

ALLEGED FREE PASSES

A LAVELY SPAT AT KINSTEES

Mr. Candler Charges That Col. Wharton Offered Free Passes to Delegates and Later Rescinds It—Both Candidates for Railroad Commission in South Carolina—Allegation of Unlawful Practice—Fairly Sized Audience at Kingsree—Col. Sloan Denies That Dispensary is Insolvent and Mr. Brunson Uses an Effective Argument.

Special to The Observer.

Kingsree, S. C., July 16.—At 10:30 o'clock this morning the campaign was called to order in the court house by Senator Asbury Williams. The crowd numbered about 500. Congressman J. Ellerbe was the first speaker. He gave a brief but interesting account of his work in securing pension for Mexican war veterans and an increase of rural routes in the sixth congressional district. He also gave an account of his work for pure seed and accurate crop reports. Mr. J. Frazier Lyon, candidate for Attorney General, fears the people might have to be taxed to pay the debts of the State. Mr. Lyon's speech was loudly cheered. His opponent, Mr. Ragadale, declared that Mr. Lyon is not running to hurt the dispensary or to punish the grafters, but to get the $1,400 salary of the office. Loud cheers filled the court room at the close of Mr. Ragadale's remarks. Mr. G. L. Walker was the only candidate for Attorney General present. He was a practical railroad man on business. Col. Boyd and Haskell had the usual bout over the adjutant general's office. Mr. Sullivan claims that the freight rates on the necessities of life, dry goods and food stuffs are higher than in Georgia and North Carolina.

SPAT OVER FREE-PASS ALLEGATION.

Mr. Summerst thinks the people ought to look for practical results from the railroad commission only when they elect a practical railroad man like himself. Mr. Candler feels that the present commission is lame in the head. Messrs. Wharton and Candler had a warm spat over alleged free passes. Mr. Candler charged that Col. Wharton had offered the rural free delivery delegates free passes and the colonel disowned the same. Mr. Sellers believes that Williamsburg, however, or some other railroad man, should have a member on the railroad commission. Mr. Edwards, as usual, criticized the railroads and the courts.

Under Mr. Manning's plan there would be a radical change in the purchase of liquor. It would practically abolish the board of control, do away with the purchase of case goods and put into the hands of the Governor the appointment of a committee to make the awards publicly of the purchase of the year's supply of liquors, to be ordered out as needed from the government bonded warehouses. Mr. McMahon feels that the low cost dispensary is insolvent, as alleged by its enemies, the people would be foolish to abolish it forthwith and leave a blot on the financial history of South Carolina. He looks upon the position of dispenser as honorable because of its tremendous responsibilities and its public necessity.

DISPENSARY NOT INSOLVENT.

Col. Sloan says the tide seemed to be turning in his favor. He wants the tobacco growers of Wilkes county to smoke Col. Ansel off his India rubber platform. According to Col. Sloan, there is not a word of truth in the rumor that the State dispensary is insolvent. He only feels for the Confederate soldier, but fought with him in Virginia. He believes he has done more for the State in peace and war than the whole shooting-match of his opponents.

Loud hurrahs rang through the hall as Col. Ansel rose to speak.

Mr. Ansel laid great stress on drainage, good roads and the practicability of the county dispensary. He had a list of names of the grand jury. He was loudly cheered at the close of his speech. He thanked the people for their ovation to him. Mr. Bleas said that the 90 cent of children, spoken of by Col. Ansel as being educated in the common schools, includes the negro children educated in the State. He is dead against using the money for the education of the negro. He alleges that Col. Sloan's record in the Senate has always been consistently against the dispensary. Mr. Bleas believes that drainage can only be obtained through Congress. Mr. Bleas feels that, if he is not elected Governor, no other dispensary candidate will be.

AN EFFECTIVE ARGUMENT.

Mr. Brunson was received with enthusiastic cheers. He is pleasantly connected with Kingsree, having served on her board of education with some of her most prominent citizens. Mr. Brunson held a bottle of liquor for the people to see and said, "This is the platform of the free dispensary candidates." He then called up a little boy, put his hand on him and said, "This is my platform. I stand for the protection of youth of this land. It was a very impressive object lesson. Mr. Brunson says so great is the corrupting influence of liquor that he would not believe either Mr. McMahon or Mr. Manning on his oath after children had been employed in a liquor distillery five years. His words were greeted with thoughtful applause. Messrs. Ragan, McCown and Morrison, candidates for Secretary of State, finished the day's speaking.

