GOVERNOR AT WILKESBORO. Chief Executive Makes an Address at Masonic Picule—Will Go Over Jef-ferson Turupike.

Special to The Observer. Wilkesboro, Aug. 17.- The annual Masonic picnic given under the auspleas of the several Masonic lodges in this section was held here yster-day at the Curtis Grove Suring.

Governor R. B. Glenn was the orater of the day and delivered one of the greatest addresses of his life. He was in fine shape and good spirits and spoke extemporaneously without notes. His theme was broad, covering Masonry, the Christian religion, temperance, the marvelous devel-om ents of our State and a review of his stewardship. Governor Glenn is eems that he always gets closer to personally acquainted with a large part of Wilkes county people and it them than any other speaker of the marvelops improvements and accumulation of wealth tha is going on in the State of North Carolina and referred with emphasis to our unlaimiled orator power, large number of factories and spindles; saying that he was proud of his State leading all others south of Mason & Dixon's line. He said that he was not the Govern of any party, or faction but of all the people, and that he did not need their criticisms, but what he needed and warted was their help and prayers. He made a strong appeal for temperance and his advice to the boys and young men was a gem. Governor Glenn and his party left to-day for Jofferson, and will go over the turnpike and see the splendid work that the State convicts are do-

COMMUNICATIONS

CHAIRMAN COWLES REPLY.

To the Editor of The Out.

Inasmuch as you have published.

Mr. Vanderford's letter to me, I hope you will do me the kindness to publish my reply.

CHARLES IL COWLES.

Chairman.

Wilkesboro, Aug. 14, 1906. Mr. T. H. Vanderford, Chairman Democratic Executive Committee,

Dear Sir: Replying in your letter of the 8th instant, and to Mr. W. D. Turner's letter attached thereto of the 8rd instant, I heg to say I had no intention of perverting the letter of Mr. W. D. Turner bearing date of May 9th, for it was apparent to my mind that he intended to refer to some one of the "different candidates," who were aspirants for the Democratic one of the "different candidates," who were aspirants for the Democratic nomination for Congress. Notwithstanding Mr. Turner's recent letter, I cannot yet understand why he deemed it necessary to say, in his sulogy of Mr. Armfield, "No private infirmities call for the charity of his friends and no public scandal had ever soiled his name," a fact which will we readily admitted by all who knew Mr. Armfield. Desiring to be perfectly fair to all, I send you herewith a copy of Mr. Turner's letter as it appeared in The Chariotte Observer and I respectfully invite your careful persual spectfully invite your careful persual of the third paragraph thereof. Your statement that I am "willing to engage in a controversy in the newspapers" is erronous for what I have written to you was merely in re-sponse to letters you had written to me and which you saw fit to publish before the originals were received by me. And, too, the first letter you wrote me was entirely superfluous as the action of our committee deciding against a joint canvass was widely published along with the proceed-ings of the convention which nominated Mr. Binckburn, and was, I believe, only intended as a grand stand play. The facts which I recited in my former letter I considered highly pertinent and appropriate for in declining a joint campaign it was neces-sary to give the reasons therefor. it That it did not please you gives me

Respectfully yours, CHAS, H. COWLES. ARMFIELD FOR CONGRESS. To the Editor of The Observer: As the time draws near for holding the primaries in the eighth conare necessarily giving serious sideration to the merits of the differ-ent candidates, I wish to call attention to the character and qualifications of C. H. Armfield, of Statesville, He is about 45 years of age and as a lawyer ranks with the foremost in his district. He is especially strong, bold and aggressive as a de-bater and on the stump will be able to meet and take care of an comers.

He is a Democrat by inheritance and training, and has never wavered in his loyalty to the principles of his party. No private infirmities call for the charity of his friends and no public scandal had ever soiled his name. It is apparent that we are not going to carry the election in this district Special to The Observer.
Gastonia, Aug. 17.—The Lorny aggregation of loft-handed batters over-whelmed Tucapau at Loray Park this afternoon. McFalls, Tucapaus first twirier, was relieved in the fourth by James, who did a little better in some respects. Smith, Lindany and Shuford touched Tucapau for three bases, while Miller, as usual, sent the ball over the feace.

R. H. E. H. E. Armfield will be acceptable to both factions, and will unite the party. Innings:

Well, you answered that satisfac-When does a man become a Now it is needless for me to answer that, for everyone knows that, even the man-hog himself, and that being answered just substitute the word pig for man, then you have the problem solved. It would make it much easier and plainer to a beginner to use the word "how" instead of the word "when."

Hits the Nail Squarely on the Head."

To the Editor of The Observer: I have read all the pieces lately in regard to lynching and its causes, and I consider the article written by and I consider the article written by Mr. F. J. Murdock, of Salisbury, as the best piece yet, and one that "hits the nail squarely on the head," and it would be a good thing if every paper in North Carolina and every ether State would copy it right along for a whole month. And he sums it all up—in sixteen words—when he says, "The cause of lynching is that the law against crimes is not administered swiftly and surely." And any of us could see in numbers of cases where the worst murderers have escaped the worst murderers have escaped hanging through the technicalities of the law and lack of swift justice. The root of the whole matter rests in our laws and courts. CITIZEN. laws and courts.
