

DR. FISHER FINDS BAD MEAT

A SICK STEER FOR THE MARKET

A City Official Sees a Poor, Dying Steer and Tips Off the Inspector, Who Makes an Investigation—The Meat That Had Not Been Sold Was Sent to the Crematory and Burned—Something Eaten From the Joints and the Meat Was in a Sweat—A Skim-Milk Scheme.

Persons who sell meat and milk on the Charlotte market will find Dr. Adam Fisher, the city inspector, a very active, painstaking, thorough-going man. He is full of energy and knows his business.

Dr. Fisher went straightway to investigate. When seen by an Observer reporter yesterday afternoon, and questioned about the steer Dr. Fisher said: "Yes, a city officer called my attention to the steer. I went to the butcher shop and found it dark and unsanitary. I asked to see the meat and the ice box was opened. Every piece of meat that remained there was bruised, as if the steer had been beaten with sticks and stones, and was sweating. Something exuded from the joints and the meat was in bad condition."

Mr. Swain was warned not to repeat the offense and, this being his first transgression against the new ordinance, he was told to go and offend no more. Dr. Fisher and other city officials are determined to break up such practices.

SKIM-MILK BOTTLE SCHEME

It was reported yesterday that certain milk sellers had prepared to sell what they call cream in "skim-milk" bottles so that if they are charged with selling watered milk for cream they can say "why, that milk was sold in a 'skim-milk' bottle."

THE COURTS WILL DECIDE

Protesting Citizens Will Seek Recourse by Law to Restrain the Location of Freight Delivery Yards in Their Midst

Those citizens who own property adjacent to the site of the Seaboard's proposed new freight delivery yard between East Fifth and East Sixth streets are determined to carry the matter into the courts if they can find any legal grounds on which to fight the case. A meeting of those opposed to the location of these yards near their property will be held next week.

IN THE CRIMINAL COURT

Col. Bill Hastings is Up Again But He Contends That He is Guilty of Selling "Beerine," a Most Harmless Drink—Other Smaller Matters

Yesterday was a dull day in the Superior Court. The most interesting character to appear was Mr. Bill Hastings, who is charged with selling intoxicating liquors. Col. Hastings exhibited bottles of "Beerine," nothing but "Beerine" stuff, that he contended, could not possibly make any one drunk. The trial of the colonel has just begun. If one believes his side of the case Old Man Bill is the most cruelly mistreated man in the State.

Colbert Withers was sentenced to the chain gang for four months for carrying a concealed weapon, and Bob Frazer, 20 days for a similar offense, but less aggravated.

Louis Plaire, for fighting, was given ten days in jail. He had already served 30 given him by Recorder Shannonhouse.

THE USE OF THE AUTOMOBILE

Mr. Osmond L. Barringer and His White Machigo Make a Fine Run

Mr. Osmond L. Barringer, despite the ailments who are laying for his scalp, continues to make brilliant runs in his white Machigo. Wednesday afternoon, Dr. Joe Graham and others wanted to go to Macpelah, 28 miles northwest of Charlotte, where his niece was to be married at 9 o'clock.

After having witnessed the marriage, taken part in the reception that followed and chatted pleasantly until a late hour Mr. Barringer and came full tilt to Charlotte, arriving at 12:45. The only worry experienced on the way back was at Rozelle's, where the ferryman had fallen asleep and could not be aroused by ordinary methods.

Charlotte Bankers Going to Toxaway

A number of Charlotte bankers will attend the meeting of the North Carolina Bankers' Association to be held at Lake Toxaway, at Toxaway Inn, on the 19th, 20th and 21st. The Toxaway meeting will prove quite interesting socially, as many of the bankers will take their wives and daughters.

New Colored Pastor

The officers of the First Baptist church, colored, have called Dr. Lewis, a well-known negro preacher of Lexington, Va., to succeed Rev. C. C. Summerville, who resigned and went to Fortson, Va., a year ago.

Local Office of Mayes Manufacturing Company

The Charlotte office of the Mayes Manufacturing Company has been located at No. 8 East Fourth street. The office fixtures were moved in yesterday and Mr. L. A. Dodsworth, secretary and treasurer, has taken charge.

Vacation Season at Hand

The members of the city police force are beginning to take their 15-day vacation. Officer J. M. Youngblood, of Sergeant Pitts' squad, is now off. When he returns to duty next Monday morning, he will be followed by two officers, one from Sergeant Farnington's squad and the other from Sergeant Pitts' squad.

VACATION MUSIC

During this month of June thousands of wisps will go to seashore, country, or mountains, and those who know what an invaluable entertainer it always is consider their Victor outfit the most important portion of their luggage.
