

The Charlotte Observer

PUBLISHERS ANNOUNCEMENT. No. 24 South Tryon street. Telephone numbers: Business office, Bell phone, 121; City editor's office, Bell phone, 121; News editor's office, Bell phone, 231.

Subscription Price. DAILY. One year, $10.00; Six months, $6.00; Three months, $3.50. SEMI-WEEKLY. One year, $5.00; Six months, $3.00; Three months, $1.75.

Every Day in the Year. MONDAY, JANUARY 8, 1908.

Mr. Kinsey O. Huskey, according to a special from Gaffney, S. C., to the Spartanburg Herald, has resigned his position with Carroll & Byers and will engage in school teaching.

Those London papers which pay cable tolls on opinions from Thomas Lawson, of Boston, are pretty easy marks. As for Lawson, he is probably the biggest fakir this country has produced since the 11 or 12 turned over by the memorable 16 to a slipper craze.

The failure of the Bank of Rutherfordton Saturday sounds worse than it really is. The concern was a State institution with $10,000 capital, and from the figures given out by President Morrow all depositors will be paid in full, with something left for the stockholders.

It is Missouri's turn to take a flyer at the Standard Oil Company, an effort being made to oust the trust from the State. There is abundant evidence that it is an iniquitous combination which breaks down all opposition, but the chances are that Missouri will accomplish no more than other States have—practically nothing.

That is indeed startling information which our Washington correspondent sends, to the effect that Collector Harbison, District Attorney Holton and Marshal Millikan are ready to relinquish their places without contest. There must be a mistake somewhere or else the millennium is pretty close at hand.

The old saying that it takes a thief to catch a thief was to some extent proved in Atlanta recently when Kyle Bellew, playing the part of "Huffies," the amateur crackman, nabbed the engineer of the theatre who had been stealing from actors for some time. It is said to have been a clever piece of work and was a good item for the press agent.

Again the newspaper correspondents and editors are talking of a war cloud that is hanging over Europe, and once more it is in some cases expanded into a world-wide matter. If there was ever a time within recent years, save perhaps for a few months now and then, when a war cloud was not supposed to be shadowing the European countries we fail to recall it.

An article in a late issue of The Pittsburg Post denies the statement recently sent out from Pittsburg to the effect that the newspapers would retaliate on the railroads for withdrawing passes, and commented on in these columns. The Post says that the roads asked for cash advertising rates and the Publishers' Association decided to send the regular rate card as response. This is as it should be and places the Pittsburg papers in an altogether creditable attitude.

Under the leadership of The Charlotte News and Courier, some South Carolina newspapers are advocating the passage of a law against the sale of other than safety matches—those which will strike only on the box. The idea may be a good one, but it would probably be about as effective as that three-pound pistol law and the statute against selling whiskey save in duly authorized dispensaries. But then it is an adherence to the prevalent idea that to "pass a law" is the universal remedy for all evils.

Stann B. Anthony is said to have mailed an appeal to President Roosevelt to interfere in behalf of a woman under sentence of death in New Jersey; the convicted murderer of Governor Geisel, of Kentucky, expects the President to interfere in his behalf since the highest court in the land has declined to do so. The fact that those are State matters seems to have no effect. Mr. Roosevelt being regarded as a general regulator of everything that may need regulating. He may so act in the world at large, but it is not likely that he will attempt to usurp any purely State prerogative.

In the death of Major Wm. C. Pettit, at Carthage Friday, the State lost a valuable citizen. He was principal owner and manager of the Carthage Railroad, and did much for the development of his section.

Columbia doesn't propose to be very far behind when it comes to being humbugged. "Professor Napoleon" will appear there the latter part of the month, under the auspices of the Civic Improvement League.

The announcement that Gen. Wood is to succeed Gen. Corbin in command of the Philippine military department will doubtless open up fresh batteries of those who oppose the former physician's rapid promotion.

We do not appear to be doing very much toward carrying freedom to some sections of the Philippines if the admission of Mr. Hill, of Connecticut, in the House Saturday regarding slavery among the Moros is true.

An Atlanta physician is said to have saved several children from lockjaw by the injection of anti-toxin into the spinal column. This is an important discovery, for the use of the toy pistol will each Christmas provide many patients for the treatment.

The Augusta Chronicle is now publishing items taken from its files over a hundred years ago. But few papers in the country are enabled to do this, but if we are not mistaken there are at least two or three in the South that have passed the century mark.

