

The result of the game on the diamond has been a record for the most supporters of Carolina's team. The college is as keen as a hawk for a game and a meeting here. The varsity lost the Northern schedule with the scores being: Virginia 5, Carolina 3; Washington 7, Carolina 6. Games were exhibitions of skill and respect credit on the side was the first inning Saturday the pitcher played big for the squad, for in successive hits by James, Thompson and Rogers, three earned runs. The game until the ninth, allowed the leaguers to add as they scored in the second game. That the record is proved by the following: The pitcher played big from the beginning of the game, and the fastest aggregate has been seen here for some time. The men were alert, at the stick they were all. The Chapel Hill lads played gentlemanly ball, and with their manliness and skill won the game.

W. C. Merritt, of Tacoma, of the International Sunday Association, delivered a sermon at the Presbyterian church of the village Sunday morning. He is on his way to Rome, to attend the convention of the International Association. He comes to Hill at the invitation of Wheeler, and will be here Monday.

Meeting of the North Carolina Society Monday night. A valuable paper on the history of the judiciary of Carolina from the revolution to the civil war. Dr. J. W. Hamilton finished his sketch of William R. Davie, begun at meeting, and Dr. Battle read extracts from the life of Anderson, of Edgemont. Dr. Shaw, dean of the engineering school of the University of Minnesota, graduated at the University of Minnesota. He is now at Harvard as an electrical engineering. In his department of the University of Minnesota.

Meeting of the Elisha Mitchell Society Tuesday night. Papers were read, as follows: "Evolution of Geometry," by Harold Henderson, and "The Evolution of Turpentine," by H. H. Cameron, chemist for the U. S. Geol. Survey, Washington, D. C. Dr. Battle read three lectures in the department of chemistry of the University of Minnesota. Dr. Cameron, of Hillsboro, while he will be the guest of Dr. Hamilton, who has been in the first base all year, really an injury to his hand that will keep him out of the rest of the season. The Washington game the boy after the further difficulty of waiting for an hour until while the Hatchettes took care about appearing on the Virginia-Carolina debate—the debate to be held between these two will be held in Gerrard Hall night. Judge J. C. McClellan of the law department of the University is expected to preside. The University Orchestra, Carleton, on this occasion are to have already won a reputation for themselves in the college. W. Dameron, of the Philanthropic Society, has done much work in the debate and was the winner of the Willie P. Mangum oratorical at commencement, 1904. Dr. J. J. Parker, of the senior class, was the member of the team that defeated the team of the other spring. The question for the debate is: "Resolved, That the railroads of the United States should be owned and operated by the State." Carolina having the affirmative.

Thomas Hume lectured before the Hume Society of Burlington on the subject, "Mrs. W. Woman, Poet, Prophet." The Hume Society has scheduled a game with the University of Virginia to be played in the Hume Club held its regular meeting for April in Dr. Hume's study night. Professor H. H. Hume was the guest of the occasion and addressed the club on "The Basis of the Drama." It is a most interesting discussion of the essential differences in the drama of the ancient and modern drama, calling forth much of the program was completed by a paper on "Falsity as a Basis of a Drama," by Mr. O. V. Hicks, treated further by Dr. Hume.

TRINITY.

Correspondence of the Observer.

College, April 20.—For the second time representatives of the Southern Hesperian Literary Society met in debate to-night in the Memorial Hall. The weather was unusually fine and a fair-sized crowd of students and townspeople listened with unabated interest to the question which has been the subject of so many discussions in Congress—ship subsidies. The speakers have ransacked many books for their wealth of material, and they prepared, one by one, a junior and each one himself good timber for inter-collegiate debate. The speakers were: Dr. J. J. Parker, of the senior class, who defeated the team of the other spring. The question for the debate is: "Resolved, That the railroads of the United States should be owned and operated by the State." Carolina having the affirmative.

A. & M. COLLEGE.

Correspondence of the Observer.

West Raleigh, April 20.—During the week A. & M. has added two more victories to her baseball record, having given Davidson her second defeat of the year by a score of 6 to 2 and doing Guilford's strong team as bad by a score of 5 to 2. In the Guilford game, Sexton's pitching for A. & M. was the feature of the game. He is our second best pitcher and promises to be an excellent one if he continues to improve. He is a member of the freshman class, and it is hoped that he will continue his course here until graduation.

Besides the individual playing our team work is getting to be very efficient. Our base and field work especially is nearly all that could be desired, although there are errors at times. The catchers, Staples and Shortton, Fox on first base, Farmer on third and Harris and Shuford in the field has been of a high order. Thompson, our catcher, is very efficient. Your correspondent does not recall a costly error he has made the whole year.

