

WILDS THE PARTY CRASH

watched closely the progress of the Legislature do not hesitate to say that Mr. Daniels is capable of such a trick. His feeling against Mr. Page is so great that he would go to any extreme to injure his road. Before the conference bill ever reached the House, it was understood that it had been amended, and it is said that Mr. Daniels suggested the amendment. Mr. Daniels' antipathy for men who have made and are making money, has become a disease. He imagines that he sees the people of the State holding mass meetings to condemn railroads, cotton mills, fertilizer, oil and tobacco factories. He and his political friends are being asked if they would drive the American Tobacco Company or any other corporation out of the State. One of his followers was asked the other day what he would do with the American Tobacco Company and the Carolina-Virginia Chemical Company, and he answered, "Why, damn them, I would drive them out of North Carolina."

"What, and hurt towns like Winston, Durham and Greenville?" "Yes." "Would you cripple North Carolina cities and towns and build up Virginia?" "No." "Well, that is what you propose to do if you are to pass laws prohibiting these concerns from doing business in North Carolina, you would injure towns to considerable extent, but the greatest damage would be to the community, where their plants are now located."

A SINISTER INFLUENCE.

The people of North Carolina want to see laws that will regulate and control trusts and corporations, but there is no desire in the mind of any good citizen to drive them out of the State. All of this hue and cry had its beginning here in Raleigh. The fair-minded citizens of North Carolina are not calling for or expecting such radical legislation. They desire their Representatives to pass laws that will be just. If the trusts are to be dealt with no one is to be singled out and discriminated against. Mr. Daniels is charged with fomenting the bitter feeling that is so rampant in certain legislators. There will be a day of reckoning in North Carolina. Mr. Daniels and his cohorts are having a baleful and sinister influence on the people of the State. They are trying to stir up strife and array the conservative class as did the Populist of old. As a result of all this agitation which means bread and meat to Mr. Daniels, it begins to look as if the Legislature would adjourn without having accomplished much good. There are a number of our conservative fellows here who have been poisoned by the capitol atmosphere, who are afraid to vote their convictions.

A WOULD-BE BOSS.

I have written at length about Mr. Daniels for the reason that his name is heard more often in connection with this Legislature than that of any other person in North Carolina. He writes editorials condemning men for not doing what he terms is the duty of a legislator. He spends much of his time in the halls and lobbies of the House and the Senate, making personal appeals to the Representatives. He is busy day and night, trying to force certain legislation. The Democrats of North Carolina are entitled to the foregoing observations and facts. Mr. Daniels is one of the most ambitious men of the State, and he is beginning to ask themselves if they want to continue to follow him blindly, and each recurring two years endanger the business interests from one end of North Carolina to the other. He is a State character, although he cannot carry his own township in Raleigh when it comes to a fight between himself and other Democrats. He is the would-be boss of the General Assembly.

MECKLENBURG MEN ALL RIGHT.

The people of Mecklenburg should be proud to know that all of their Representatives, Messrs H. N. Pharr and W. R. Odell, in the Senate, and Messrs W. C. Dowd, W. A. Grier and E. R. Preston, in the House, are counted among the able and conservative members of the Legislature. Mr. Dowd has won the applause of many here by his active, bold and manly stand taken on different questions brought before the House. Mr. Grier is a quiet man who thinks and becomes convinced that he is right and then votes his sentiments. He is liked by those who know him. Mr. Preston, although a young man, has taken a good stand. Mr. Pharr ranks with any man in the Senate. Mecklenburg is well represented. Mr. W. R. Odell, of Cabarrus, is a business man of ability and character. He is taking an active part in the work of the Senate.

Much Used Wedding Present.

It is not generally believed that the radical members of the House are malicious, but that they have been misled. They imagine that they have had a call from the people, but when they return home they will find that the call came from certain quarters in Raleigh. No one doubts that there is demand for some sort of laws regulating railroads, trusts and corporations, but no demand to legislate them out of business or out of the State.

RESPIRE SAVES SHELTON.

Was Preparing For March to the Gallows When Sheriff Received Message From the Governor. Special to the Observer. Spartanburg, S. C., March 1.—John Shelton, convicted of the murder of his father-in-law, who was to have been hanged here to-day, but who escaped the gallows by an eyelash reprieve being granted until the April term of Supreme Court, was not in a happy frame of mind when he awoke. He was told that this was his last day on earth and to prepare to meet death. He replied he thought he was converted, but had changed his mind as it was impossible to forgive the man to take his life. If he went to heaven all would be well for the executioner, but if he went to hell, he would return and make the executioner's life miserable.

March Asthma.

Conquered to Stay Cured—No Hay Fever This Summer. New York, March 1.—Previous experiments have proven conclusively that asthma can be cured permanently and hay fever prevented if a course of Toxoid treatment is taken during the months of March and April. During these spring months the entire system is more susceptible to treatment than any other season of the year. Toxoid is the new discovery which gives quick relief and is pleasant to take. The "Toxoid Laboratory," 1389 Broadway, New York City, has generously offered to send a free sample of Toxoid by mail to any sufferer who will send name and address.