It is announced from Atlanta that Col. James M. Smith, of Oglethorpe, will come out as a candidate for Governor of Georgia. If new recruits continue to invade the field, Messrs. Hoke Smith and Clark Howell may find that they have more to do than look after each other.

Among other good things in yesterday's Observer was a letter from New York by Mr. Chas. P. Russell, formerly of the Observer local staff. Mr. Russell, who has a position with McClure's Magazine, will furnish a weekly letter from the metropolis, and it is needless to say that it will be a specially interesting feature of The Sunday Observer. Another feature recently added to the Sunday issue is a letter from "Savoyard," the well-known Washington correspondent. He is first of all a Southerner, and the points he makes against those who would discriminate against this section are strong ones.

The Montgomery, Ala., Advertiser notes that "the beauty of our tariff system" was well illustrated in New York recently. A dealer was found selling standard American-made watches at from 25 to 33 per cent. under the regular price. An investigation brought out the fact that the watches were bought in England, whether they had been shipped by the manufacturers, and after bringing them back to New York and paying the duty, the dealer could sell them at a reduction and still realize a profit. What is true of watches is also true of many other things, and despite the fact that it has been pushed aside by other issues, the tariff inequities are as much in need of revision as ever.

The figures reported by the commercial agencies for 1906 show a striking decrease in the number of failures as compared with 1904 as well as in the amount of liabilities. The year just past was remarkable in that practically every interest shared in the widespread prosperity. Cotton, corn, wheat and minor crops turned out well and prices were generally satisfactory and there was no room for complaint of "hard times" in the industrial situation. The New York Commercial says the 1906 prosperity was remarkable and that "the New Year is entered upon by the commercial and financial institutions strategically stronger than ever before in their history." Unless some unforeseen calamity develops, 1906 will also be a fat year. We should, however, remember that in the natural course of events but one is sure to come, and prepare for them.

The Nashville, Tenn., American says: "A few years ago Jeter Pritchard was crying out long prisoner in a country printing office in east Tennessee. One day he took a piece of bread, a fried chicken and his other shirt and strolled over the mountain into North Carolina. Since then he has been a United States Senator and now he is a Federal Judge, and he and his son-in-law have more than fifty relatives holding office under the Federal government. Nothing succeeds like success."

This is rather a flippancy way to talk about a native of The American's State who has climbed the ladder of success as Judge Pritchard has. Coming to North Carolina from Tennessee without money or friends, young Pritchard became a lawyer and United States Senator and has recently been given a Federal judgeship. He is a Republican, but as he is otherwise a good man this should not operate against him, especially since he is now out of politics.

Where Babies Go in Swimming. Los Angeles Times. "I shall spend the winter in San Jose, and a teacher. 'It is always summer there. There the babies swim.' 'Can you imagine a quainter, a more charming sight than a host of babies, none over 2 years old, laughing and crowing and swimming like fish in pools of clear water?' 'You will see this sight in San Jose. So many women believe we have brought babies into it that equals climate they bathe their little ones daily the year round.' 'The youngsters soon learn to swim. They can swim before they can walk.' 'And to see those pretty brown babies swimming in the sea is well worth a 4,000 mile trip to San Jose.'"

UP TO THE PATIENT. Dr. Keely's Capital Not Taken. Mr. W. T. Callon, of Lattimore, desires it stated that the subscription books for the new Lattimore cotton mill have not been opened and that the approximate sum of $200,000 of stock has not been taken. The information that came from a reliable source to an Observer reporter was that $100,000 had been secured in the North, and that the remainder would be or had been raised on the grounds.

Seaboard Train Derailed. The Seaboard's passenger train from Wilmington and Hamlet was delayed several hours last night on account of an accident at Russellville. Three or four cars of the second section of No. 21, a south-bound freight train, were derailed and the track blocked until a crew could get the cars back on the track. The cause of the derailment could not be ascertained last night.

I took the treatment at the Keely Institute at Greensboro, N. C., in 1898, and can testify that it has cured me of the disease of strong drink, and that I am a new man. I was discharged to my family and home in good health, and did not deserve good at the hands of any one; but when I went to your Institute at Greensboro I was treated with the greatest kindness and consideration, and, after remaining there a short while, I was thoroughly cured of the drink habit. I would advise all who are given to strong drink to go at once to Greensboro, N. C. It is a wonderful cure. Any man who desires to do so can stop the use of liquor by taking your treatment. The manager, physician and attendants are all courteous and attentive, and the table is excellent and the institute is a comfortable and pleasant home.
