BRIEFS

A Few Minor Happenings in and About the City. The banquet of the First Baptist Sunday school will be given at the Selwyn on the 12th.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gaffney have moved from No. 607 North Pine street to 213 West Seventh street.

LeGrande, the 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard L. Hunter, who has been seriously ill, is improving.

Patrolman J. P. C. Morris and family have moved from 1118 South Caldwell street to 409 East Fourth street.

Mr. W. S. Garrison, who went to Atlanta to accept a position some days ago, has been ill, but is now improving.

At St. Mark's Lutheran church this afternoon at 4 o'clock vesper services and confirmation lectures will be held. The public is invited.

The children's room at the Carnegie Library will be decorated this afternoon in honor of Washington's birthday. The children's hour will be 4 o'clock.

J. B. Ivey & Co. are making extensive improvements in the millinery department. They will have more room and more light. The upstairs floor is being enlarged.

The subject of Governor R. B. Glenn's address to be delivered in the First Baptist church Sunday school room Sunday afternoon, March 24, is: "North Carolina's Need of Strong Christian Young Men."

Work on the new residence being built by Mr. C. O. Brown at the corner of Torrence and Elizabeth avenues is now under way. It is proposed by Mr. Brown to erect a residence handsome and in every way modern.

Carl Cameron and L. Z. Dean, white boys, were fined $2.50 each and the coats for having mixed in an indiscriminate and disorderly manner Wednesday afternoon. The affray was adjudged in the recorder's court yesterday morning.

The children of the primary department of the new graded school celebrated Washington's birthday yesterday by singing songs and giving recitations. They were a day early on account of there being no school to-day.

Mr. J. E. Hammerly, who is manager of the local Western Union office, expects to leave next week for Waycross, Ga., where he formerly lived. He will spend a month's vacation there. During Mr. Hammerly's absence, Mr. F. R. Veal, of Richmond, Va., will sub for him.

The pastor and official membership of Tryon Street Methodist church expect themselves to much encouraged over the outlook for the protracted meeting which is to be held in that church by Rev. Walter Holcomb, beginning March 3. Mr. Holcomb will be accompanied by Mr. L. A. Smoot, who will lead the singing throughout the meetings.

Prof. Ingram May be Called on to Testify. It is generally understood that Prof. Jean Napoleon Ingram, alias Jimmie Jones, will be summoned to Greensboro to appear as a witness for Uncle Sam in the cotton mill cases. Inspector McLaughlin, who is here has been on the lookout for the professor, but has not yet located him. It will be recalled that the English girls used to amuse themselves running their lily white fingers through Prof. Ingram's cardinal mutton chops. It was not an unusual sight to see the Cabarrus county globe trotter sitting on the balcony of the Charlotte Hotel, cooling, biling and smiling and frolicking with the O'Haras, the Kellys and others.

The defendants may call on Prof. Ingram to testify as to the scarcity of labor in this country.

This Promises to be the Day. This may be the interesting day at Raleigh. A committee went from here last night, and will advance on the Capitol to-day. Charlotte will be on the lookout for something out of the ordinary soon. The charter is promised and expected.

MRS. HEATH AS HOSTESS.

She Entertained the Home Mission Society of Tryon Street Methodist Church—Hatchets as Souvenirs.

Mrs. B. D. Heath was hostess yesterday afternoon to the Home Mission Society of Tryon Street Methodist church, of which she is the president. Almost the entire society was present and a more thoroughly enjoyable occasion would be difficult to imagine. Mrs. Heath, always charming, is at her best as hostess.

The entertainment for her guests embodied the spirit of the day, a "Washington jumble" contest, and when the papers were collected it was found that Mrs. D. H. Anderson had succeeded in unraveling the greatest number of the difficult jumbles and was rewarded for her strenuous mental activity with a jar of crystallized cherries, as red as those which would have grown on the famous tree had not the illustrious small boy exercised upon it with his hatchet. Hatchets! Mrs. Heath had hatchets galore, which, in a most original way, she presented as souvenirs to the members of the society. It so happened that these hatchets are hollow, with the end of the handle removable, and they were presented with the following instructions: "One year from to-day I want you all to come back and bring these hatchets full of 'pledge money' for the Home Mission Society, and if you cannot get the money any other way, 'hatch-it.'"

FREE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

Will be Given in Honor of Washington's Birthday. As a fitting tribute to "The Father of His Country," the Charlotte Music Company is to give a free concert at the Golden Harp Music Store, 25 North Tryon, at 8:30 o'clock to-night. With the exception of a couple of numbers to be given by the inner player piano, the numbers will be made up largely of patriotic songs, quartettes and marches, as per the following programme:

"Hail to the Spirit of Liberty"—Sousa... Columbia Band "William Tell Overture"—Rossini... Kingsbury Inner-Player Piano "The Good Old U. S. A."—Baritone Solo... Byron G. Harlan Portions of the last speech of President McKinley... Spencer "Happy Land"—Columbia Quartette "Liberty Bell March"—Columbia Band "Handy Dandy in Dixie" "Popularity"—March and Two Step "Banjo" "Peter Piper"—Two-Step "Maryland, My Maryland" "Geo. Alexander and Orchestra phone" "Chas. F. Stone "You're a Grand Old Rag" "Billy Murray and Orchestra "Rover Hunking Trip "Round the World in His Air Ship" "The Gwine Back to Dixie" "America"—Baritone Solo "The public is invited."

A Small Boy on a Teat. Mrs. Doan Harris, who lives at the corner of Smith and Eleventh streets, had to call in the police officers to take charge of Robert, her half-grown son, who was on a glorious spree last night. The lad had gotten hold of some liquor in this dry town and was making things warm around home. The officers arrested him.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED. Chas. W. Moore, a machinist of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Buckler's Electric Salve with the usual result: A quick and perfect cure. Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Blisters and Piles. Sold at all drug stores.
