Mrs. Elizabeth MacRae, of Wilmington Special to The Observer.

Wilmington, April 18.—After a long and painful illness, Mrs. Elizabeth MacRae, died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emily Payne, on South Fourth street. North Carolina has produced no more useful woman. She was given a brilliant mind, a winning personality and an attractive presence. Her influence on educational work in the mountains of North Carolina has been commemorated in the name of the excellent boarding school for girls at Banner Elk-the Lees-Mac Rae Institute, of which Rev. Edgar Tufts is principal. The remarkable awakening of the Presbyterian women in the central part of the State in the study of and contributions to home and foreign missions, is largely due to the personal work of Mrs. MacRae as founder and president of the missionary union of Fayetteville Presbytery.
