Large Delegation Goes From Durham to Attend District Meeting—Speech-es Made.

Special to The Observer. Durham, Dec. 14 .- Last evening a large number of Durham Pythians went from here to Henderson to attend the annual session of the meeting in this, the fifth district. In order to accommodate those who went from here the Seaboard road operated a special train, leaving here this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, and returned late last night, leaving Henderson after the meeting and the banquet were over.

Mr. J., E. Pegram, of this city, is the district deputy grand chancelfor and it was through his efforts that the Seaboard arranged the speents. cial train for handling those who the traffic wished to go from here to take in this meeting of the Pythians. There are three lodges here--Durham. East and West Durham-and in addition there

Special to The Observer Greenshoro, Dec. 14 .- There was an Interesting case in Superior Court this week in which Martin Highfield was charged with having failed to work the road in hitownship when summoned. The defendant was notified one Saturday afternoon to work the road on the following Tuesday, but could not be present at the time, but offered to the supervisor a deposit of $1.75, which was refused. The trouble was as much due to a personal difficulty some time previous as to anything else. Judge Moore Instructed the lury that if they believed the evidence they should find the defendant guilty. They returned a verdict of guilty, and the attorney for the defendant appealed to the Supreme Court. Judge Moore said that if the defendant had offered as much as $2, the amount required by law it would have plac-ed the case in a different light. It is learned that the young man who was killed and his body so ribly mangled here last night was Fal 1. Murray, of Burlington. The body was shipped to-day to Burlington for interment there. The exact circuminterment there. stances of the accident have not been ascertained, but it is believed that he was stealing a ride
