WHERE THE FAULT IS. The Messenger-Intelligencer, of Wadesboro, thinks The Observer missed the meaning of a man whom it quoted some days ago as saying that if he had $25,000 he would not be afraid to kill any man in his county.

There is, however, one point in the discussion upon which The Observer and its contemporary are in entire accord. It is of opinion that "the fact that a person charged with a capital offense has twenty-three peremptory challenges, while the State has only four, is a hundred times more often responsible for miscarriages of justice than is direct bribery of jurors."

South Carolina's experiences last week and this answer the question, whether lynching diminishes crime. There was a felonious assault in Greenwood county, followed by a lynching. Then in another county an assault of like character and another lynching; and then in another county, still another similar assault, followed by a third lynching.

To-morrow's Sunday Observer will be of twenty-six pages and will afford a feast of fat things—a great variety of matter, some of it appealing to every taste. Among other things the first instalment of "The Doctor of St. Mark's," by Mrs. Ellen Frisell Wyckoff, will appear.

AN ACT OF SELF-DEFENCE.

The New York Herald prints a dispatch from Lexington, Ky., in which there is much human interest. The item relates that a mule deliberately attacked and smashed the forward part of a big automobile, left standing at the Lexington depot, thereby creating a panic.

The Caucasian, of Raleigh, replying to a recent editorial in The Observer on the subject of crime in North Carolina under fusion and Democratic administrations, asks in conclusion: "Isn't the great increase in crimes in this State the fruits of the seeds sown by the lawless bands of red-shirts that terrorized this State in '98 and 1900 for the purpose of putting your crowd in office?"

The Charlotte Observer, in commenting on the list of Democratic nominees for the Senate, mentioned by The Sentinel the other day, calls attention to the fact that the name of Mr. E. B. Redwine, of Monroe, was omitted. Mr. Redwine is one of the best men nominated thus far and in his Union county will have a splendid representative in the Senate.

That is altogether true, and here is another addition for both of us to make. Our contemporary and The Observer have strangely omitted the name of Mr. Chas. A. Webb, of Buncombe. He is a legislator of experience, of strength, liberality, industry and rectitude. The State is fortunate in the fact that Buncombe is to return him to the Senate. And even after mention of Mr. Webb there are others.

The Observer is opposed to strikes on principle, but it must admit there is much merit in the demands of the Chicago telephone girls, who walked out Thursday, putting out of business 7,000 telephons in the Windy City. It seems that the telephone company issued orders to the girls directing them to enter the building through a rear passage-way, which is muddy by day, and dark, slimy and slippery by night, and on which three saloon entrances open, subjecting the girls to annoyances from the class of hangers-on that frequent such places.

The Vicksburg Herald, referring to the Saluda, S. C., lynching, a few days ago, says: "This is the second [in South Carolina], and it barely missed being the third, since The Columbia State went over the line to sweep its neighbors' door front clean." There has been one more since The Herald wrote. The one in Dorchester county, Thursday, made the third since our Columbia contemporary stepped over into North Carolina in its neighborly mission.

THE WELY CHINAMAN.

Hundreds evade the Immigration Officers Annually and Safely Land in America—Many Straggled in from Mexico and Canada—Some of the Details. Special to The Observer. Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.—Despite the fact that the Immigration authorities of the United States annually deport, for various reasons, an infinitely greater number of aliens of all nationalities than constitute the total arrivals of Chinese in this country, the Chinese give to the government more trouble than all other nationalities combined. In their efforts to evade the exclusion law, they are witty and persistent. If they do not succeed in getting into the country the first time, they try again and again and again, until, eventually, many of them are successful, notwithstanding the vigilance of the immigration officers. Frequently, they are "rounded up" after they have been in the country for a considerable time.

Another interesting instance of coaching was brought to the attention of the immigration authorities in connection with an appeal of one Yee Wing King, who had been denied admission at San Francisco. This Chinamar had made various statements conflicting with those of his witnesses, and a coaching letter was sent to him by his friends in order to inform him that, if he should be re-examined, he would be able to say that his previous testimony was incorrect in some respects, and to correct it so as to make it agree with the statements of his witnesses. The device for the delivery of the letter was cunning. The letter was written in minute characters on a slip of tissue paper which was rolled tightly and enclosed in a large peanut shell, the halves of which were glued together. This was placed in a bag of peanuts and sent to the Chinaman.

Greensboro, Aug. 24.—The police yesterday afternoon arrested Daisy Gibson and Fannie Tatum, wanted for the larceny of a number of pairs of shoes from the store of the Ward Shoe Company. In addition to the shoes they also took a number of stamps and other articles of value in the store. They were arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Neeley and Patrolman Oliver and at once placed in jail to await a hearing.

IN THE AUGUST NIGHT. T. A. Daly, in The Catholic Standard and Times. They are done, with all the heat That swathed the swooning city. The dusk that falls so cool and sweet Is doubly sweet with stir. To those the blissing sun oppressed Beside his window, looking out. The night-wind comes from out the west, A hebe bearing cooler.

IN SELF-DEFENSE. Major Hamm, editor and manager of The Constitutionalist, Independence, Ky., who has been arrested, says that he was, by Miss, bought a box of Bullseye Arsenic balls, of which he says it is proved that he used in a "trouble case." Quickest dealer of Evans, Rowe, Cuts and Wounds Co., at R. H. Jordan & Co.'s drug store.

A SURPRISE WEDDING.

Miss Mary McNeely, of Mooreville, becomes bride of Mr. Early Lashery, of Davidson—Miss Meeting of the Young Men's Association. Special to The Observer. Mooreville, Aug. 24.—The social circles of the town were thrown into a fever of excitement last evening about 7 o'clock when it became known that there was to be a wedding in town, which was in the nature of a complete surprise, only a very few intimate friends and the families of the contracting parties being the wiser. It was the union of one of our most charming young ladies, Miss Mary McNeely, to Mr. Early Lashery, a young business man of Davidson, an attaché of M. H. Goodrum & Co. The ceremony took place at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Mr. E. M. McNeely, on Southern Heights, and was witnessed by a goodly number of friends, who were informal guests. Rev. Dr. Pharr officiated and the happy couple left on the evening train at 8:30 for Montreal and other western resorts.

HEARING POSTPONED. Habeas Corpus Proceedings Instituted at Greensboro by W. H. Hutchins. Special to The Observer. Greensboro, Aug. 24.—The hearing in the habeas corpus proceeding instituted by W. H. Hutchins for the recovery of his children now in the possession of his wife was postponed this morning until to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. Judge Moore made the postponement at the request of counsel for both sides who announced that they were not ready to proceed with the hearing.

WOMAN SUICIDES. Mystery of Disappearance of Mrs. Dave Swinson of Tarboro Cleared Up by Finding of Body in Creek. Special to The Observer. Tarboro, Aug. 24.—Several days ago Mrs. Dave Swinson, of this place, mysteriously disappeared. Diligent search was made for her with no result. However, yesterday afternoon a colored man found her body floating down Hendrick's creek. This creek is on the west boundary line of this place. There is no doubt but that Mrs. Swinson committed suicide as there was no evidence of foul play.

Prof. Frier of Adelphi College, said recently: "A man who has no ambition, who has no desire to rise, who has no other aim, hope or ambition, day by day passes his life in the same groove, and he is a failure. He needs the use of a little courage after over-coming a nervous, like food for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, 700 St. John Street, New York."
