MUSICAL NOTES

By C. WINTHROP AMES.

On condition that the German government would build a new opers house at a cost of not less than $1,000,000, the city of Stuttgart offered to build a new municiple theatre to cost $300,000. This proposition the government has accepted, and already the contracts have been signed and the time limit of ten years allowed for the completion of the work. Incidentally the American native is able to determine something of the German methods of constructing buildings. It is quite unlikely that any proposed building costins in American not over $1,000,000 would be contracted for with such a long time limit; the chances are that one year would be more nearly the case.

one year would be more hearly the case.

In offering a criticism of the planistic work of Rudolph Ganz, of Chicago, aNew York paper referred to him as the Swiss planist. It may be true that Mr. Ganz once halled from the little Swiss republic, but he has been for so long a time connected with the musical growth of America, being identified until recently with the Chicago College of Music, that it seems somewht ainconsistent for him to permit his name to be used in any such manner.

In a lecture on "Belgian Composers," delivered in Brussels before the Cercle Artistique, Maurice Kufferath gave credit to the rapid growth of its conservatories for the musical progress which the nation had enjoyed. He, stated that in the year 1826 there existed only one, at Liege, whereas at the present day there were over 60, having in all an attendance of 13,000 pupils.

Two American ladies, while spending a week in Brussels, chanced to see a poster reading "Theatre du Parc Relache," and inquired if the play were worth seeing. The term "Relache" is the concise French manner of saying "Theatre Closed."

Mms. Calve has come, sung and conquered, and embarked for her foreign castle with a goodly sum of American coin in her pocket (-book), figuratively speaking. She will stop off at Gibraltur and journey through Spain to her estate in the southern prat of France. The writer is inclined to believe that had the lady's name been Mrs. John Smith, of Union County, N. C., she would have had, possibly, a few castles in Spain only.

Mrs. Carrie Bridewell, an American contralto, arrived home during the fore part of the present month, after a long absence abroad. She has the honor of singing with acknowledged success in the Vienna Opera.

Henry W. Savage is expected to arrive in New York during the present month from a trip in European countries. Immediately on his return he will take up preparations for the presentation of the romantic opera "The Student King," h was written jointly by De Koven Stange.

seventies of the last century when she was heard in conjunction with the great artist, Anton Rubinstein. For this reason her recent appearance created considerable interest, but her work as an artist is referred to as disappointing. Although she is credited with technical skill, displays musical refinement, her playing is said to be lacking in magnetism and mann," and also as possessing the smea "etheral touch, the same daintiness, fleetness, infallibility of technic." The hall was crowded to such a degree that many sat upon the stage, and after the last number he was so completely barred from exit by his enthusiastic admirers that he could not get away but was kept playing for fully a half hour longer.

Cety rapid and the fact that they are diversified is very encouraging.

The Statesville Brick Company's plant, which is being installed on North Trade street, has been completed and the manufacture of brick will commence next week. This company proposes to put on the market high-class building brick.

Mr. O. W. Staine, of Pittabuse has subscatt.

Among a number of manuscript letters of some of the master musicians which were auctioned off in Berlin a few days ago it was revealed all too plainly the difficulties which are encountered by those who seek faithfully to serve some form of art. One of the manuscript letters is the offer from Beethoven to a music director of that time of the composition of "Missa Solemnis" provided the director would agree to give it a public performance. The letter itself brought at auction the sum of 750 marks. A letter written by Mozart requesting the loan of 1,000 or more guilden. was sold for over a thousand marks. A letter of Haydn's brought nearly two thousand marks, and in a footnote states that just such hradships lose for the world many a genius.

Interest a lange part of the stock for the new glass factory, which is to be established here, will arrive in Statesville Monday. While here Mr. Slaine will inspect different pleces of property for the location of this factory and, upon his recommendation, a suitable site will be purchased. A charter for the concern will be secured next week.

The Carolina Marble & Granite Company, of Statesville, has the contract to erect a handsome monument in Bennetsville, S. C. The monument, which is to be erected to the memory of Mr. C. S. McCall, will be 21 feet high, weigh 100,000 pounds and will cost $4,300. Mr. R. L. Flanigan, of this company, will go to Bennesville, to superintend the work of erecting it.

Mr. John W. Waugh, son of Mrs. many a genius.

A new system of requiring violin tech-nic is said to have been devised by Goby Everhardt, an eminent teacher of Han-Everhardt, an eminent teacher of Hannover. Owing to an attack of paralysis, Eberhardt found himself unable to use his left hand, and in order to save time he invented a system of practice based upon the fundamental structure of the hand. The exercises which he devised made for him such rapid technical progress that after he had regained the use of his hand, he continued to use the method devised by himself, and later established the principles in the school tablished the principles in the school with which he becmea connected.

Reisenauer is now playing out in California, where he is not only scoring decided financial success, but it being royally entertained everywhere he goes.

Marie Hall, the English violinist, is also Marie Hall, the English violinist, is also among the artists to return to her home on foreign soil. She made a tour of America in fifty concerts and at the close of the last one departed immediately for London, where she will play sind at once go to Austria to play for the imperial family. Miss Hall is aiready booked for an extended tour of the United States and Canada during the season of 1907, thence to Australia.

Here is an announcement to show that the artists are not all dead: "A crowd was entertained by Mme. Norman, the planist and mezzo soprano of Cologne. Germany, 'at Goldenberg's yesterday by her rendition of Chopin's "Ocurres De Fr." This piece was Chopin's first composition, written in 1816, and is regarded as one of the most difficult to interpret. She may be found at Goldenberg's every day this week from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. At any of her appearances she will play difficult pieces provided by persons anxious to test her ability. Mme. Norman offers to forfeit $100 for any piece of readable music she cannot play at sight."

A cablegram from London states that the first appearance of Creatore's Band won a great success. A warm recep-ilon was given the conductor and the programme was received with enthusi-

The Saturday Club, of Sacremento, Cal., engaged Gadski to sing for them during the early, part of the present month.

The Woman's Music Club, of Columbus, O., has engaged Mme. Schumann-Heink to open up the senson of 1906-1907. As none but associate members will be per-mitted to hear her, it is thought that the plan will tend to win members for the musical organization.

Petachnikoff, the Russian volinist who attracted so much attention on a former visit while touring the American continent, is booked for another season of concerts during the coming year.

Interesting criticisms come from Berlin regrading the playing in concert recitals of three famous planists. Annette Essipoff. Ferruccio Busoni and Viadimir de Pachmann. The occasion of Mme. Essipoff's appearance marked her only performance in the Geman capital since the Brawley, and Mr. J. D. Cox, a clerk Salem. Of Busoni, the criticism is offered that he possesses the very qualities which each to Statesville's manufacturing industries. The promoters of the new mill are Messrs. J. A. Bradford, of Shiloh township, and Eugene Morrison, of that he was literally bombarded with tributes of flowers from the occupants of the front rows of the parquet and balcony who had come provided for the occasion. Not only was the floor strewn with the floral offering, but the grand plano was filled up with them so that four men came from the wings and cleaned the instrument out before the artist was able to respond with an encore.