In battling the team is doing better work than it has for years. Shuford, our best batter, hasn't struck out this year. Drake and Thompson both have a good batting record and Temple awakens interest when he goes to the bat, because the boys are looking for a home run or a two or three-bagger at least. The pitcher, Drake, is doing good this year. At times he hasn't the best of control, but with his speed and upward and drop curves he is usually hard to hit.

A. & M. plays Wake Forest Monday. The collegiate championship of the State seems to lie between Wake Forest, Trinity and A. & M. The latter has been defeated once and has won once each from the other two; hence the game Monday with Wake Forest and with Trinity next Saturday is looked forward to with great interest.

The game next Saturday with Trinity at Durham is the first game on an extended tour which the team is to take through North Carolina, Virginia and Maryland. Washington, the last game on the trip, will be played with Richmond College, at or before May 4th.

The Athletic Association would like to arrange for a game with the University of North Carolina, but they seem to nourish their cautious antagonism to A. & M. and her athletics.

There was an interesting public debate last night by the Rural Science Club.

WAKE FOREST.

Correspondence of the Observer.

Wake Forest, April 20.—Dr. Benjamin F. Sledge, professor of English language and literature, lectured in Oxford last night on "Shakespeare."

President W. L. Poteat was at Unionville yesterday, where he delivered an address at the closing exercises of the Union Institute.

Mr. T. E. Holding, who has been unwell for the past week, is improved and able to be up again.

An established custom here is that the commencement exercises from the two literary societies given in the spring by the student body sometime in the spring between their elections and commencement. Accordingly, Tuesday evening the annual "set-up" will be given in the well-chapel to the entire student body. This is one of the most enjoyable gatherings of the whole year. There will be a variety of addresses by members of the faculty, students and athletes, the Hill on various subjects embracing athletics, the glee club, victories and losses of the ball team, and so on. At the close of the exercises, which usually contain considerable humor, a banquet will be given.

HERTFORD NEWS ITEMS.

Aftermath of the District Conference—Personal Mention.

Special to The Observer.

Hertford, April 21.—Miss Geneva Cannon, the lovely daughter of our worthy citizen, Mr. Wm. Cannon, was united in marriage last Sunday to Mr. Edward Everett, Jr., by Rev. Mr. Knutson. The young couple have settled in their new home, about a mile from this place.

The delegates and ministers of this section are back from the session of the Elizabeth City District Conference, which was held at Columbia. They report a most delightful session. Despite hindrances, the attendance was fair. The presiding elder, Rev. J. H. Hall, had things well in hand. The reports of the work throughout the district indicated loyal activity and promise of large success. Two applicants, Lewis D. Hayman, of Roanoke Island, and Henry G. Smith, of Kitty Hawk, were licensed to preach. Rev. E. W. Reed was recommended for admission into the traveling ministry. Rev. L. P. Howard was recommended for local elders orders. Rev. H. M. North, headmaster of Trinity Park School, and Rev. W. M. Curtis, of Greensboro Female College, and Rev. W. P. Constable, of Goldsboro, were visitors. The preeminent mark of the conference was spirituality. Talks, prayers, sermons and songs centered there. The sermons and addresses were of an exceptional order of high intellectuality, but this but contributed to their spirituality. From the opening hour until the conference adjourned upon its knees. It was a season of refreshing from on high. Messrs. H. W. McClees, P. S. Shipp, Z. W. Evans and J. M. Cross were elected delegates to the Annual Conference, and City Road church, Elizabeth City, was chosen for the seat of the next session of the district conference.

The return of their pastor from the district conference was made the occasion by the congregation of the Methodist church here for an old-fashioned pounding. Baskets and barrels and boxes and bags testified to the love of the people for their preacher.

Miss Lula Major has returned from her visit to Winston-Salem.

ASHEBORO IS BOOMING.

Considerable Building Going On—Knitting Mill and Barrel Factory Among Industries—Big Business in Creameries—Handsome School Building Nearly Completed—Other Readable News Notes.

Special to The Observer.

Asheboro, April 21.—The Lewis and Winston Hardware Co., on West Depot street will build of brick a large store for their own use, while the McCrary-Redding Hardware Company will enlarge their warehouse on Church street. These improvements are now under contract and will be pushed to completion.

A knitting mill plant and barrel factory will be added to the industries during the summer.

Tons of thousands of cross ties are being marketed here each week for the Southern Railway and Pennsylvania Central.