Amusements

"If I Were King"—Mastino and Knight, To-day, Matinee and Monday Night, March 4th. "Everybody Works But Father"—Monday Night, March 4th. "Maude Fealy"—Saturday, Matinee and Night, March 9th. There will be a popular price matinee at the Academy to-day to the performance of "If I Were King" company. The prices will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. No seats will be reserved. No play of recent years has brought about the remarkable results achieved by Howard Webster's comedy, "Everybody Works But Father," that comes to the Academy on next Monday. This comedy, in so far as its conspicuous services to the public is concerned, has been placed in the same class with "The Social Whirl" and other similar attractions. Everything is on a high plane of excellence and costliness. A car-load of beautiful scenery is carried and a large corps of carpenters, electricians, machinists and property men are necessary to make it. The cast is the same as ever and includes Harrison Greene, Katherine Roberts, Bert O'Rourke and Gaylord Hurlock. A large and efficient chorus of pretty and dainty girls is now on sale.

MAUDE FEALY.

Society circles in the city are much interested in the forthcoming appearance of Maude Fealy, America's youngest dramatic star and former leading woman for the late Sir Henry Irving, who is to be seen at the Academy, next Saturday, in "The Illusion of Beatrice." In this superb play, which gives Maude Fealy every opportunity for the display of her sweet girlish personality, the dramatist has evolved a story of reasonable heart interest. In dealing with the trouble it will cause in her life, she is a princess of the royal blood. The good-natured people who have imputed this idea in the child's brain, little know the trouble it will cause her in after-life. The cleverly constructed plot of "The Illusion of Beatrice," commences at the point when the heroine returns from school to her home in the city and is adopted by her father. In this play, Maude Fealy has won the greatest success of her career, even greater than the success she achieved while with Sir Henry Irving.

GYMNASIUM CONTEST.

Only Three Men Succeeded in Winning the N. C.'s—Coach Simmons Making Good With the Baseball Team. Special to the Observer. Chapel Hill, March 1.—Twelve members of the University of North Carolina gymnasium team, which has been in training since November 1st, entered a contest for gymnasium N. C.'s yesterday. The test was very rigorous and only three men succeeded in doing all of the trials prescribed by Dr. R. B. Lawson, the gymnasium instructor. These were Messrs. Johnson, C. D. Wardlaw and S. G. Noble. A. M. College and the University.

Banquet of High Point Manufacturers' Club a Great Success.

High Point, March 1.—The third annual banquet of the Manufacturers' Club last night at the Elwood Hotel was a decided success in every particular. The banquet took place among a bower of flowers and surrounded by a large number of prominent men of the State and members of the Manufacturers' Club. There were covers laid for 130 guests. Brockman's Orchestra, of Greensboro, furnished the music for the occasion. The reception committee consisting of the board of directors and a staff of twelve in number, met the guests at the head of the stairs leading into the parlors and gave them the old time Southern welcome.

CROSSES OF HONOR.

The Custodian and the President General of United Daughters of the Confederacy Sent Instructions as to the Method of Securing Them. By request the Observer publishes the following: Mrs. William H. Overman calls attention of all the Chapters of the North Carolina Division to the following rules, to requests of the Custodian of Crosses that they be given to the veterans on the 10th of May. The orders must be sent to the Custodian during the month of April, beginning 1st day—her books close 26th of April. All these papers must be sent to the State recorder, who signs and then forwards to the Custodian General at Savannah. Let us have a faithful and successful pull for these crosses for the veterans.

HASTY EN ROUTE TO PRISON.

George Hasty, Who Slew Two Men Guiltily With Theatrical Troupe at Gaffney, S. C. In December of 1905, Passed Through Charlotte to Penitentiary to Serve Life Sentence—Cheerful and in Fine Spirit. The Charlotte city look-up rarely confines within its barred precincts a man who looks less the law-breaker than does George Hasty, the convicted murderer and the admitted slayer of two men. Hasty arrived in the city yesterday afternoon from Gaffney on route to Columbia, S. C. where he enters upon a life sentence in the penitentiary. Officer Irby accompanied him. The sensational occurrence which caused the life tragedy of Hasty and of the two men whom he slew is more or less familiar history to all newspaper readers in this section. It was in December of 1905 that the "Nothing But Money" Theatrical Company stopped at Gaffney, where Hasty and two brothers were running a hotel. The company spent the night at the Hasty establishment. A young lady member of the troupe charged Hasty with improper conduct and this brought trouble with two male members of the company, Bennett and Davison, both of whom Hasty shot and killed. He claimed that the show men doubled on him and he shot in self-defense. He was tried, convicted of murder in the second degree and sentenced to life imprisonment in the penitentiary. The trial, which took place in February of 1906, was a noted one and was a fierce fight between able counsel. An appeal to the Supreme Court was taken, but that tribunal affirmed the action of the lower court. It was only last month that the last hope of escape in that direction was cut off. During all this time, a year and two and a half months, Hasty has been a prisoner in Gaffney jail. "I had forgotten how to walk when I was taken out to-day," said the prisoner. "The unaccustomed glare of the sun, too, was blinding. "Have you found prison life thus far worse or better than you expected it would be?" asked the newspaper man with whom he was conversing. "Lord!" smiled the prisoner. "I had no idea what it would be like. Have you ever been in jail?" "I never have," the Observer man was forced to admit. "Well," said you don't know anything about it then. I had loafed about in jails just as you are doing lots of times and thought I knew, but I didn't. I believe if I had to stay in jail where I couldn't work or take any exercise for 12 months longer, it would kill me. I am sure that you would not be so cheerful. The same unconcerned cheerfulness which marked his demeanor throughout the interview. Hasty stated that he had been in South Carolina for about five years. He is by birth and rearing a North Carolinian. His father still lives at the old home at Hartsboro. "The people about Gaffney are all against me," the prisoner admitted. "They seemed to think I just shot the men because I had a pistol and wanted to be shooting at something. I'm sorry for the poor fellows that got killed, but I couldn't help it. They were nearly dressed in a suit up again. I would do all I could to avert trouble, but I would do just as I did before."

