WHAT JASPER MILLER SAYS. He Urges the Farmers to Make a Bold Stroke and Save Themselves and the Country—A Strong Appeal to the Driver of the Mule.

Mr. Jasper Miller, of Charlotte, will now enlighten and advise the farmer. He has sent the following communication to The Observer:

"I had a conference this morning with one of the largest mill men in this State on the cotton situation, and he remarked that the farmers, by sticking together, would be absolute masters of the market this year. To begin with, the world has about one million bales less cotton suited to the demands of the trade than last year, and only a moderate crop making, with a conservative demand of more than will be produced. Why should the farmers not stick together and get the minimum price of ten cents? By withholding the cotton from the market a short while, and then marketing only when the market prices are being paid, the market and the world will soon adjust prices to a level of ten cents, or above. The mills would rather have prices remain up than down, as they can correspondingly good, commensurate with high prices and plenty of money.

"One of the most important things that should engage the attention at this time is the character of cotton that is tenderable on New York contracts. With some 70,000 bales of low-grade stuff congested at that point, the manipulator can make prices to suit the market that is being played. This low grade stuff will deliver on contracts for about two cents per pound more than it would sell for on the open market, and when they want to do it they will let the bulls out of the market, for if the bull takes the cotton the only available place for the stuff is to sell a contract against his takings, and then he has to become a bear himself for self-protection; and when these manipulators want to advance the market, they go in and buy many hundred thousands of bales more than the rig-rat stuff in stock and receive all the notices, or stop them, and up the market goes. It is a bold, bad gamble for the outsider, with funds cut, shuffled and dealt by the man on the spot. Great Congress to take hold of the market, and limit the grade to be tendered to nothing below strict low middling and the world can trade through the New York cotton exchange with safety, and thereby make it a legitimate place of barter and exchange for manufacturer, merchant and farmer alike. Let the farmers come boldly together and take up the price of the $100,000,000 and take up this rig-rat stuff in New York, and then organize mills to spin it up and weave it into guano and grain sacks and dress sacks for the oil mills and buy from only such people as use the sacks for the above mentioned or kindred purposes, and they will find a place for all the sacks they will make from this low stuff, that is now making the price for the entire cotton crop. By this stroke the farmer can at once enhance the price of cotton at least $10.00 per bale. Don't delay this matter, but do it now."

MEETING AT BAPTIST CHURCH. Mr. Fred N. Day, of Winston-Salem, the Jeweler-Evangelist, at Ninth Avenue.

PHILADELPHIA. "Yes," said Miss Koy, "we are engaged, and he is to my heart." "Oh," interrupted Mrs. Denton, "he'll outgrow that."

A PROTRACTED MEETING.

Rev. W. H. Newell, D. D., of Chicago, is conducting a meeting at East Avenue Tabernacle This Week—He is a Bible Student and an Earnest, Single Brother—His Sermon Yesterday Drawed His Congregation—The Four Points of the Gospel His Subject.

It was a large congregation that greeted Rev. W. H. Newell, D. D., of Chicago, yesterday morning at the East Avenue Tabernacle. This service marked the beginning of a series of services which Dr. Newell will conduct. A marked and most encouraging characteristic of East Avenue Tabernacle is that such a large percentage of the congregation consists of young people—men, and women—who, yet but a few number of years before they will reach middle life. The pastor, Rev. W. W. Orr, D. D., and the congregation are actively at work, and the rapid growth of the church is enjoying a result of their work.

Yesterday morning Dr. Newell based his sermon on the first three verses of the 15th chapter of Corinthians, his subject being "The Four Points of the Gospel." These four points are: 1. Christ died for our sins. 2. Christ was buried. 3. Christ was raised from the dead. 4. Christ appeared to His followers.

