CHARMED WITH JUDGE PARKER

South Carolina Executive Says Northern Press Has Not Done Justice to the Late in His Personal Attributes—Board of Pardons Passes on Number of Unimportant Cases—Ed Tully, Whose Death by Shooting in Columbia is Under Consideration.

Observer Bureau, 1209 Main Street, Columbia, S. C., March 17. Governor Heyward returned to-day from Charlotte where he delivered an address last night before the Greater Charlotte Club, and where he met and was delighted with Judge A. H. Parker, who also addressed the club.

The speech the judge delivered in Charlotte, in which he attacked Roosevelt and Jerome and pointed to his assertion, which has no proven truth in every respect, that the Republicans were relying on the money of the big insurance companies and that of the national banks to pull Roosevelt through, was published throughout the country, and is looked upon as significant.

The board of pardons has adjourned after recommending pardons in number of unimportant cases and refusing recommendations in several cases, also unimportant. In the latter cases were taken up and canvassed, but no conclusions were reached.

The board of pardons has adjourned after recommending pardons in number of unimportant cases and refusing recommendations in several cases, also unimportant. In the latter cases were taken up and canvassed, but no conclusions were reached.

According to the statement of witnesses, some of them on the scene of the murder and some in the neighborhood, the shooting of Tully by Onley Thursday evening was not accidental as the public has been led to believe by witnesses who have given statements so far. There are a number of circumstances to indicate that while Onley started into the store where Tully was killed in pursuit of Boatwright, he did not have any other purpose.

Witnesses can be secured to prove that Tully had gotten out of Onley's path, in scrambling aside had slipped and fell, and that when he was shot he was on the ground. Onley liberally turned his weapon on Tully and fired a bullet hole through his brain. Evidence is also available to show that Onley was not free from any other motive in bringing about the death of Boatwright.

Witnesses but because they are implicated in the murder. Not that any others took part in the actual killing, but because they were instrumental in bringing about the death of Boatwright. The facts may be brought out in the sequel, which will be held Monday night in the court house.

It has been an exceedingly trying one to gather an evidence in but Coroner Walker has worked all night and day since the killing, and under difficulties which would have balked a less determined or less conscientious man, but his efforts are beginning to bring results. The further the killing is probed the uglier it gets.

Onley denies that he fired any shot or that he saw the shooting. Boatwright, at that time, was supposed to have been shooting, according to the testimony of a number of witnesses, contradicted him flatly, saying Onley had quarreled with him on the pavement in front of the store after a game of "show down" at Shepard's woodshed hard by broken broom up in a row, all hands being drunk.

Boatwright says he made some boast about his manhood to which Onley took exception and cursed him. He told Onley he would come to him and make him use his gun if he were armed. Onley replied that he did not have a gun and that he would go to work and chased Boatwright into the store. Some one shouted don't shoot, but Onley fired anyway and Tully caught the bullet.

Onley admits quarrelling with Boatwright in a game in the woodshed which Henry Sheppard, T. D. Mitchell, John Jacobs and Boatwright were also present, but he admits that he afterwards quarreled with Boatwright in front of the store, but he says that at this point he left through a narrow alley. As he was going he heard a shot and knowing he had enemies in the crowd hurried his steps, when he was overtaken and placed under arrest.

Tully came here from Augusta with his wife. They were married in Charlotte, where he was employed with the D. A. Tompkins concern and she worked in the Oats mill. They went to Augusta from Charlotte and later came to Columbia from Augusta. Tully's home is in Cincinnati, but he has been in the city here for some time and the widow will take

"Through the amiability of the magistrate this more than half suppressed response was allowed to stand, but the trifling incident is not always so lenient. On another occasion a magistrate asked a woman, "What is your age madam?" "Whatever you choose, sir," answered the lady. She was under oath.

"You may put down forty-five years then," said the magistrate to the clerk. "What is your occupation, madam?" "I am a nurse," she replied. "Put down fifty years, then," said the magistrate. "Your residence?" "Si!" exclaimed the lady. "My age is thirty-five years, not fifty-five!" "At last we have your statement," said the magistrate, and he proceeded with the examination.

PE-RU-NA DOES WONDERS

IN RELIEVING ALL CATARRHAL DISEASES.

SISTERS OF THE GOOD SHEPHERD, MONTREAL

HOSPITALS ALL OVER THE CONTINENT FIND PE-RU-NA VALUABLE IN TREATING ALL CATARRHAL DISEASES.

CATARRH of the respiratory organs is a common ailment in Canada for at least two-thirds of the year.

This condition is no doubt caused by the long, severe winters experienced in this part of the continent.

Therefore, when Peruna was discovered by Canadian people to be a reliable remedy for these catarrhal diseases, it at once became a popular medicine, not only among individuals and in families, but in the great hospitals, where it was used as a preventative and relief in hundreds of cases.

These institutions do not hesitate to give their endorsement of the remedy which has been so helpful in the treatment of their poor and sick.
