STOCK MARKET UNSTABLE. The Market Plays a See-Saw Game, Though the Margin is Narrow and the Volume of Trade Small. New York, Jan. 22.-Values were ex-ceedingly unstable in the stock market or the fuctuations were constant, whether upward or downward. The range of the fluctuations also was nar-row and the volume of dealings on which they were made was small. The limited dealings apparently were in professional hand there was no evidences of any wakened outside interest in the mar-set. The transactions of the day seem-ed to represent nothing more than a con-stant manouevering for position between parties of professional operators, or test-ing operations to ascertain the tendency. Adoubtful state of speculative opinion is the matural inference from these ap-pearances. The current discuston and mixed sentiment on the outlook as it found expression in the neighborhood of the tock exchange confirmed this infer-ence. The broken employed in the exe-conveyed an impression of important buying and protection of prices against absorption of a substantial character was going on at any concession in prices tack by inside interests in the proper-ties. The surgestion was prompted that absorption of a substantial character was going on at any concession in prices tack by inside interests in the proper-ties. The money market was extremely dull and borrowers were inclined to awalt a hoped-for opportunity for even better terms than are now procurable. The de-cline in interest rates is leading to the retirement of loans placed here by inte-rior banks during the period of high rates. The day's not changes in stocks are generally small, as would be ex-pected in such a market. The market was heavy during the latter part of the day and last prices were about the low-est.

The blade (field is over four Inches long and a dangerous piece of steel. Upon the blade of the knife blood yet shows, notwithstanding Hudspeth said he tried to get it off by sticking it in red clay. Hudspeth says when leaving here he went to Burlington, where he spent Sun-day, and from there to Greensboro on the train and on to Kernesville, where, on seeing Officer Myers, of this place, pass on his way to Winston, his heart failed him and he gave himself up to Officer Stafford, of that town. In coming on beck, Officer Gray had occasion to ask him about the deed and in speaking of cutting him asked Hudspoth if he had to press hard for his knife to go in so far, and Hudspeth replied, "No, it went in just as e-a-s-y." Hudspeth, while only If years of age, looks yet still younger, but seems to have the don't-care air more than an older nran. The fear of the officers and the dread of being hunted down wherever he went preyed so upon his mind that he said he would rather be focked up and have his mind free from this part of the proceedings. There was some talk on the streets last night to the effect that Hudspeth would be able to give bond, which was fixed at a small figure con-sidering the crime. It is thought that this is a mistake as it may be contended that it was murder in the first degree-premeditated in that he went out to Church after being advised to come back by his brother. yesterday afternoon, and it made the cold chills creep over any one that looked at 148% 13254 9756 27856 Alexander & Garsed 100% 93 76% 186% 50% 16% $23 136 24% 86% 126 165 17 by his brother.

New York, Jan. 22.-A quiet but steady market in the face of the continued heavy movement is evidence of the un-derlying bullish sentiment among our local trade as there is little demand from other sources. All are waiting for new factor upon which to buy for higher prices based upon the belief that the con-tinued premium paid for high grades will sustain prices until the demand is turned upon the lower grades.
