The great canvass for $40,000 to meet the conditions set by the boards of directors and trustees to secure the $20,000 offered by them for the new Young Men's Christian Association building came to a glorious close last night at 11 o'clock.

After the game of basketball in the gymnasium about 200 people gathered to hear the final reports of from their work. The enthusiasm was very great and as the reports came in one after another the applause was deafening.

The total sum secured the last day of the canvage was $8,141.75. When this result was announced the committeemen were beside themselves that the audience sing "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow" and this great old hymn of the church was sung most fervently.

Congratulatory speeches were made

Mr. J. A. Jones entertained the building committee and canvassers at an elaborate banquet in the ball room of the Hotel Selwyn last night. At 11 o'clock, the half-hundred invited guests gathered in the lobby and on the stroke of the clock marched up to the room on the second floor. Mr. Jones as host sat at one end of the long table and Mr. W. F. Dowd at the other. The banquet was all that one could wish, and was served in admirable style. After the feasting, which lapped over considerably into Sunday morning, several informal addresses were delivered by a number those present. The evening was a most enjoyable one and was a fitting end to a season of unprecedented good fortune to the local Young Men's Christian Association and the city

Flooded White Fleeing People Looked Back in Terror—Seven Hundred Feet of Shore Line Inundated and Many Houses Collapse. Naples, Feb. 3 .- A very severe torm has caused serious damage on the Calabrian coast. At Maring di Catanzaro, a fishing village, a tidal wave swept in and practically carried the village away. The loss of life was slight. The wave was preceded by a torrential downpour of rain, a fierce wind and constant flashes of lightning. There served to warn the people of the village, who began to be held, the next to take place Monday. It was authoritatively stated to-night that the one accomplishthe committeemen as they returned people of the village, who began to move back from the shore. The wave flooded the village while the fleeing people looked back in terror.

Seven hundred feet of the shore line was inundated. Several houses collapsed entirely and the rush of water carried off everything portable. Many with joy. Few could really believed that the desired result was accomplished and the $40,000 and more had been secured.

The people are still in a condition of terror and panic. One woman is reported dead and four persons were unaccounted for. The school house unaccounted into a hospital has been transformed into a hospital and shelters a score of wounded per-sons. The people of the village have sought refuge in the surrounding hills, but some clustered to-night about the village church which stands on high ground. At Messins, also, the storm was severe and caused considerable damage. Bridges have been swept away and railroad communication is interrupt-ed. A landslide at Guidemandri buried a house and three persons lost their lives.

The crops have been destroyed by the floods. The reports from Taranto say there is great apprehension concerning the fate of eight fishing boats that have not been seen since the storm. THE POISONING CASE.

Member of Party Whose Members Drank Something From Effects of Which One Died Tells of Circumstances-Mr. Scoggins a Sick Man. ectal to The Observer,

Gaffney, S. C., Feb. 9.—Hosea Bright, one of the men who was poisoned at Spartanburg last Monday from drinking a decoction the nature of which is not exactly known, rays that J. F. Farmer, W. P. Scoggins and his brother, Brud Bright, went to Spartanburg; that after their arrival he and Farmer went out to look for something to drink; that they first went to a negro barber named Tally, whom they knew; that Tally told them he had nothing, but that he would send out and get some blackberry wine; that in a few min-utes the boy came back with the stuff which he called wine; that he and Farmer drank pretty freely of it, I ut experienced no lil effects from it; that they then returned to the lot where the others were and reported that they could find no whiskey About this time a man named Childers, who lives at Converse, S. C., came up and told them he could get some good 786.00 stuft similar to some which he had Com. J-Chairman Brown 3,425.00 bottle, pronounced it good and at man he had assaulted was dead. The

> to a little negro. Within a few minutes the negro came tack with a quart bottle filled with the stuff. Howea took a drink of it, but as if tated bitter and unpalatable, he spat it out, the others bury. drinking pretty freely of the mixture. Within a short time Farmer commenced to complain, saying he had shooting pains in his head and was getting blind. The others also complained, Farmer stating that he thought the stuff which they had been drinking contained wood alcohol. Farmer got so unwell that he went to the wagon in the lot and laid down. He complained all Monday night. The next morning they fried some cabbage for breakfast, which were furnished by a mountain wagoner. Bright says he ate more freely of the cabbage than any of the others. Larly in the afternoon they started home, intending to camp at Zion Hill or Monn. Zion. When they arrived at Mount Zion he was the only man of the party who was ab's to do anything at all, the others being hors de combat. Farmer was suffering so intensely he (Hosea) went to the telegraph office and tried to get a physician for him, but did not succeed. Scoggins and Brud vomited frequently during the night, but Farmer seemed unable to vomit to any extent. Farmer and both the others complained of shooting pains in their heads and tingling at the ends of their fingers. He hitched up the teams early Wednesday morning and started; and when he got to Converse he tried again to get a doctor, out failed. While they were at Converso Farmer asked for a drink of water, but when it was handed to him he said he could not see it and laid down again without taking the same. He then started on, but just after he crossed Pacolet river Farmer breathed his last. The others spent the night

Both Hosea Bright and Brud are practically over the effects of poison (if poison it was), but Mr. Scoggins is still confined to the house and his condition to-day is not asarly so favorable as it has been. It is doubtful whether or not he will be able to attend the inquest, which is to be resumed at Cowpens Monday. They are informed that the man Childers, through whom they obtained the stuff, manufactures the same at Converse and makes a practice of carrying a quantity of it to Spartanburg on every salesday to deal out to the trade.
