THE DEATH RECORD.

The Bureau of the Census has published a report giving some interesting figures relating to mortality for the five calendar years 1900 to 1904.

The number of deaths reported in the registration area in 1906 was 539, 929, and the death rate per 1,000 of population was 17.6.

The average annual death rate in the registration States was 17.8 per 1,000 in the cities of 8,000 or more population in 1900 and 14.3 per 1,000 in rural districts.

A table giving the causes of death shows that tuberculosis and pneumonia were the most fatal diseases.

gratification the world over. The mortality from this disease in the registration area in the United States is lower than it is in Ireland, Germany, Norway, Spain and Switzerland, but higher than in England and Wales, Scotland, the Netherlands, Belgium and Italy.

The average annual death rate from pneumonia, the next most deadly disease, was 13.49 per 100,000 of population, and in the registration area of the United States is considerably greater than in England, Wales and Scotland.

Diarrhoea and enteritis come next among the leading causes of death, followed by heart disease, cancer and typhoid fever.

AN INTERESTING SUIT.

The Supreme Court of Georgia now has under consideration a suit for the recovery of the sum of 18 cents that presents some interesting and unique features.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has just floated a loan in France, and The New York Evening Post regards the success of the plan as having "an importance beyond the immediate meeting of that railroad's need of capital."

The American Federation of Labor, according to the annual report of Secretary Morrison, has raised 146,664 to aid the International Typographical Union in its eight-hour strike movement.

The average annual rates were lowest in St. Joseph, Mo. (7.6); Owosso, Mich. (10.1); Lincoln, Neb. (10.4); and St. Paul, Minn. (10.65).

The suddenness with which the President acted in the matter of the western collectorship is calculated to make the third-termers sit up and take notice.

The South Carolina newspaper which is friendly to the Great Moral Institution is having its hands full these days.
