We also treat your system after taking the cure and bring your physical condition up to par. This is very important as the system having been filled with stimulants, possibly for many years, consequently has wrecked your health more or less.

Alcoholic Stimulants a Disease

The use of alcoholic stimulants produces a pathological effect on the human system, the nerves, stomach and all the organs, which requires medical treatment the same as does every other physical ailment to which the flesh is heir. The craving for stimulants is a symptom of this disease. It cannot be cured by mental action or action of the will. It must be treated pathologically and mentally. It must be diagnosed properly, as the disease of alcoholism possesses as many stages as there are in typhoid, malaria, pneumonia or any other disease.

We are the original discoverers of the "3-day-cure." We have spent a lifetime perfecting the same and can give the most positive assurance of an absolute relief from the craving appetite for strong drinks and drugs.
