Correspondence of The Observer. Thapel Hill, Feb, 16.—The annual Soph-Junior debate between the FI and PhI societies took place in General Ball Friday night, before a "Resolved, that the United States government should own and operate the railroads." The affirmative side was presented by the Pl representa-the F. Reynolds, '03; the negative by the Phi debators, Mesara W. A. Jan-kins, '01, and '0. R. Rand, '08. The president of the debate was Mr. T. 5. Kerr, and the secretary, Mr. E. S. Kuart, both of the Phi Society. The judges were Dr. T. J. Wilson and Professors W. D. Toy and Collier fort one fikes to hear. Each speaker leaped into the fight with zeal and samestness and remained in until carnestness and remained in until the end. The speeches showed power of analysis, ability of presentation and, in some cases, swiftness of repartee. At the conclusion of the de-bate the judges returned their decis-ion in faovr of the Pi representatives. the affirmative side of the question.

The following law students of the law class of the fall term, 1905, passed their examination before the Supreme Court the first Monday in February and were licensed to practice law in North Carolina: Messrs. E. H. Bean, Rowan; H. S. Brothers, Cumberland; H. C. Carter, Jr., Hyde; A. C. Elliott, Rutherford; R. L. Gast, Transylvania; F. M. Hassell, Martin; James W. Osberne, Mecklenburg; 'R. L. Philips, Graham; W. J. Sherred, Martin; T. W. Simmons, Sampson; W. D. Sonell, Durham, and N. A. Townsend, Robertson. This consti-tutes a majority of the candidates for license at this time Mr. C. A. Jones, of Lincoln, who was sick and unable to apply at the August, 1905, examinations and Messrs. Walter Clark, Jr., and Branner Gilmer, who received the B. L. degree at the last commencement, but not of age in August, and Mr. Lee Wees, a student in 1900, were also examined and licensed by the Supreme Court.

At a meeting of the advisory committee last Monday it was decided to award the right to wear a monogram N. C. on jerseys to those who attain a certain degree of proficiency in gymnastic work. This is done at all the large colleges and will undoubt-ably be an incentive to hard, steady work in the gymnasium. A rigid "curriculum" has been drawn up by Physical Director Lawson, embracing a large number of feats, which the applicant must perform successfully pefore competent judges.

Prof. M. C. S. Noble delivered a lecture in the chapel last night at 7:30 before a large house on "Visiting Schools in Great Britain." He related some experiences on his recent trip to Europe and enumerated the characteristic differences between their schools and ours. The lecture was highly instructive and most enjoyable.

Mr. O. Max Gardner has accepted an invitation to deliver and alumni address at the commencement of A. and M. College, of Raleigh.

President Venable has accepted an invitation from the University of Alasama to deliver the commencement address May 30th. The occason will be the celebration of the seventyfifth anniversary of the foundry of that institution.

DAVIDSON.

Correspondence of The Chronicle. Davidson, Feb, 17.-The plans and drawings for the new dormitory, to be seen in the president's office, show that the building will be a beauliful one of its kind and an ornament among its fellows on the campus. The generosity of a liberal friend of David-son, Mr. George W. Watts, of Dur-ham, makes possible this modern building which the overcrowded con-dition of the college this year shows is greatly needed. Work is to begin at once and the building will be ready for use at the opening of the Septem-ber term. Dr. Smith has decided not to build it under formal contract, but will have the work done under the di-rection of Mr. Tom Hall, superinten-dent of the electric plant, and his own supervision. The dormitory will be 44 feet wide and nearly 100 feet long. The exterior will be of red brick and arti-ficial stone. The first story will be of channelled red brick, terminating in a course of artificial stone around the which building. Free this course of ndence of The Chronicle. course of artificial stone around the whole building. From this course of stone, broad stone pllasters will extend through the other two stories, supporting a handsome cornice. The build-ing will be so constructed that each floor will be separate and have a sep-arate entrance. No stairways will be placed among the dormitories but these placed among the dormitories but these will be cut off from them by a wall. The building will contain 24 regular dormitories and will accommodate 48 students. The rooms are of unusual size, 17 by 16½ feet. Each room will contain two closets, a lavatory, two large windows with revolving tran-soms and many other conventences soms and many other conveniences. Behind the building will be constructed a brick tower connecting by bridges with each floor. This structure will be built entirely of brick, iron and con-crete. It will contain three bath rooms, one for each floor, with hot and cold showers and other conveniences. The whole building will be heated by the direct-indirect system of steam heating. Each floor will have its own fresh air inlet with a steam heat ventilating duct drawing the foul air from the room. Each room will be lighted by a 25-candle-power frosted electric bulb with glass reflector, making the best possible light for purposes of study. Altogether it is not a large dormitory, all modern conveniences in lighting, heating, ventilating and plumbing will be embodied in this building, which in these respects, will not be surpassed in the whole South. Several acres of forest land have been purchased and the college will have the arees cut and the logs hauled to the electric power house where a saw mill and turning mill, both run by a motor, will be put up and practically all of the wood material used will be prepared here on the grounds. 10 course these extensive preparations look forward to what it is hoped is no distant day the erection of a Carnegie library building. Mr. Asbury, of the Richardson Or-chestra, was here to-day assisting in the training of the Davidson Orches-tra, with special reference to the cele-bration of Washington's birthday.
