South must soon develop and that the market will then decline. In my opinion, the damage to the crop is irremediable, and the South knows it. There is practically no cotton for sale and the extent of the damage does not as yet commence to be ap-preciated. The probability of even a moderate crop next year is a remote It will require a few days of one. real facts for the situation to be appreclated, and we shall then see JAMES E.