Our Jumping-Off Place.

Outdoor Life.

Unalaska resembles other northern stations, having warehouses, docks, and the inevitable Greek church, and a score of wooden cabins. Whalers leave here for the Arctic regions. Dutch Harbor is a station for our revenue fleet. There is much coming and going of ships of all nations. There lay quite a formidable fleet, and only two ships out of twelve carried colors of the same country. Just before entering the harbor one notices a detached rock high against the side of the cliff. It bears a striking resemblance to a Russian priest in full robes. Touched by the sun's light, he seemed to stand blessing the harbor. On sailing north out into Bering sea, one looks back at the desolate, silent, treeless islands which seem to wait the edge of the world. Hundreds of miles west they run toward Vladivostok. Two hundred and forty miles north of Unalaska are the Pribilof Islands; not large, but the greatest seal islands in the world. There are many fur seals around the shores of Bering sea and the Aleutian Islands, but the great mass of them are bred on the Pribilof group. No white man is permitted to land on these breeding grounds without a permit, signed by the secretary of the Treasury of the United States.

ARRESTED FOR TRESPASSING.

Winston-Salem, July 16.—An interesting hearing in a habeas corpus proceeding was held before Squire Wolfe this morning, with the result that Abbott McIver, negro, who was arrested Saturday night and carried to jail without a warrant having been issued or a mittimus presented, the jailer, was discharged. Squire Wolfe declared that the entire proceeding was a farce and one that the officer who made the arrest should be made liable for.

Special to The Observer.

The circumstances of the case are substantially as follows: Saturday morning at 4 o'clock, Officer Jones went into the waiting room and arrested McIver on the charge of trespassing. The negro protested that he had missed the train and was waiting for the next. But this was not a satisfactory explanation for Police-man Jones, who carried the negro to jail and placed him behind the bars, where he remained for some time before the writ of habeas corpus was issued. This morning the negro demanded an immediate trial, but was told that Squire Collins was out of town and would not be back for a day. McIver then said there were half a dozen other justices in town, and again demanded a trial. Being refused, he had another negro to arrange for the issue of a writ of habeas corpus and the hearing was held before Squire Wolfe, who, as above stated, released the prisoner, declaring that the act of the negro was in violation of no State law and that the prosecution was frivolous and unnecessary.

The truth of the matter is, that the negro could have been arrested under an ordinance of the city which prohibits loitering and about the depot, but the officer, unmindful of the fact that it was a waiting room for the public, charged that the prisoner was guilty of trespassing. Were it a more prominent person, it is likely that steps would be taken to make some one suffer for such unnecessary arrest and imprisonment. A warrant has been issued against the Western Union Telegraph Company under an ordinance of the city court to a warrant charging the company with a violation of the ordinance requiring the telegraph wires to be placed underground. The wires used by the company have been placed under the ground but the old wires and poles have been allowed to remain. The water main connecting the Piedmont Heights property with the city main is almost completed. Many of the lots in this new suburb of Greensboro have been sold and others are going rapidly. The street car line is to be extended to the property and it will be a most desirable location for residences. Some time ago Mr. Garland Daniels, who owns a large tract of suburban property in the west of the city, offered $100 on the purchase price of a lot to the one who suggested the most suitable name for the suburb. The committee met a few days ago and selected the name "Morning-side Heights," which was suggested by Mr. E. Stuart Kuykendall. This opens another fine lot of suburban residence sites.

Rev. T. P. Pressley, D. D. of Due West, S. C., filled the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church yesterday. He preached two fine sermons and the congregation was delighted with this able and eloquent speaker. While he was the guest of Mr. R. C. Bernau. The Baptist Young People's Union of the First Baptist church held a most interesting special service this evening. There was a large attendance. Miss Ruth Creech sang a beautiful solo and the principal address was made by Prof. Judson Peels.

PICNIC AT FORT MILL.

Big Annual Event, Including Tournament, to be Held August 7th—News Notes and Personal.

