YALE JUNIORS THE WINNERS.

Take Race for Second Eight-Oared Shells and Then Defeat the Fresh Cornell Juniors-New York Clubs Carry Off Greater Number of First

Philadelphia, Pa., May 35.-The Yale University junior eight-oared crew furnished the sensation of the fifth annual regatta of the American Rowing Association her to-day by first winning the race for second eight-oared shells and then defeating the fresh and supposedly strong Cornell juniors. This was one of the closest races of the day, the / Ithacans losing by only half a length. Yale's time for the course of one mile and 550 yards was 6 minutes 36 seconds. Yale had earlier in the day beaten the Harvard and rinis State League.

Pennsylvania freshmen by four lengths. The big crowd was all expectancy for the junior collegiate race. The Cornell crow caught the water first and the rowing a 33 stroke led the other college eights over the first third of the course. Then Yale began to crawl up and at half the distance was half a length ahead of Cornell with Pennsylvania two lengths further back and Georgetown hopelessly beaten. The Cornell men made a gallant effort to overtake Yale during the last quarter mile, but the wearers of the blue, were the better on the spurt and although the two shells overlapped each other at Pennsylvania freshmen by four lengths. k: Newark 5; Buffalo 4.
