

CORN-CRACKER'S COMMENT

I have been following with interest the controversy as to whether or not Andrew Jackson, also of other celebrities who have won fame and fortune elsewhere.

The Observer has made out a case for Jackson as a native of this State. But in the case of Jackson, "Uncle Joe" Cannon, etc., a peculiar trait of Tar Heels is made manifest.

Had Andrew Jackson remained he would not have been recognized as his true worth, and Joe Cannon would not have been regarded as a suitable man for justice of the peace.

Three years ago about the same gang were "agin" The Observer. What I didn't agree with its policy, I could afford to concede to others the right of opinion that I claimed.

As to our celebrities, I last winter had a hard time to hold the lamented Col. Amos Owens, of Cherry mountain, as a product of North Carolina.

Upstarts from South Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee and Pennsylvania have tried to claim Hickory Jackson, James K. Polk and Daniel Boone, and now they stretch forth their impious hands and want to take Amos Owens.

But if some interloper comes here from somewhere else, and gets huffy, why they want to dump him on North Carolina. About 25 years ago one Daniel Keith, was justly hung in Rutherford county, of this State.

He hailed from Tennessee, and had made some reputation as a Kentucky horse-thief. It is better to kill five men in Kentucky than to steal one horse, and hence he was not regarded with special favor.

MARRIAGES.

Taylor-Keels, at ayeteville. Correspondence of The Observer. Fayetteville, July 12.—Mr. Paul Taylor and Miss Kate Keels were married Wednesday evening at the residence of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Keels, Rev. W. M. Fairley, pastor of the Presbyterian church performing the ceremony, immediately after which they left for Wrightsville Beach. The marriage was a surprise to their friends.

Marsh-Adams, at Washington, N. C. Correspondence of The Observer. Washington, N. C., July 14.—Mr. E. C. Marsh, of South Creek, and Miss Christine Adams, of this city, were happily married July 10th, by Rev. A. B. Cunningham, pastor of the Christian church. The marriage was quite a surprise to their many friends in the city.

PANIC AT CHURCH.

Lightning Strikes in a Church Grove, Killing a Dozen Animals, and the Negroes Inside Go Wild—Circuit Court Judge Sends out Messengers to Bring the Lawyers Into His Presence.

Observer Bureau, 1209 Main Street, Columbia, S. C., July 15. While the Rev. Adams was preaching fervidly to a colored congregation at Benevolent church in the lower portion of the county yesterday, a panic seized the congregation by reason of bolts of lightning striking some fifty trees near the church, killing twelve horses and mules.

When Judge Dantzer opened circuit court to-day he found a heavy docket, including forty damage suits against the Southern. He sent out runners after all the members of the bar to be reached and told the assembled bar that it must provide cases to try or he would adjourn the court. It was discovered that the lawyers had agreed to enter into no jury cases after Wednesday.

STEMMER COMPANY ORGANIZED

ME. M. D. Bailey, Jr., of Winston-Salem, Vice President of the Big Corporation—Manufacture of the Great Labor-Saving Machine to Begin at Once.

Special to The Observer. Winston-Salem, July 15.—A special to The Journal tonight from Washington, D. C., says: The Southern Stemming Machine and Manufacturing Company was organized here this afternoon by the election of the following officers: President, J. O. Morris, of Washington, D. C.; vice president, M. D. Bailey, Jr., of Winston-Salem, secretary and treasurer, T. C. Smith, of Alexandria, Va. The following directors were elected: S. R. Smith, T. C. Smith, Alexandria, Va.; J. O. Morris, G. M. Winship, and C. Kroegman, Washington, D. C.; W. A. Blair and M. D. Bailey, Jr., Winston-Salem.

The company has for its object the manufacture and sale of tobacco-stemming machines. It has a capital stock of $300,000, all but $120,000 of which has been paid in. The balance of the stock will be offered at $150 a share. The shops and principal offices of the concern will be in Washington, D. C. It is the purpose of the company to begin at once the manufacture of the stemmer. The machine which promises to revolutionize the tobacco manufacturing business was invented by Mr. J. O. Morris, of Washington.

INSIST!!!

When you step up to a fountain or into a place where bottled drinks are sold tell the man you want Coca-Cola. Close your ears to the "just as good" argument because there is nothing just as good as Coca-Cola. INSIST You have asked for Coca-Cola because you are convinced that is what you want—don't let a smooth-tongued salesman rule your judgement. If the man insists go to a place where they give their customers what they ask for. Imitations are made to deceive you, not to please you.

THE REASON—Coca-Cola not only quenches thirst and pleases the palate but it relieves fatigue, and is the only beverage that has vim and go to it.