Fort Mill, S. C., July 16.—The third annual picnic known as the Fort Mill union picnic will be held on the academy grounds at Fort Mill, S. C., Tuesday, August 7th. It is the purpose of the general manager, Mr. W. P. Harris, with the aid of the several efficient committees, to make this picnic superior to the two preceding ones. The place for holding this picnic is an excellent one. The O'Connell grove, adjoining the academy grounds, will be at disposal of the committee. There will also be all kinds of amusements for the children as well as for the grown people. There is to be a tournament open to all. Everyone in the Carolinas is eligible and invited to participate. Those desiring to enter the tournament should notify Dr. J. B. Elliott at Fort Mill as the base charge of that part of the picnic. Addresses by various persons will probably be made. Everything is free except the tournament, to which a small fee will be charged to defray the expense attached.

Dr. R. Kirkpatrick, tax collector of the programme, Mr. L. J. Massey the financial part and Mr. K. Shannon the dinner.

Mr. James H. Thornwell, Jr., has been elected superintendent of Mount Zion Institute at Winnsboro, S. C. This is a splendid position to be held by one so young as Mr. Thornwell, and the Fort Mill people are justly proud of him. Mr. Frank Potts, another native of Fort Mill and '05 graduate of South Carolina University, has been elected assistant professor in modern languages in this manner. Mr. Potts is also to be congratulated. Mr. S. W. Parks is erecting a very handsome cottage on Booth street, which will be ready for occupancy soon.

Shocked By Live Wire; Fell 25 Feet.

Winston-Salem, July 16.—William Titlowson, while working on an electric light wire on North Liberty street yesterday, came in contact with a live wire and sustained a severe shock. In his effort to free himself from the pole, a distance of 25 feet. He hit on his feet and one heel is badly crushed as a result of the fall. It will be a week or more before he can walk.

WOULD ABOLISH THE SENATE.

Forayth Socialists Would Do Away With Upper House of Congress—Platform Adopted by County Convention Advocates Other Radical Changes in Government.

Special to The Observer.

Winston-Salem, July 16.—The Socialist party of Forayth held a strictly harmonious convention at Boyer's school house, seven miles west of this city, Saturday afternoon. The local members of the party reported that the attendance upon the convention was quite encouraging. Nominations were made as follows: For Congress, Dr. A. P. Davis; for State Senate, P. T. Lehman; for Representatives, George Wilson and Tom Davis; for clerk of court, Ell W. Milligan; for register of deeds, Z. T. Marshall; for treasurer, J. E. Taylor; for sheriff, Samuel Ebert; for coroner, J. H. Smith; for assessor, J. H. Speas; C. E. Harper and D. G. Lane; for coroner, E. T. Rights; for surveyor, F. L. Zeigler. The following platform was adopted: "For immediate relief we pledge our party, if trusted with power in State and county to enact such laws and amend those already enacted in the end."

That the teachers and children in public schools be furnished all text books free and to private schools free on request. That children from seven to 12 years of age be compelled to attend school during the entire school year. That a uniform school year of not less than six months be established for county and town; that men and women teachers be paid the same for their services and be elected by the people they serve. That school boards take a census twice a school year of all the children in their districts and report those not attending school and the reason therefor, on an account of parents or guardians, the county or city shall see that such parents or guardians have remunerative work in the employment by the county or city, so that children be not idle. Should parents or guardians be incapable of work, then they should be supplied with sufficient to support them and the children and the children sent to school. "Second. That good roads shall be built over the county, but not before all the bad places in all the principal roads be put in good traveling condition."

"Third. That no child under 14 years of age be employed in any mill or factory; that no child under 16 years, unable to read or write, shall be employed in any mill or factory during the school year. That girls under 16 years shall be constantly employed more than eight hours. That men and women be paid the same wages for the same work. That eight hours be the legal day labor; that seats be provided for men, women and children in all public offices and factories and mills for women clerks and women employees."

"Fourth. That all servants of the people be elected by the people they serve, that all fees be abolished, and salaries substituted for fees. That salaries of public servants be made to conform to the remuneration of those they serve. That the initiative, referendum and recall be embodied in our laws."