George Hasty has what is commonly termed and what would be universally admitted to be a "good face." He is young, only 23, handsome, and is a neat dresser in a suit and a derby and a checkered vest. He is strongly and sturdily built. It is needless to say that he expects a pardon sooner or later. Were it not for this hope, the light of his eyes, where glows the love of life and the flush upon his cheeks, which not at all the confinement and the trying ordeal of the past 14 months have been able quite to remove, would be impossible. The sentence to a life time of drudgery and confinement is a thing incomprehensible, unrealizable and impossible to one in whose veins yet throbs the blood of youth.

Death of Mrs. Mary A. Irvine.

Mrs. Mary A. Irvine died yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. C. Orr, at No. 311 Mint street. The funeral will take place from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services being in charge of Rev. William Duncan, pastor of the First Associate Reformed Presbyterian Church. The interment will be at Elmwood. The pall bearers will be: Messrs. W. B. Kidd, C. C. Bates, Z. T. Smith, J. B. McLaughlin, S. H. Youngblood and J. A. Russell. Mrs. Irvine was the mother of officer W. W. Irvine, of the city police force.

Mortuary Report For February.

The mortuary report for Elmwood Cemetery for the month of February is as follows: Total number of deaths 22; male adults, 5; female adults, 7; children, 10; blood poison, 1; meningitis, 2; Bright's disease, 1; congestion of lungs, 1; hemorrhage, 1; heart failure, 2; tuberculosis, 1; puerperal eclampsia.

FRIGHTFULLY BURNED.

Chas. W. Moore, a machinist, of Ford City, Pa., had his hand frightfully burned in an electrical furnace. He applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve with the usual result: "A quick and perfect cure." Greatest healer on earth for Burns, Wounds, Sores, Scalds and Piles. 25c. at all druggists.

Hanged For Murder of Daughter.

Marlette, Ga., March 1.—John Bullard, convicted of the murder of his 11-year-old daughter, Ruby, at their home near Powder Springs last September, was hanged here to-day. Dy- ing from consumption, it has been a question for the past week whether disease or the hangman's noose would claim him. He was supported on the trap and with his last breath declared that the death of his daughter was the result of an accident.

CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH REMEDY.

A FAVORITE. "We prefer Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to any other for our children," says Mr. L. J. Woodbury, of Twining, Mich. "It has also done the work for us in hard colds and croup, and we take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by R. H. Jordan & Co.

ans or the 10th of May, by all the U. D. C. of North Carolina. MRS. WILLIAM H. OVERMAN.

Do not send postage stamps or checks in payment for crosses of honor. The custodian has no time to seek purchasers for the former in order to have the latter cashed, exchange has to be paid, causing a discrepancy in cash account; send all money by postoffice or express order, made payable to Mrs. H. Raines.

Be sure you sign the data sheet and write plainly on the back whom you wish the crosses sent to, giving name, city address, and State. See that the printed order states how many crosses are wanted, and that the money order agrees with the amount on order.

Pin official order and money order to data sheet, this insures prompt attention. If you will follow these suggestions it will save both yourself and the Custodian much time and labor.

Write to every chapter in your division six weeks before each date for presentation and tell them the date at which orders must be with you in order that you may see that they are correct and get them to the Custodian three weeks before the date for presentation as the rules require. If we will all make an extra effort this year I am sure we can get things running so smoothly that we will soon forget that there ever was such a thing as trouble about the crosses. Let us all make "a long pull and a strong pull together" and see how nicely everything will be arranged. But remember this: The Custodian can give satisfaction without the united effort of us all.

LIZZIE GEORGE HENDERSON, President General U. D. C.

Rev. Dr. J. R. Howerton Hurt. Rev. Dr. J. R. Howerton had the misfortune yesterday morning to tumble through a trap door in the rear of Palmetto's jewelry store on North Tryon street, falling six or seven feet. He struck an elbow of pipe and severely wrenched his back. While sustaining painful bruises he was able to walk to the residence of Mrs. H. H. Orr, where he is visiting for a few days. Dr. Howerton hopes to be out in a day or two, his injuries not being serious.
