THE MISSIONARY INSTITUTE

The First Session of the Charlotte District held at Trinity Methodist Church yesterday afternoon—The First Speaker Was Rev. J. M. Pickens, of Pineville, and His Subject Was "The Epworth League and Missions."—Mrs. Frank L. Siler, of Statesville, Spoke on Home Missions—Others Discussed Various Subjects.

The Missionary Institute of the Charlotte District met in Trinity Methodist Church yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock. Rev. J. E. Thompson, presiding elder, presided at this session, and conducted the devotional exercises.

The first speaker at this session was Rev. C. M. Pickens, of Pineville, and his subject was "The Epworth League and Missions." He spoke first of the missionary plan of the Epworth League which has grown with the organization, and said that one of the greatest ideas of the Epworth League is for all the assessments of the Church to be made in full. He spoke then of the benefit which comes to the Church through the mission study classes of the Epworth League, emphasizing the statement that the day is past when much can be accomplished for the Church through reading, because of the fact that the Church as well as the world is in a hurry, hence the necessity for the study classes. He cited the great work that is being accomplished by the women's societies through means of their study classes, in the study of missions. He stated that missions is the greatest of all studies for the Church to make, and that when members of the Church get thoroughly interested in this subject, they will soon get them interested in all the other work of the Church, and that when the assessments for the work are made it is no difficult to get the other assessments paid.

The next speaker was Mrs. Frank L. Siler, president of the Western North Carolina Conference, and recording secretary of the Woman's Board of Home Missions of the M. E. Church, South. Mrs. Siler is a woman of strong and well-balanced intellect, and a devotion to duty and consecration of life that easily mark her as one of the ablest women of her Church. For a number of years Mrs. Siler has held responsible positions with the Home Mission Society, and is a leader in all phases of Christian work she is called to do. As a speaker she possesses a charm of delivery and oratory that attract the interest and interest attention all through her address. She spoke yesterday of the educational and rescue work, the work among the Cuban Indians, Chinese and other foreigners in this country, and of the supply department which is a prominent part of the work. She spoke of the training in the various branches of the building of parsonages, many hundred having received such aid during the past year.

Mrs. Siler will speak again this afternoon at a session of the institute that will be held in the evening at the home of the Woman's Foreign and Home Missions Societies, and all ladies of the city are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Mrs. Siler is an enthusiastic worker in the Foreign Missionary Society also, and speaks as interestingly of her work. She has with her a number of pictures which illustrate well the work of the Home, Foreign and which she will be glad to show to all who desire to see them.

Rev. W. H. Willis, of Monroe, spoke on "The Living Link," and made a strong plea for more churches to support missionaries in the foreign field. Central Methodist Church of Monroe, of which he is pastor, supports Rev. J. R. Moore, in Korea, and Mr. Ware spoke of the great success the church has gained spiritually and along the lines of liberality and broadening of Christian spirit in account of providing for the support of the missionary. He gave interesting statistics, which showed how little, comparatively, the Church is doing for the unevangelized of the world, and said this condition was due largely to the fact that the Church lacks information and education regarding existing conditions. He claims that the Church must have education along these lines before its interest will be aroused, and that upon the missionary, who is the "living link," depends in a large measure the vitality of the Church. Mr. Ware and Rev. W. H. Willis, of Cornelius, whose church also supports a missionary spoke to the Institute of the plans adopted in order to get their congregation to give the money for this purpose.

At eight Mr. G. W. Brinkman spoke on "The Sunday School and Missions," and he was followed by Rev. W. H. Willis, who spoke on "Missions in General." It was expected that Rev. J. R. Moore would address this meeting, but just before service a telegram was received from him stating that he is detained in Greensboro on account of the illness of his child from diphtheria. The Institute will hold a session this morning and another this afternoon, to which all are invited.

Eagles Have Delightful Social Session. The Zeb Vance Aerie of Eagles had a most delightful social session last evening in the Odd Fellows' Hall on East Trade street. The following programme was rendered in a most enjoyable manner and was followed by bountiful refreshments: Song, Greater Charlotte Quartette; Dialogue, "Buster Brown and Mary Jane," by the two small children of Mr. C. B. Frieler; address, "F. O. E.," Mr. T. G. McMichael; selection, Victor talking machine; selection, Greater Charlotte Quartette; address, "Fraternalism," Mr. J. E. Little; address, "The Good of the Order," Dr. A. Fisher; Observations, Mr. W. S. Shelor.

Eaton's Hot-Pressed Nellum is a fine paper for correspondence; is so made that it closely resembles the famous hot-pressed paper used by artists. It is fine, white and rich looking, and has a surface that is easy to write upon. If you have been looking for "something different," this is just it—a paper that is an invitation and an inspiration to keep up one's correspondence. And the price is moderate, the several sizes and shapes attractively boxed, at fifty cents the box.

And for a good paper that is cheap and always in good form there is nothing better than our KARA LINEN at 35c the pound.