"Fifth. That all poll taxes except $1 for State purposes be abolished. That all real estate be assessed at two-thirds of the value the owner will sell for, that a graduated income and inheritance tax be imposed. That executors and administrators and trustees of estates be required to take an itemized inventory of the personal property of estates in their hands and in conformity therewith with the clerk of the court and said inventory shall have valuation put on it by the county commissioners and if the said valuation exceeds the amount of the last return, the excess, then such excess was acquired after the last listing for taxation. That personal property and real estate, together amounting to $500, be exempt. "Sixth. That homestead exemptions to the amount of $250 personal and $250 real estate be allowed insolvent debtors. That such exemptions be paid in cash out of the proceeds of sale of debtors' effects."

"Seventh. That the State have control of the liquor traffic. "Eighth. The abolition of fines as alternatives to imprisonment; that rape and seduction be punished by emasculation. "Ninth. That all privilege taxes be abolished. "Tenth. That we advocate the abolition of the United States Senate."

PREDICTS BLACKBURN'S DEFEAT

Mr. W. I. Crawford Does Not Think Secretary Taft's Visit Will Help Republicans Any in Congressional Elections—To Investigate Black Lands on the Coast. Special to The Observer.

Washington, July 16.—William T. Crawford, of the tenth North Carolina district, who recently defeated Representative Guder for renomination to Congress, to-day predicted the defeat of Representative E. Spencer Blackburn in the Democratic primary this year. He said "There is no danger of North Carolina going Republican this year on account of the recent visit of Secretary Taft. In fact, I believe it would be even take away the seat now held by Representative Blackburn, though Judge Douglas and other Republicans have been talking as if they might take that seat the one from my district, away from us. I am not worrying, for I know my district pretty well and I am confident that I shall be able to carry it by a substantial majority. This visit of Secretary Taft will probably have a good effect on his party, which has been in a very delirious mood and needed such advice as he gave, and more, too. The fact that it was the Secretary of War who spoke gave his words added weight. His advice to a whole in the South would be realized down there that it would be best if the Republican party did not fight simply for local offices and devoted its time to real issues and principles. I do not think, however, this visit will make the State go Republican this year."

The United States Geological survey announces that the investigations of the block sands of the Pacific coast, which have been carried on for a year at Portland, Ore., will be continued until September 1st and after that date the party would be removed to Chapel Hill, where a similar work will be carried on in connection with the State geological survey. It is believed the sand of the Eastern coast is of a different kind in valuable minerals as experiments have shown those of the Pacific slope to be.

PUZZLES FOR LETTER CARRIERS

Difficulties Encountered in Delivering Mail in San Francisco Since the Fire. San Francisco Chronicle.

One of the greatest problems that now faces the postoffice authorities is the distribution of the mails to the right place. In the words of one of the clerks, the Department not only does not know "where it is at," but does not know "where it is to be." Before the fire every clerk in the office had the routes on which the large firms were situated well in mind, and as soon as a letter came for one of the well-known houses, it went into the proper pigeonhole with unerring accuracy. Now all that is changed. Those firms that were formerly neighbors are far apart, and the whole system has to be learned anew, which is slow work. It immediately after the fire the number of letter carriers was increased to a number of the carriers were sent over to Oakland, but these have been recalled and are now trying to solve the problem of location. "The difficulty is to keep the number of deliveries up to the standard," said an official in the postmaster's office. "Every little wickup in the burned district has hung out a sign and expects to get five deliveries."

A TRAGIC FINISH.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner, the neglect of Van Hook, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation, caused by neglected cold," said Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life. Quinsy, best cough and cold cure, at R. H. The locations are entirely changed, and the problem is almost beyond human power to solve. At the same time a large number of firms have gone into the Filmore district, and that changes the locations in that part of the city. "We do the best we can. We have all the new addresses we can get at hand, but the locations we formerly had in memory are useless to us now, and almost every letter requires to be looked up and assigned to the proper route. All these firms are calling for the same service and number of deliveries they had before the fire. And, to make things more serious, the mails are continuing to pour in with increasing volume."

THE DOCTOR AWAY FROM HOME

WHEN MOST NEEDED.

People are often very much disappointed to find that their family physician is away from home when they most need his services. Diseases like cholera and cholera morbus require prompt treatment, and have in many instances proven fatal before medicine could be procured or a physician summoned. The right way is to keep at hand a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. No physician can prescribe a better medicine for these diseases than this, and suffering and all risk.