Our graded school building is approaching completion. It is modern throughout. The walls are of pressed brick and covered in slate. It will cost $20,000, and the people of the county as well as of the town are proud of it.

Our principal streets are being paved with pressed stone and the town is constantly growing.

W. W. Steadman will build a double-story brick store near the depot.

The Asheboro Copper Mining Company will install a large reduction plant during the summer. The outlook for this company is very flattering. The vein is apparently inexhaustible and rich in mineral deposits.

A Pennsylvania company is developing a gold mine in the suburbs of the city, but your correspondent is not advised as to what measure of success is being met.

Rev. Dr. Miller, a learned Bible scholar, is conducting a series of meetings at the Presbyterian church. The services are well attended and our people are pleased with him.

MRS. FOSTER VISITS SPRAY.

Surprised at the Development of the Community—Talks to Seminary Girls—To Visit Greensboro Schools.

Special to The Observer.

Spray, April 21.—Mrs. J. Ellen Foster, a special agent of one of the departments at Washington by direction of the President, to study conditions surrounding the labor of women and children in the United States, spent today in Spray. She was astonished at the extent of the development here and was especially surprised at the short time in which it had been accomplished. Mrs. Foster visited several of the mills and the Leaksville-Spray Institute. Mr. J. A. Beam, principal, invited Mrs. Foster to make an address to the young ladies of the girls' department. This she did to the great satisfaction of her audience.

Mrs. Foster went from here to Greensboro, where by invitation, she will address the students of the Methodist Female College there on Monday.

A cold at this time if neglected is liable to cause pneumonia which is so often fatal. The lungs are weakened, making them peculiarly susceptible to the disease. The best remedy is Foley's Kidney and Bladder Pills.

KAISER A GREAT MAN.

Ambassador Tower Discusses Some of His Many Remarkable Qualities.

Washington Post.

"The Kaiser is one of the greatest men of our time," said Charlesmagne Tower, Ambassador from the United States to Germany, at the Shoreham last night. Mr. Tower, who is thoroughly democratic in his manner and genial in his personality, is here to consult Secretary Root and the President, with whom he will lunch to-day. Mrs. Tower has entirely recovered from her recent indisposition and the Ambassador will return to Berlin early in May.

"The head of the German nation is thoroughly informed about everything that is going on not only in Germany, but throughout the world," continued Mr. Tower. "Capt. Potts, the naval attaché at our legation, found that the Kaiser knew as much about a ship as he did. He knows nearly every officer in the army by name, and is the idol of his men, because he is so often with them and takes such a deep interest in their training and work. With the intricate problems of science, education and sociology, he is as familiar as with those of statecraft."

"The Kaiser has a wonderful constitution. He takes a great deal of exercise and is a constant worker. Up before 6 o'clock every morning, he has a cup of coffee and is off at that hour for a long walk or ride on one of his favorite steeds. Accompanied only by an officer or two, he rides or strolls through the parks of Berlin, among his people, who cheer him or doff their hats. By 1 o'clock he is prepared to keep several secretaries busy or to visit some public function. At 11 or 12 o'clock he has breakfast. If several guests have been formally invited, the hour is at 1 o'clock. After working all afternoon or reviewing his troops, he has dinner at 8 o'clock. Everybody is kept busy. He usually sees the chancellor before 7 o'clock in the morning and talks over the business of the State so far as it affects foreign relations. The Kaiser, who is just the age of President Roosevelt, has a most pleasant personality. Though serious, he is fond of fun. And in his family he is a model husband and father, setting an example to the entire German nation. Working always for the interests of the people, they admire and have a genuine love for him."

"He is typically German, for the primary trait of the German character is thoroughness. From youth each German is taught to do a task thoroughly and continue at it until it is finished. Their training in the army makes them alert, punctual, and thorough, and they carry these traits into all phases of life. And they know how to enjoy life, sharing their pleasures with their families."

NEW SCHOOL FOR YOUNG MEN IN SWAIN COUNTY.

Special to The Observer.

Asheville, April 21.—A. S. Patterson, a recent arrival from Swain county, says that while discussing the industrial development of western North Carolina the people should not lose sight of the wave of prosperity which is at present sweeping over Governor's Island, which is chiefly known to fame as the home of the Hon. Kope Elias. There is being established at Governor's Island, Camp Tuckaseegee, a school for young men designed to prepare them for college life and which will make a feature of the physical development of the young man. Ten teachers will be employed and the school will open in June. This is a well established school, which is being brought from Virginia to Swain county. Boat racing, fishing and mountain climbing is going to be a feature of life at Camp Tuckaseegee, and the school will open with more than 100 students.
