Mrs. Ellen M. White, of Concord, is visiting her brother, Mr. R. C. White.

May, at which time he was the first of the three bishops elected at that session of the Conference. He had just begun the work of his Episcopal office when the end came, and his popularity which was already so widespread would no doubt have increased had he lived.

He was married to Miss Amelia McTyeire, daughter of the late Bishop H. N. McTyeire, and his wife and several children survive him, one of the latter being J. J. Tigert, Jr., who is now a Rhodes scholarship at Oxford University.

BRIEFS.

A Few Minor Happenings in and About the City.

—The concert by signor Patricia and the Richardson Orchestra at the Academy of Music to-night.

—The concert by signor Patricia and the Richardson Orchestra at the Academy of Music to-night.

—The King of the Golden River will be the subject at the Carnegie Library for the children's hour, at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon.

—Deputy Register of Deeds Ben. J. Powell, yesterday, issued license for the marriage of Mr. G. A. Warwick and Mrs. Anna Clark, of Berryhill township.

—The Odson has had the best moving picture yet this week, and it was presented to a large crowd, which was very much pleased. The best picture was "Escaped From Sing Sing."

—The Barona class of Tryon Street Methodist Sunday school and the Epworth League of the church have issued invitations to a reception to be given in the Sunday school room next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

—Mr. J. T. Compton has purchased through the Southern Real Estate Loan and Trust Company, a house and lot on the Boulevard in Dilworth, the consideration being $4,000. The house is now occupied by Mr. Zeigler.

—The receipts at the city cotton platform yesterday were 187 bales, and the best price paid for the staple was 10.75 cents a pound. The receipts for the corresponding date of last year, when the price was 11.05 cents a pound, were 76 bales.

—The city fire department was called out yesterday noon by a small blaze at the house at No. 218 East Boundary street. The roof had caught fire from the chimney. The blaze was quickly extinguished and the damage amounted to only a few dollars.

—The builders of the city have been making excellent use of the good weather during the last 10 days. Scores of business and residences are in the course of construction in every part of the town and every hour of favorable weather counts on exterior work.

—The new county officials elected the 6th instant will be sworn in the first Monday in December. There will be few changes. Besides the changes on the board of county commissioners and one tax-collector, about the only change to be made at the court house will be that of register of deeds. Deputy Clerk of the Court W. M. Moore will cross the hall and assume the duties of register.

Tremendous Shipment of Hides From Asheville.

Special to The Observer.

Asheville, Nov. 22.—One of the largest if not the largest shipment of hides ever made from this city of State went out last week from the establishment of S. Sternberg & Co., of Asheville. The shipment consisted of almost half a train load of the skins. There were six cars loaded with the hides and the total weight is given at 30,000 pounds. The hides were shipped West. Mr. Sternberg's friends contend that the shipment was not only the largest that has been made in North Carolina but that not a single dollar in the South has ever shipped such a cargo of freight before the shipment of last week.

Doings in Thomasville.

Special to The Observer.

Thomasville, Nov. 22.—The funeral rites of Miss Maggie Whitaker, a highly esteemed lady of the town, were conducted at the old homestead Monday afternoon. Rev. C. M. Campbell officiated, having been invited to the funeral. He was Miss Whitaker's former pastor and special friend.

Rev. T. W. Walls, the pastor of the Methodist church for the last year, has decided to rest a year, probably in Florida, where it is hoped he will entirely regain his strength.

The news that Rev. Parker Holmes is to be pastor of the Methodist church here next year has met with great satisfaction to the congregation, and we will welcome him and his family in our midst.
