Point.

San Francisco, Aug. 14.—The first of the insurance cases involving the earthquake clause was called for trial to-day by Superior Judge Hebbard. The case is that of the Rosenthal Since Company against the Williamsburg Insurance Company. The attorney for the insurance people asked that the case be postponed until opportunity is given the judges to arrange with the insurance companies for a test of the case. He said that the insurance companies will demand a jury trial in each case, and that unless proper arrangements are made for a test the courts will be occupied for years with insurance litigation.

The attorney for the piaintiff declared that there are points at issue that cannot be settled by a test cass. The court ther, asked he insurance attorney if he waived a joury trial and was answered, "No." The judge then asked, "Do you demand a jury trial. The attorney for the shoe company then announced that to save time he would formally demand a jurytrial. The case was set for August 27.

SOME OF CLERGY REGRETFUL While this reflects the general at-titude of the hierarchy, yet a consid-erable element among the clergy re-ceives the decision by the Pontin with disappointment and regret as being likely to inaugurate an era of reli-gious strife. The decision causes seri-ous confusion with regard to the practical carrying on of churches. The practical carrying on of churches. The new law lays down specific instructions concerning the organization of cultural associations, but the Pope's decision appears to make it impossible for the clergy to conform to the law. At the archbishopric it was stated today that no steps have yet been taken to ensure the continued operations of churches. It is understood that the encyclical was accompanied by instructions concerning the means the hierarchy should adopt.

other kind of organisation, legal and canonical, can svert the threatened dangers to the Church."

The encyclical then examines at length the other forms of organisation. The Pope says nothing causes him greater agony than the eventualities menacing the Church in France, and therefore he hopes to find some other kind of associations not endangering divine rights.

CHURCH WOULD BE SECULAR-

"But as this hope fails us." he continues, "and the law remains as it is, we declare it is not permissible to try this other kind of associations so long as they do not establish in the most legal and most positive way that the divine constitution of the Church, the immutable rights of the Roman Pontiff, and the bishops, and their nuthority over the temporal affairs of the Church, particularly the sacred edifices, will be irrevocably protected by such associations. We cannot wish otherwise without betraying our sacred charge and producing the ruin of the Church in France."

The document urges the bishops to adopt all means within the law to organize their forces, assuring them of the papal co-operation and support.

The Pope counsels against seditious or violent action and says firmness will give better results than violence.
