L. Aycock, J. W. Kennedy, B. E. Wilson, C. P. Moore, W. O. Goode, V. L. Mays, and L. E. Abernethy. All of these had completed some one of the four years' work in the correspondence school.

NOT LAWFUL. N. M. Moditt was continued in the class of the next year. The committee announced that some of the young men had completed their years' work with the exception of one study, and recommended that they be advanced to the next year, with the understanding that they bring up this study upon which they failed to pass. The committee stated that this had been done in this conference before. Bishop Duncan replied that he could not sanction such a recommendation or allow it to pass and said a young man either passed or did not pass, and that the failure on one book meant that a man failed to pass on his examination as much as if he had failed on all his books of the course. When reminded again that other young men had been passed conditionally in this conference, he said he could not be responsible for the sins of other bishops, and the rulings of other sessions of the conference, and that he proposed to stand by the law of the church and to carry it out in every particular.

GOOD REPORTS. The Charlotte pastors submitted their reports at the morning's session and they showed advancement along all lines.

AFTERNOON SESSION ORDERED. Bishop Duncan stated that he saw no necessity for hurrying the conference to a close and that, having begun a day later than usual, he thought it would be wise to defer final adjournment until to-day, but that it was for the conference to decide. The time was extended several of hours and the session of the morning session.

MAKING AND SELLING GOODS. The manufacturer who makes and sells his product to the user is a merchant as well as a manufacturer. Most of the cotton mills have commission merchants to sell their products. In our business we must make the goods and also sell them. It is for the selling of our products that we pay for this space. If it is worth our good money to reach the purchaser with printer's ink in this way, it certainly ought to be worth the while for those who want machinery, or machine work done, to come, without any cost, when in Charlotte, to see our machine shop, pattern shop and foundry. We make things and these products of ours must be sold. There are cases where we could save more than half of your repair bill. There are times when we could fix you in a day, where it might otherwise require several days. The D. A. Tompkins Co. CHARLOTTE, N. C.

ENGINES. We make three styles or types of Engines as we have said before in this column, but not lately: THE LIDDELL-TOMPKINS for saw mills, cotton gins, planing mills, laundries, grist mills, etc. THE LIDDELL-CHAMBERS (heavy duty) for large planing mills, wood-working plants, roller mills, large gineries and the like requiring a steady power up to 100 horse. The Liddell High Speed Automatic for electric lighting in cotton mills and towns, and for other purposes where economy of fuel is an object, and the most perfect regulation as to speed is demanded. With these three types we are able to supply all demands, except for machines of the Corlies type. We haven't said much about engines lately for the reason that we haven't been able to supply the demands that come to us without any advertising. But now that the gineries are all supplied we can probably collect some stock, and fill orders with reasonable promptness. Write to us. That is the way to find out what we have, and the price.