"I want to warn you first," said Dr. Newell, "against believing everything you hear. Don't believe everything preachers preach. You have no business to accept anything without proving it by the Bible. Every preacher has a following, no matter what his name is. Even that woman who has written a book called 'Science and Health,' which is neither scientific nor healthful, has a following. I refer to Mrs. Eddy, whom many believe has been dead for at least two years. Her carriage goes out from Concord with the curtains drawn, and no one sees her. This book that she wrote teaches that it was necessary that the blood of Jesus Christ be shed in order for it to save us from sin, and that it had as much power when flowing in his veins as when shed. And yet in the Bible, in the book of Hebrews, we read these words: 'Without the shedding of blood, there is no remission.' It is claimed by some that it makes no difference what a man believes, just so he is perfectly sincere, but no person ever perfectly sincere in believing a lie. Never believe anything that the Bible does not prove to be true. Men and women are saved by believing the gospel. They spend eternity in heaven by believing the gospel. Before this book is put into your way to heaven and reaching heaven by believing. By good works shall no flesh be justified, and the only entrance that can be secured into heaven is by means of the door, Jesus Christ.

"Sometimes you hear a man say, 'I can't hold out.' Jesus holds out, and you don't have anything to do with that. I don't believe in the perseverance of the saints, but I do believe in the perseverance of the Savior. Thank God. Some say that you can backslide and lose your religion, while others say, 'Once in grace, always in grace.' I don't know the real meaning of 'once in grace, always in grace,' but I do know that so soul ever perished while holding fast to Paul's gospel. The gospel centers about these four points: Christ's death, burial, resurrection and appearance. And in looking at Christ we must consider who He was, who we are, and remember that He died to save us.

During these meetings I want you to keep Christ before you and not me. Do not think about me, but about Christ, and may we receive a great blessing in this meeting."

Rev. William R. Newell is a learned Bible student and a pleasant and helpful speaker. He spends a large part of his time in conducting meetings, and is successful in his work. He is the son of a Presbyterian minister, and was educated at Princeton. He is an elder in the Moody Church in Chicago, which church is composed of communicants of various denominations.

Dr. Newell impresses his hearers with his careful study of the Bible, and with his earnestness; but that which impresses most is his desire to keep himself out of the service, and to exact Christ. He is a man of broad Christian spirit, and his preaching will help members of all denominations.

Mr. Fred N. Day, of Winston-Salem, the Jeweler-Evangelist, at Ninth Avenue. The series of meetings previously announced to be held at Ninth Avenue Baptist church began yesterday. Mr. Fred N. Day, a Jeweler, of Winston-Salem, will aid Rev. L. R. Frost, the pastor, during the present week. Mr. Day does not claim to be a preacher, yet he has been a most successful evangelist. He has held 50 meetings since he began preaching, which have resulted in nearly a thousand additions to Baptist churches, and a large number to churches of other denominations.

His subject last night was addressed to Christians from Christ's sermon upon the mount, "Let your light so shine before men that they seeing your good works may glorify your father in heaven." Mr. Day is most practical and illustrative in his methods. He is a most successful man in business and very largely applies business methods in addressing the people. One remarkable feature of his work is he does not receive a cent for preaching, not even his railroad expenses. It is his thorough consecration and earnest piety which gives him power with his hearers. He is in great demand among the churches and the Ninth Avenue people are fortunate in securing him.

PRESBYTERIAN COLLEGE NOTES.

A Record-Breaking Attendance—New Members of the Faculty—Other Items.

On account of the large number of students matriculating this year at the Presbyterian College, Dr. J. R. Bridges has been obliged to vacate his apartments and rent a house near the college in order to accommodate them, for the cry is "still they come!" girls from the North and girls from the South; girls from the East and girls from the West, from Canada to Florida, and from Indiana to Texas.

Cinquantennial among the improvements this fall is the fine, large clock which has been placed in the spacious hall as the result of the very successful "colonial" concert last winter, for which there were repeated requests for a repetition.

There are only two new members of the faculty, Miss Critchett, the new physical director, who has had the best training that Boston could furnish, and the vocal teacher, Miss Wade. They both bid fair to rival in popularity their predecessors, who were very popular with the college people. Miss Wade's beautiful and highly cultured voice delights all who hear it, and her artistic training and pleasing personality show that the college has made no mistake in securing her services.

Miss Wallace, who is a former post graduate of the college conservatory and took her degree from the Victoria College of Music, of London, and who has also had two years' experience as music director of Linwood College, has been added to supplement the piano teachers in prospective work.

Miss Irene Allison, a last year's graduate of the conservatory in violin, has been engaged to take Mrs. Fisher's place in violin teaching as she is at present away in Canada.

