Three Good Pictures Go on at the Odeon Gallery.

The Odeon's pictures which went on yesterday are hard to beat. The first gives the experience of a masher who tendered his flowers to the wrong person. Its title is "The Disillusionment of Louie." The second, "In the Land of Toys," shows inanimate playthings animated and engaging in a life of their own. One of the best shown recently is "The Dream of a Rabbit Fiend." All sorts of things that happen to folks in the dim land of dreams happen to him. His bed on which he courts slumber tears its way upward through the ceiling and takes him on an aerial flight across the city, whose steeples and buildings are seen far below. He crashes through the roof a second time to awake unharmed and thankful on the floor.

A $150 COTTON FIRE.
 Blaze on Transfer Platform at Seaboard Freight Depot Causes Loss of About $150—Many Bales Scorched.

A blaze which was discovered on the platform adjoining the freight depot of the Seaboard Air Line Railway yesterday about noon scorched 40 or 50 bales of cotton and entailed a loss of about $150. The firemen were called out and were in the nick of time, for a stiff breeze was blowing and delay would have been disastrous.

The platform had on it at the time about 20 bales of cotton and entailed this number was ablaze. The entire lot was thoroughly soaked with water and the fire extinguished without great trouble. The cotton which burned was the property of the cotton agency of George McPadden & Brother, and of O. P. Heath & Company. The stock of water kept on hand by the railroad people for just such emergencies played a valuable part in preventing the spreading of the fire to other parts of adjoining buildings.
