tren by Miss Irene Allison and Miss Lois Goggans at the Presbyterian College Last Night—The First Violin Recital.

The third of the dual graduating recitals was given in the Presbyterian College auditorium last night before large and appreciative audience This recital was of special interest, it being the first graduating recital in violin given in the conservatory, and Miss Irene Allison being a young lady well-known in Charlotte musical circles. Each of the three movements of Beethoven's "Sonata in D" were given in excellent style; a noticeable sature being the ease of expression and exactness of . tempo with the Bach's aria for the fourth string was beautifully clear, while Wienlawski "Dudziarz" and Daube's "Cantabile and Bolero" were given with fine effect. Miss Allison's graceful bowing and crisp, even tones were worthy of special mention. The young performer seemed to throw her whole heart into her work and carried her audiseemed to throw her whole heart ence with her from start to finish.

The plano gaduate, Miss Emily Lois Goggans was very happy in her presentation of the light, fairy movement from Beethoven's "Tempest Sonata." Rachmaninoff's celebrated "Prelude" was given by her with exquisite pathos. Ascher's "Les Couttes d'eau" was a delightful little description of the rippling water.

The two contrasting numbers, Kar ganoff's "Nocturne in D. flat" and Chopin's "Polonaise in A" were played with a finish that showed careful work and fine musicanly feeling. Mosart's great "Double Concerto in E. in which Miss Linda Hendrix and Miss Frances Thornton, each had two solo planos and Miss Goggans and Dr. C. R. Fisher the plano and organ as orchestra, was a fitting finale to this very beautiful concert.