Dr. C. R. Fisher will resume his lecture recitals, which were so greatly enjoyed last year, giving the first one Tuesday night on impressions gleaned from music association and work in London during the summer. Mrs. Robinson, the new superintendent of the infirmary, has already won the hearts of those who will be so much under her care.

The Young Women's Christian Association held its initiatory meeting Saturday night and enrolled nearly the entire student body.

Big Crowd for the Recorder. The Police Reaped a Big Harvest Yesterday Night—Two More Cases of Store-Breaking—Negro Stole and Sold Mr. J. H. Lillycrop's Fish—Thirteen Negroes Stole Crates of Coca-Cola.

The recorder will have a lively time this morning and session of the city police court will be a reminder of "what utter be." The offenders against the peace of the State and dignity of the law were unusually aggressive Saturday and yesterday morning, and were usually vigilant. The docket that will be presented to the recorder this morning would suggest both.

Stella Martine, Who Plays "Chiquita," in "The Sultan of Sulu."

The next "attraction" at the Academy will be "Peck's Bad Boy," tomorrow night. The house will probably be top-heavy.

FIELD'S MINSTRELS. Her, Burk and McDonald, acknowledged kings of acrobatic comedy and contortionists of world-wide reputation, will be seen with the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels when they appear in this city matinee and night, Wednesday. Their mysterious and startling work is creating a sensation everywhere.

The acrobatic trio was secured at a large expense by Mr. Field for "Dreamland Phantoms," the great scenic spectacle being presented this season by the greater minstrels. They appear in grotesque costumes, diving and flying through the air continually while on the stage. They hold a trick house known as the haunted mill. The contortionists do a series of leaps through windows, doors, ceilings, walls and chimneys. They disappear so rapidly in succession that it requires the closest attention

THE SULTAN IS COMING. "George Ade, so well known as the author of "Fables in Slang," will be heard at the Academy, Saturday, the 23d, matinee and night, when his musical satire, "The Sultan of Sulu," is produced. It is said to be one of the funniest things seen on the extravaganza stage for a long time because it has that touch of satire which Gilbert uses so often and which was once or twice employed by Hoyt. It deals with the American invasion of the Philippines, and is said not only to be beautifully mounted, but funny and melodious. Albert Sykes is the "Sultan" and is said to employ a few methods that were not used before. There are natives, army officers, school teachers and comedians who are in a class by themselves. There are a dozen or more songs in the piece which are said to be catchy. It is evident that most of those who have read the "fables" will try to see the show. There is nothing slangy about the dialogue particularly. It is only American.

Joseph and William W. Jefferson, who have been seen here in a revival of "ACADEMY" Tuesday Evening, Sept. 18th. Farce Comedy Success PECK'S BAD BOY PRICES. Lower Floor, 50 cents. Balcony, 35c and 25c. Gallery, 25c and 15c. Seats on sale at Jordan's Monday morning.

Every woman covets a shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free. The Bradford Regulator Co., Albion, N. Y.

of Sheridan's immortal comedy, "The Widows" undoubtedly inherited a great deal of their respective fathers' talent. Everything they attempt is characterized by fidelity, careful preparation, attention to detail, and the performance they give are always artistic and enjoyable to the highest degree. This season the younger Jeffersons have entirely departed from the Jefferson method of playing nothing but comedies written by the old masters, and have made a big scenic production of a modern, up-to-date comedy written for them by Cleveland Moffett and Hartley Davis, entitled, "Playing the Game," which made marked success wherever produced. The same standard of excellence has been maintained in the selection of the supporting cast that has characterized the Jefferson company heretofore. Ernest Albert, it is said, has painted two beautiful scenes for this play, one showing the reading and writing room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, and the other the interior of a famous artist's studio, both of which are exact reproductions of the originals. Joseph Jefferson is cast for a part somewhat new to the stage, especially in the treatment given to it by the artist, that of a real Southern gentleman, the kind that the sunny South is so justly proud of, while William W. Jefferson, with his light, breezy comedy, has made the part of "Fercy Charlton," a young butterfly of society and fashion, one of the big hits. It is said, of the present season. Much has been said in favor of this production, and people of Charlotte will have an opportunity to judge for themselves at an early date at the Academy.
