A TAR HEEL IN THE WEST

"Reddy" McGinnis, as he was generally known, associated with Gov. John Sparks, of Nevada, in a gigantic mining enterprise

I'M offering to my friends and old clients of North Carolina the first opportunity to buy the first allotment of 100,000 shares of

The Storm Cloud Mining Company's Treasury Stock

After several month's investigation, conviction has followed and I am in position to recommend this STOCK to my friends as being the safest and best investment offered in this land of peerless opportunity.

The property consists of 64 acres, believed to be the richest in Nevada, and lies on the summit of the famous Blue Dick Mountain and is surrounded by rich old producing mines.

Gov. Sparks of Nevada, known far and wide as "Honest John," heads this company as its president. With him are associated California Capitalists and sterling business men of Goldfield, insuring economical and honest administration of the Company's affairs.

Eighteen Goldfield Properties Show an Increase of $40,000,000 in One Year, or Over $2,000,000 Each.
(From Goldfield Daily Tribune, Feb. 4, 1907.)

STORM CLOUD to-day 50 cents. What will it be one year hence?			$40,450,000

What others have done you can do. $100.00 invested in Mohawk one year ago would have netted $41,000.00 to day. Think of it.

The Storm Cloud is not a Prospect but a Producing Mine with bonanza ore sacked on its dump awaiting the completion of the railroad now under construction to haul it to the reduction works.

Money raised by this offering of stock is to be used exclusively in erecting buildings for the miners, constructing roads, installing new and up-to-date machinery and converting the ore into bullion. I invite a comparison of this stock to any of the above 18 and firmly believe we have a better showing than any of them had a year ago.

Act at once and wire at my expense for reservation of amount of stock you would like set aside, same to be followed by remittance, either by P. O. money order or N. Y. Exchange, payable to my order, and same will be held for you, no matter what its value may become in the meantime. Don't miss this opportunity for it will mean much to you within the next six months.

E. C. MCGINNIS, Box 124, Goldfield, Nevada
