RESULT POGONIAS EXPLOSION

Number of Bodies Have Been Located by Exploring Parties. But Cannot Be Brought Up on Account of the Delays. Body of First Rescue Party Overcome by Gas. Two Lost Their Lives—30 or 40 in Reach of the Explosion, But Number Not Known—The Death List.

Reno, Va., Oct. 4.—A special from Pocahontas at 11 o'clock tonight to The Times says: The work of rescuing bodies from the West mine has been in progress since early last night. The first rescue party to go into the mine was headed by Superintendent William E. Leslie, who took with him John Odham, W. H. Talbot and J. J. Brown. This party had little success, as three members were overcome with gas. Odham and Brown being their lives, and Talbot being brought out unconscious. The mine was then abandoned as the rescue party progressed and at this time, 3 o'clock p. m., they have about reached the place of the origin of the explosion. The body of one miner has been recovered up to this hour. It is that of C. Cook, who was within 100 feet of the outside when found. He was the only survivor of the explosion of 1884. A number of bodies have been located by the exploring parties, but cannot be brought to the surface on account of the debris occasioned by the terrific explosion, which in some places has piled up members of the mine and killed some of them. Those known to be dead are:

FOR FAIR VOTE ON STATEHOOD

President Notifies Territorial Governors of Arizona and New Mexico of Joint Statehood Regarding Approaching Election.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 4.—Governor Kibbey has received the following letter from President Roosevelt: "My Dear Governor Kibbey: It is my duty to notify you that grave charges have been made to me that under the organization of which you are the active leader there will not be a fair count of votes on the question of statehood. If these charges were founded, they would not only be a national disaster, I have no doubt there is no truth in them, but some prominent people in the United States do believe them, and they are joined in the belief by some of the most prominent people of Arizona and New Mexico. Therefore, to avoid all criticism, I direct that if you can in any way arrange it you will have representatives of the statehood people present at the canvassing of the vote on statehood. I have sent a copy of this letter to Governor Hagerman, of New Mexico, and directed him to make some arrangement that will have representatives from both the statehood and the non-statehood parties present to witness the count of the votes."

She afterwards subjected to their offensive acts. A gentleman from Tennessee, a railroad man, was a witness to the performance and instantly rushed at the negroes, striking each of them a terrific blow. The men were at his side and in the mix-up confusion the negroes escaped. Their identity is not known. They made no pretense at fight, but bolted at the first onslaught. Massachusetts Democratic Convention inaugurated New Era by Nominating for Governor, District Attorney Moran, Already Nominee of Hearst's Independence League and the Prohibition Party—Fight Over Election of President. Layton-Hoovering Continued Till To-day—More Political Appointments. Raleigh News Notes.

Boston, Oct. 4.—The new era for the Massachusetts Democracy was inaugurated to-day by the State convention of that party, which, after a turbulent struggle over endorsing William Jennings Bryan and William B. Hearst, John B. Moran, district attorney for Suffolk county, who was already the nominee of the Prohibition party and the Independence League, was nominated for Governor by acclamation. Says in one possible particular, Moran dominated the convention absolutely and completely, and his so-called radical wing of the party, of which he is the spokesman, and the active leader, was indisputably in control. The Moran sentiment, which the old party leaders had vainly sought to stem before the primaries, swept everything before it.

MANY DEMANDS FOR REFORMS.

The platform adopted was prolific in demands for reform and centered largely on the subject of the holding of elections in June. The question of the status of Congress, and whether Senators and Representatives are to receive their salaries after the adjournment of the legislature, will be decided in Washington. Reports of the disarmament operations show considerable delay and opposition. On the whole, the work is progressing smoothly and the only complication encountered was met and disposed of to-day by General Funston, assisted by General Agramonte, of the disarmament commission. It appears that General Asbert's agreement to disarm and disband was conditional on the surrender and disarmament also of all the policemen in the town of Guinea. Generals Funston and Agramonte straighten out the matter. Upon their arrival the mayor of Guinea, Senor Ayala, absolutely refused to discharge the police. General Funston declared that unless the police were disbanded, the disarmament would be abandoned. A force of 1,100 men, and that would possibly result in bloodshed. Argument had no effect on the mayor until he was told that he could retain the police in the roll and reinstate his men after quiet had been restored. General Funston further suggested the sending of marines to police the town temporarily. This was accepted. General Agramonte and Agramonte visited General Asbert at the village of Cotter, and found him agreeable to this compromise. Accordingly, 25 marines will be sent to-day to Cotter to police the town and receive, under the supervision of General Agramonte, the arms of Asbert's force.

MANY WANT ANNEXATION.

TALK IN HAVANA GROWS OPEN

Desire for Inclusion Among the United States Carefully Concealed. The Past Five Years is Now Freely Expressed—Representatives of Leading Elements, Both Cuban and Foreign, to Hold Meeting Sunday Night for the Revolutions. Layton-Hoovering Continued Till To-day—More Political Appointments. Raleigh News Notes.

Havana, Oct. 4.—Now that the disarmament of the revolutionists and the government volunteers is progressing steadily the thoughtful portions of the public of all nationalities are again intimately discussing the possibilities of Cuba's future form of government. The desire for annexation, which has been carefully concealed for the past four years, is now voiced openly, and the wish that the United States retain some measure of actual control in Cuban affairs is heard more insistently than ever.

DESIRE FOR ANNEXATION.

Representatives of leading elements, both Cuban and foreign, have been assembled here to discuss the feasibility of holding some sort of plebiscite by which all classes of the population would be enabled to express their ideas on what the future form of government should be.

DESIRE FOR ANNEXATION.

The idea of holding the next elections in January has been abandoned. A general preference among Cubans appears to favor the holding of elections in June. The question of the status of Congress, and whether Senators and Representatives are to receive their salaries after the adjournment of the legislature, will be decided in Washington.

Resolution Against Secret Rates. Alleged to be Made by Even the Biggest Companies to the Richer Members of Communities in Return for Their Influence—Dividends Promised to Less Well-to-Do People Said to Really Go to the Wealthy—Fraternal Rates Must Be Raised.

Washington, Oct. 4.—The National Association of Insurance Commissioners to-day adopted a strong resolution against the practice of granting rebates from which it was stated the public had suffered even at the hands of some of the largest local revolutionists anxious to get insurance companies run regular get-rich-quick schemes under the guise of offering enormous dividends. It was shown to be a fact that frequently some wealthy and influential man in a community offers a secret or special contract, reducing the cost of the insurance to him on the promise that he will work for the ends of the company.

Harrisburg, Pa., Oct. 4.—President Roosevelt made a flying trip to Harrisburg and York to-day and in each city he made a speech in the rain. At both places he wore a dark raincoat and light rubber, while speaking, to protect him from the storm. The President left Washington in a special train this morning in company with United States Senators Pearson and Knox, of Pennsylvania, and returned to the national capital this evening. He enjoyed the trip immensely and except for a slight soreness he did not suffer from the rain. He was in good spirit when he left York and said he had spent a most pleasant day.
