Yesterday was indeed a churchgoing Sabbath in Charlotte. During the hours just previous to and just after the time for service in the various churches, the streets were thronged with men, women and children going to and from the services.
The congregations were all large, and there was considerable comment regarding the number of able sermons

Rev. A. R. Shaw began his pastorate at the Tenth Avenue Presbyterian church, and the interests of the church along all lines have advanced rapidly yet substantially under his leadership. He is a thoughtful, earnest preacher, who in his every sermon gives his congregation much to give them spiritual strength, not only for the hour, but for the week to follow. And as a pastor Mr. Shaw is a man who has a strong hold upon the hearts of his people. His sincerity wins confidence and holds it, and this in a large measure acounts for his success in this and other pastorates he has held.

Yesterday morning Mr. Shaw used

Some one has said: "The work of securing better government is a work in which religon can give no aid.' In the abstract this may be true, but in the olden time religion was an essential element in the life of a city. Its relation to the city was one of filial piety, not constitutional dependence. Dr. Orr's text was : "As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you." He spoke particularly of the fact that comes to a people because they need Him, and He expects each one of His children to go wherever there is need for the gospel to be preached. He said that only men and women who were divinely taught were fitted for carrying the gospel to the un-saved, and said that wherever there is a call for spiritual light it is as genuine a call to duty as the Macedonian call to the great apostle. In closing he spoke of the need for more Christian work in Charlotte, and urged the members of his congregation to study to possess qualifications that Christ has in His life-love, sympathy, willingness, faithfulness to every duty.

AND YET ANOTHER FIRE.

Fine Barn of Mr. Vic Bailes, Who Lives Near Pineville, Destroyed— Supposed to be of Incendiary

Another barn in the lower section of the county was burned last hight, this time the stables of Mr. Vic Bailes being destroyed. The flames were discovered shortly after dark. The stock was saved, but almost all the corn, hay and fodder was lost, The barn was a new one and something more than $1,000. total loss will approximate $1,830. The fire is believed to be of incendiary origin. There are many points of resemblance between it and the other fires which happened in Steele Creek several weeks ago. Effort is now being made to ferret out the trouble.

Blood hounds were secured last

Blood hounds were secured last night from the convict camp at Shopton. There has been an unprecedented number of fires in the county during the past few weeks. Mr. Halles is a son of Mr. Baxter Ralles and is one of the most substantial farmers in the lower section of the county.
